On the opening day of the 1969 Conference session (Aug. 11) President Leland Bond in his address showed how, with Purpose, Program, Procedure, Priority, and Enthusiasm, the S.D.B. rocket can ignite and climb as this picture shows.
Social Action

We hear a great cry for the church to get into social action and to bear the burden of curing the ills of society. There is reason for such a cry because far too often the local church, with its denominational structure, has slid out from under the responsibility of social betterment.

We have seen the state take over practically all welfare programs that the church in earlier days had to take care of. Probably we could not reverse this trend if we would. The present theory of government is that the state should take care of the old, the poor, the ill and the racial minorities who are somewhat disadvantaged.

The Christian churches could not possibly match the money available from a 20% tax on incomes besides all the other taxes. True, not all of tax money goes into good government, education and relief programs; the lion's share goes into military expenditures. Even so, the church can only supplement in small measure from it. This means what the government is doing. After all, the church is supposed to have compassion for souls as well as bodies. It has a spiritual function which is primary, whereas what the government is doing is after the fact. After the church has departed from it as from Israel of old, the poor, the ill and the racial minorities who are somewhat disadvantaged.

The General Conference — 1969

"Our General Conference was not the child of a day or a year, but the product of many years of deepening and extending life" (Arthur E. Main). One hundred and sixty-eight years ago, in Hopkinton, R. I., a brave new venture was unfolding for Seventh Day Baptists. Seven churches agreed to join together into the Seventh Day Baptist General Conference. In the subsequent years following this significant event in our life as a people the General Conference has met adding ever increasingly to the storehouse of our faith and the preservation of our understanding of Christ's will for our lives.

August 25, 1969

Herbert E. Saunders

This year we meet again, this time on the shores of the historic Hudson River, to renew our faith as a people and share our dreams and ambitions. Christ calls us to work together as a branch of His Church to build a better tomorrow through the faith we hold so dear. It is significant that as we meet this year we have entered a new era in mankind's quest for knowledge and purpose. Man has walked on the once unreachable moon and has shared with all the human race the dramatic moment of triumph and purpose. Such a significant event in the history of mankind touches our hearts and makes us aware of the tremendous responsibilities that are ours as Christian men and women.

As we meet this year, let us remind ourselves of the purpose for which we have been brought into existence as witness to the world, although far from what it ought to have been, has been significant and we cannot allow ourselves to be less Christ has called us and made us His unique witness — a witness to the Sabbath — and we must keep that responsibility ever before us.

Let us concern ourselves, then, at this General Conference session with the real needs of mankind and the real purposes of our Father in His world. Let us keep ever before us the marvelous heritage that is ours, but project ourselves as Christians, stewards of the answers to the world's problems, into this "moon age" world. We must not refuse our assignment for God is calling us into ever increasing obedience and love. Let us make General Conference, 1969, a year for deepening and extending our life as a people.

First Impressions of Conference

One can hardly give first impressions of Conference without making reference to what meets the eye as he comes to the beautiful scenic campus of Nyack Missionary College. It has been described somewhat in previous Conference publicity articles. We would like to refer the reader back to the pictures and articles that appeared in the August 4 issue. When the delegates arrived at Nyack, N.Y., on a Sunday afternoon in early August, as most of them did, they would agree that not enough has been said.

The physical setting of the Conference grows on the visitor rather quickly as he acquaints himself with the half-mile-long hillside, forested campus. It is so near to the teeming world and yet so apart. It was bumper-to-bumper, three-lane traffic for several miles approaching the Tappan Zee Bridge across the wide expanse of the Hudson River. Route 9W, which goes north and south along the west bank of the river, is just another artery that streams life between the New York State borders and the teeming world. Route 100 youth had been on campus since Wednesday; the registration was nearly complete before the supper hour; all rooms had been assigned for the housing opened up. The dining room was open as a part of the package deal (which is not usual). When the people gathered together in the evening for the reception of Conference dignitaries and missionary personnel it seemed as if Conference was in full swing. Never before, it seemed, had so many people enjoyed the pre-Conference social fellowship.

Conference, to make the understatement of the year, did not get off to a slow start unless you can think of a rocket launching as slow. The opening Bible study at 8:30 Monday morning in the college auditorium was attended by nearly 300 people, with close to one-third of them being new faces. As number 20, it appeared. These morning Bible studies entitled "Gems from James" led by different ministers each day proved to be rewarding. The first one helped set the tone for the practical and searching emphasis of the Conference program on being the half-millenium Baptist.

First impressions run deeper than the exercising of unused muscles in hill climbing and negotiating flights of steps to get to the dining area and Pardington Hall, or almost any other place. Delegates may have breathed hard, but they quickly were encouraged to breathe deeply and to feel deeply the challenge of being committed Christians and working Seventh Day Baptist witnesses. After the customary well-spoken words of welcome and responses, the president, Leland Bond, gave a challenging opening message that made the delegates feel a great responsibility individually and collectively. Conference gets off to a good start, ready to transact business, perhaps more expectantly than ever before as far as reports were concerned and ready to enter into the inspirational parts of the program with good preparation of heart and mind.

Letters to the Editor

"Speaking from Strength"

With some amount of sorrow, I find it necessary to disagree with the editorial in the June 23, 1969 issue of the Recorder, entitled "Speaking from Strength." Some other Bible passages that might have been used at the end are, "Overcome evil with good," and Gal. 6:1, "Brethren, if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye that are spiritual restore such one in the spirit of meekness, considering thyself lest thou also be tempted."

Moreover, the tone of the editorial seems to assume that we are always in the right, and that those on the other side are in the wrong.

Printed by M. Shoup and the Lawyers' Committee on American Policy Towards Vietnam should give us serious thoughts as to the legality of our involvement in that country. Remember that before any claim could be made of large aggression from North Vietnam into the South, we already had between 16,000 and 25,000 military advisors demanding Diem in his refusal to allow the elections to be held. "I brought the one convicted against him is of the same conviction still," and that goes for both of us, and still it behooves us all to give careful consideration to both sides of the issue.

Did You Miss an Issue?

When the August 4 Anniversary Commemorative Issue (gold cover) was mailed, the addressing machine was printing fast copies. It is possible that a few went astray. If yours did not come let us know and we will send another.

Please do not ask for the August 11 and 18 issues. These were the two omitted this year. We print fifty issues rather than fifty-two in order to give our workers vacation.

Conference News Flash

The OWM offering on Sabbath morning at General Conference, Nyack, N.Y., was $3,377. This is more than usual and did not include any really large gifts. The figures sent in by the churches to be counted as Conference offering brought the total to $6,686 as of the close of the meetings at Nyack. Given as the response was, we are still quite little short of our OWM Budget Goal and continued generous giving is needed during this last month (September).

Tape Recorded Highlights

Conference tapes (at 3-3/4" per sec.) of the highlights of the day were made by three volunteers after the evening meeting each night (15 minutes of conventional reporting). These tapes were duplicated by Calvin Babcock, Rt. 6, Box 173A, North Little Rock, Ark. 72118, and are available immediately on a first-come, first-served basis from him or from this office.

Wanted, a Secretary

Do you know anyone who would be interested in half-time secretarial work in the office of the editor at Plainfield? The work is largely for the Sabbath Recorder and stenographic work for the editor and secretary of the Tract Society. It also includes caring for the filmstrip and tape recording requests. It is a responsible, challenging position for a Seventh Day Baptist interested in our national and worldwide work. Please reply at once if interested.

Pictures and Stories Coming

Since it was necessary to put this issue together on Monday, August 18, the first working day after the close of Conference, there was not time enough to process pictures or set much type of Conference news for more next week and in the weeks to come.

THE SABBATH RECORDER

AUGUST 25, 1969
1969 British Conference Held

The following material is drawn from a report sent in by the Rev. James McGeechay. He retired as pastor of the Mill Yard Chapel in London this year and moved to the village of Hessle in Yorkshire. His guiding hand is still needed. He served over the British Conference at its July 1969 meeting and was elected for another year.

The Fourth Annual Conference of the British Seventh Day Baptists was held in the Methodist Church at Colliers Wood in Southwest London on Sabbath and Sunday, July 26, 27.

The majority of members in the three church groups being originally from Jamaica it is natural that program reflects somewhat the manner of conducting such meetings in Jamaica. There was a strong Biblical emphasis in the messages and a "concert" on the evening after the Sabbath.

The program began with Sabbath School at 11 a.m. with Bro. W. A. Dewar as superintendent and Bro. E. C. Morris teaching the Scripture reading. The preaching service followed at 12:30 led by Elder Albourne Peat. The Rev. James McGeechay preached on the theme of the year, "Arise and Build," taken from Nehemiah 2:17-20. After making a comparison of the condition of our work in England with that of the Jews who had returned from Babylon, he spoke about the symbolism in the building of the temple and the walls of Jerusalem, he urged that the time had come for us to "arise and build" in spite of the difficulties and obstacles in our way.

In the afternoon we joined in with our Methodist friends at Holloway College, amid noble trees, extensive lawns on hillsides above the "lordly Hudson," and the Sabourin physical characteristics of Pre-Con, '69.

The intangible characteristics are harder to describe. Much of the success of the "camp" is due to the imaginative, long-range planning of the director, Glen Warner, and the cooperation of the "research person," Dr. Wayne Rood. The latter not only gave three lectures on the "creative self" on which the camp studies were based, but also helped to integrate the workshop groups into this theme. Each day the recreation room where the meetings were held acquired new decorations and stimulating posters. His right-hand artist was Carol Clarke.

The culmination came in the Sabbath morning Communion Service which saw the majority of members in the three groups present. The service was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Dakin, preacher an excellent sermon taking Rev. 3:11 as his text, "Hold fast that which thou hast, that no one take thy crown.

At 5 p.m. a sacred concert was given by members of our Seventh Day Baptist groups from Holloway, Herne Hill and Birmingham. The choir, clad in white dresses, sang "Hold every treasure" and "Welcome, the Lord is coming." The latter was accompanied by the Rev. Mr. Dakin on the piano. "He's against it" to civil disobedience—under certain circumstances, he's for it. Perhaps the most potent element was that no one take thy crown.

The intangible characteristics were developed as the result of the camp over the three weeks. It was a most successful camp, and everyone who could find Bible references answered "Here!"

Perhaps the most potent element was the workshop—an experience-of-worship directed by the Rev. Mr. Dakin, Esther Burdick. Many of the young people had been in summer camps where her influence and teaching had been felt; they were prepared to lead the rest in exploration into rich, unknown territory of the spirit.

Using modern songs, methods, or liturgies she reached the group through the medium of their own language and experience. At her raised hand, these young people turned their backs on the most secular activities into the atmosphere of communal worship.

The culmination came in the Sabbath morning Communion Service which saw that no one take thy crown. They were quiet, washed and beautiful in apparel and they were prepared to lead the rest in exploration into rich unknown territory of the spirit.

Youth Pre-Con Retreat

By Hannah S. Burdick

Youth Pre-Con Retreat was held at Nyack Missionary College, Nyack, New York, August 7-9, 1969, as a program is asked to put flesh on the following statistics: Eleven staff members and 92 teen-agers attended, many of the latter looking and sounding like adolescents.

Elder C. G. H. Peat, some mini-skirted, some long-haired (or bewhiskered), some with "kooky" hats, bare feet. There was singing of all kinds, guitars, records, adopting one skinny, flea-bitten but much petted cat. Oh, yes, add a zillion mosquitoes.

Put these hundred-plus individuals on the impressive campus of Nyack Missionary College, amid noble trees, extensive lawns on hillsides above the "lordly Hudson," and the Sabourin physical characteristics of Pre-Con, '69.

Dr. Rood also brought insight to the daily hour-long conversations," shedding the light of history and/or theology upon questions ranging from infant damnation—he's agin it—to civil disobedience—under certain circumstances, he's for it. This was an extraordinary manner: just before the service, Elder E. C. Morris preached a piece on the piano very nicely, and the children played an important part with Scripture and other features. of the staff approached the canvas, chose a paint or crayon, drew or wrote something of his concern, then served the elements to the one following him, saying almost inaudibly "This is my body" and "This is my blood."

Apparently the Spirit caught the group, for in a totally unprepared situation, in utter silence, without announcement, rush, or delay, each camper added a symbol of himself or his concern.

As the director pronounced the benediction, he walked down the aisle touching the shoulders on each side, saying quietly "The Lord bless thee and keep thee." In turn each camper touched his neighbor and repeated the benediction and left the room without comment.

The writer reports this particular service in detail, because it illustrates the imaginative preparation, the cooperative efforts of the staff and the spontaneous response of the group.

One hopes that the home churches will avail themselves of the youthful enthusiasm, new techniques, and developing spirituality of their representatives at Pre-Con '69.

Prepare for Christian Education Week
National Christian Education Week will be celebrated September 28-October 4, 1969. This is the week with Faith and church members will form a program around the theme and will plan activities that will impress upon our people the necessity of working together as a unit in the Sabbath School and church and in the community.

We suggest that the determination to use the "Participation Covenant" as found in the Year IV packet, "Facing Frontiers with Faith" be emphasized during this week.

Youth Week in November
National Youth Week will be celebrated October 26-November 2, 1969. From the secretary of the Seventh Day Baptist Board of Christian Education has gone to our churches who list a youth fellowship, a promotional leaflet with an order blank for materials to use in helping the celebration. Also sent to each church was a promotional piece from the American Baptists with descriptions of material that may help to bridge the "generation gap."

The theme for National Youth Week is "White Plight?" It is our hope that our youth and their leaders will take a fresh look at racism in our American society.

Quoted in the promotional leaflet is Jeremiah 1:6-8: "... I do not know how to speak for I am only a youth." But the Lord said to me, "Do not say, 'I am only a youth': for to all to whom I send you, you shall go, and whatever I command you, you shall speak."

We hope our youth will take this theme seriously. Remember, all people count with God. Do they count with you?

Statistics Needed
Yearbook statistics related to Sabbath Schools, Youth Fellowships, Vacation Church Schools held this summer, and camps are due in the office of the Seventh Day Baptist Board of Christian Education. There are many churches who have not responded, and each year several do not make it at all.

We suggest that each church member take a look at the statistics in the 1968 Yearbook of Seventh Day Baptists and see when your Sabbath School made its last report. If it was not made in 1968, please contact the powers that be and see that a report is sent in that is up-to-date.

The results are sent around the world and become part of the historical records. Let us be "sensitive" in seeing that the truth is published about our work.

MISSIONS—Erosho T. Harris

Building Houses of Worship in Malawi
By Fedson F. Makatanje
(Mr. Makatanje is journalist for Seventh Day Baptist churches in Malawi.)

Seventh Day Baptist Christians in Malawi and church and in the community are advancing ahead in building new good churches, and church dedication services have been conducted in different places like Mulepa, Nanchefa in 1968; and Mphangala, Mapepo and Mchizu in 1969. It is hoped that two more churches will be dedicated soon.

All these churches are strongly built of sun-dried bricks and two of them have permanent roofs (iron roofs), namely Mphangala and Mapanga churches. The five churches which have been dedicated so far are in the South-Western Association under the directorship of Pastor Leman Mungoni. The two churches looking forward to dedication are also within the area.

The funds to buy building materials and pay the builders is usually contributed by the church members. The local churches within the area give some help. Sometimes Makapwa Mission Station is asked to help. As an example, let us take Michizu church which was dedicated on July 12, 1969. It was reported that the total amount of funds spent on the whole work was $98.70 but after asking Makapwa Station to help, Michizu Christians were offered $21.60 by the Mission Station. So the money of the work was contributed by the church members and other local churches within the area. Very encouraging!

Similar developments are going on in the South-Eastern Association, which is under the directorship of Pastor Lookson Natele. In this association they have one interesting story. If it was not made in 1968, please contact the powers that be and see that a report is sent in that is up-to-date.

The results are sent around the world and become part of the historical records. Let us be "sensitive" in seeing that the truth is published about our work.

—A Southern Baptist Pastor
MISSIONS

Report of Assistant in Evangelism
Service with Battle Creek Church,
June 3-August 2, 1969

(As prepared by Miss Constance Coon)

Fifty-four calls were made during the weeks reported. Nineteen calls were on the sick, fifteen were home visits, and twenty were evangelistic in nature.

Junior Camp was held with twenty-eight campers in attendance, from June 15-22. The theme was "Christ Is Coming Again." On June 22-29 senior campers (seven in number), with four more for the weekend, attended Campus Crusade Institute on Evangelism at Gull Lake. We commuted from Camp Holston every day. Several of our young people became enthusiastic about sharing the love of Christ with others. This to me was the highlight of the summer.

Intermediate camp was held June 29-July 6. About eighteen campers studied the Gospel Light series, "Christ Is for Real." Twenty-four primaries came for three days, July 1-3, and studied some of the parables of Jesus.

Five adults and at least three teen-agers from our Battle Creek church worked cooperatively with thirteen other churches in holding an Outdoor Vacation Church School July 6-18 with 250 enrolled. This was also a very valuable experience.

On Sabbath, July 26, part of the Junior Choir and I went to Petersburg and Montego, Michigan, for services. We rendered special music and I conducted services like Bible Clubs to give the Seventh Day Church of God people an idea of the work being done.

While at Battle Creek I gave one sermon, taught three Sabbath School classes, and told six children's stories.

Several graduation exercises were attended. Twice I took part as an umpire for the city softball games for churches and once acted as scorer.

Needless to say the work at Battle Creek is always challenging to me. It is most enjoyable working with Pastor Gene Fatato who is such a hard worker himself.

THE SABBATH RECORDER

U. S. Congress on Evangelism

Eight thousand pastors, laymen, and evangelists from across America will gather in Minneapolis, Minnesota, September 12-13 for the U. S. Congress on Evangelism. The Municipal Auditorium will be used for plenary sessions with adjacent churches furnishing additional facilities for group meetings.

Quotas for participants were sent to the Departments of Evangelism of 125 denominations. Indications are that this will be the largest and most significant meeting of such a nature ever held in this country. It is patterned somewhat after a similar congress held in Berlin. Seventh Day Baptists will have representatives at Minneapolis in September.

Statement of Purpose

1. To witness to the central fact that the gospel of Jesus Christ has power to save people in this age, and that faith in Jesus Christ is the way of salvation for all people.

2. To find anew the biblical basis and strategy for evangelism through the urgent proclamation and teaching of the gospel to each generation by a worshiping, witnessing, and serving church in which all believers once again declare boldly their faith in the risen and ascended Lord.

3. To teach believers how to do evangelism in the power of the Holy Spirit.

4. To experience a spiritual awakening within the church by the power of the Holy Spirit.

5. To challenge the powers of darkness, spurring the churches to stimulate believers everywhere to mount a vigorous attack upon the forces producing misery, inequity, emptiness, discrimination, and other evils in our society, and to lift, wherever possible, the spiritual and temporal burdens of man.

6. To encourage the church to develop and use modern and effective means for reaching people with the gospel in all its relevance.

7. To demonstrate practical Christian unity through witness and to respond to the tid that Jesus Christ is Savior and Lord.

8. To confess together past failures; to assess together opportunities for evangelism presented by a burgeoning world; and to strengthen one another in the common task of reaching out to that world for Christ.

9. To reaffirm that Jesus, the Lord of the church, is the Lord of history at whose return "every knee shall bow and every tongue confess that Jesus Christ is Lord to the glory of God the Father."

the Persian in 539 B.C. Cyrus was the first king of the Persian Empire and he allowed all the captive people at Babylon to return to their own countries. Cyrus authorized the Jews’ return to Judah to rebuild their temple (Ezra 3:6-22, 23; Ezra 1:1-4). The first party of 50,000 arrived in Jerusalem and seven months later set up the altar and resumed sacrifice to God. In the second year they laid the temple foundation. The work was halted temporarily, but resumed under Haggai’s and Zechariah’s encouragement (Ezra 5; Hg. 1-2). The new temple, replacing the original temple built by King Solomon, was completed in 516-5 B.C.

Esther opens in the reign of Ahasuerus (Xerxes) in Shushan (Susa), a capital of the Persian empire. The interesting narrative tells of customs in the Persian palace and Esther’s part in her people’s history in exile.

Ezra, commissioned by the Persian king, Artaxerxes, journeyed to Jerusalem to organize the temple services and instruct the people in the law of Moses.

Nehemiah, governor of the province, succeeded in restoring the wall of Jerusalem in fifty-two days. He and Ezra both warned the people against intermarriage with the heathen peoples around them. Nehemiah emphasized that the Sabbath is holy. The experience of history had removed the idea that Yahweh could be served by lax views or practice, but by loving obedience to God.

BIBLE READING FOR SEPTEMBER

Daniel, Ezekiel, Esther, Ezra, Haggai, Zechariah, Nehemiah

The city of Babylon in the Euphrates River valley is important in the period of Bible history we are now reading. The city was a favorite residence of Gentile rulers in the Assyrian, Babylonian, and Persian empires (7th and 6th centuries B.C.). Babylon lay at the crossroads of most of the Jews as captives to Babylon, after destroying their northern kingdom, Israel, and part of the southern kingdom, Judah. The Babylonians (Chaldeans) regained control of Babylon from the Assyrians in 626 B.C. The kings of the New Babylonian empire rebuilt and beautified Babylon with walls, canals, palaces, and pagan temples. The Babylonian army at least four times brought back Jewish captives from Judah.

Historical events in the book of Daniel have gained much support from archaeological discoveries. The book tells of Daniel’s youthful captivity, his rise to power and influence on several kings of the Persian Babylonian empires: Nebuchadnezzar (Nebuchadrezzar) and Belshazzar of Babylon, Darius the Mede (governing under Cyrus), and Cyrus the Persian. Daniel taught God’s sovereignty over individuals and nations. He foresaw the Jews’ Babylonian exile as temporary, and that the Babylonian empire would disappear from history to be replaced by other empires.

Ezekiel was taken captive nine years after Daniel (597 B.C.; 2 Kings 24:10, 15; 1 Esch. 1:2). Ezekiel preached the same message to the exiles that the prophet Jeremiah was preaching back in Jerusalem: the people’s sins would bring about Jerusalem’s downfall (1-24). His prophecy was actually fulfilled. In 586, after eighteen months of resistance, Jerusalem was captured by Nebuchadnezzar’s army and the majority of survivors were exiled to Babylon.

Ezekiel also predicted the overthrow of Babylon and other heathen nations (chapters 25-32) and the glorious future of Israel (33-48). As was prophesied in Isaiah 45:48, Babylon would fall to Cyrus were held up showing their desire to move, for instance, from Tempe Street to Gentle Grove.

In the midst of this fine program Pastor McGee gave a talk on “Signs in the Moon” based on the landing of the American astronauts on earth’s satellite in the Sea of Tranquility. In the clash of the Russian Lunar 15 in the Sea of Crises. We in the West seek peace and tranquility the Russian Communists seem bent on causing in various parts of the world. It was noted that the Greek word “crisis” is “krisis” and in the Bible it means “judgment” and refers to the time when God’s judgments are poured out on this sinful world. “The hour of His judgment is come” (Rev. 14:6-7; 19:11). “The end of the ages” occurs only once in the Bible, Daniel 4:27. It was in Daniel’s advice to Nebuchadnezzar advising him to repent of his sins, and show mercy, by this He would lengthen his tranquility. This advice is applicable to us all.

A short evangelistic service closed the day. Elder Peat drew our attention to other signs of the times, which declared the soon return of our Lord and the setting up of His Kingdom on the earth.

On Monday, July 28, the business meeting was held at the Holy Temple of Herne Hill, London. Minutes of the 1968 conference at Birmingham were read by Sister J. Lynch, assistant secretary. Matters arising from the minutes were discussed and reports given by the moderator, treasurer, auditor and the leaders of the three groups in Birmingham, Herne Hill, and Holloway. The Birmingham group has had to change its meeting place due to the moving of Bro. and Sister Lynch. The services at Holloway and Herne Hill have been well-attended, both on Sabbaths and Sunday evenings.

At the election of officers Pastor McGeachy was once again elected as moderator and Mrs. Rose Lynch was made secretary. Sister Iris Codrington was confirmed as treasurer with Mrs. O. Gelleff as assistant treasurer. Pastor McGeeachy continued as auditor. Sis. E. Anderson Stewart was made a trustee for three years, and Bro. H. S. Grant of Coventry trustee for two years. Bro. O. Lynch was chosen as executive secretary of the British Conference.

Comments on Black Manifesto

In the accumulation of comment on the Black Manifesto of James Forman it is important to note who says what. Mr. Forman has called for reparations of some $3 billion to be paid to Negros by the church.

There was a meeting of white and Negro Baptist leaders from nine denominations at Nashville recently. Five Negro Baptist ministers were somewhat critical of Southern Baptists. Said the Rev. Kelly Miller Smith, Negro pastor of Nashville, “If Southern Baptists alone had long ago decided to be good Christian in their relations with others, the problems we are picking away at now would be solved.”

Rev. Joseph H. Jackson, president of the 5¼ million-member National Baptist Convention, U.S. A., had something to say about the Black Manifesto which is significant in view of the fact that if the money Forman is demanding were to be equally distributed his churches would get a large share of it.

The outspoken Negro preacher took a slap at black militants who have demanded reparations from white churches, calling them people who don’t love America, who are using civil rights to further their own cause.

Later in his speech, Jackson singled out James Forman. He declared that the so-called “Black Manifesto” is misnamed, for it isn’t black and it isn’t new. The manifesto is identical the same as the ideology, methodology, and philosophy of the Communist Manifesto written in 1848.

“It isn’t black, it has another color—red, he declared.”

Jackson said that his convention wouldn’t accept “Red” funds even if they were offered, for “whoever is frightened enough to pay reparations ought to pay them to the man who frightens them.”

NEWS FROM THE CHURCHES

RIVERSIDE, CALIF. — One of the evangelistic outreaches of our church again this year was the booth at the nearby National Orange Show. Jack Jensen, who headed the project last year, was again in charge. He gave up part of his annual vacation to plan, arrange, schedule helpers and dismantle the booth. Some 6,000 tracts were handed out, which included the theme “Are You Really Living?” In addition, many children’s tracts, Sabbath Visitors and Sabbath Recorders were given out. Seed was sown, which we trust will bear fruit. At the very least, it will bear fruit. At the very least, SCS for the children of our church and for the candidates, following a period of some 75 campers of all ages, it seems more than worthwhile. An innovation in the Intermediate Camp this year was the creation of a movie, complete with sound, which we are eager to enjoy when it has been edited and can be presented.

We will all gather again on Labor Day weekend, when our all-church camp will convene, under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Davil Boatman and members of their family.

It has been good to have former Pastor and Mrs. Leon Wheelser with us for part of July. He occupied the pulpit one Sabbath.

Our Prayer Corner

Suggestions for Prayer This Week

Pray for:

1) The student pastors and other leaders who have completed their summer assignments and need our prayers as they look toward new work this fall.

2) The youth who have sought to evaluate their dedicated service given this summer and are now longing to do significant work in their home churches and school situations.

3) The momentum of Pre-Con and Conference into effective witnessing for our Lord, particularly in implementing the Crusade of the Americas in these fall months.

4) The Seventh Day Baptist work in foreign countries where workers are few and financial resources are so much less than in our country.

Paris Pop Star Converted by New Testament

A former night club singer and pop recording star in Paris now devotes his talents to evangelistic meetings and recording religious music.

Gil Bernard is the son of a Moroccan Jewish family who came to Paris at the age of 26 with bright hopes for the future. For a time, it seemed that he was about to realize all his hopes and dreams.

"When a young man of 26 comes to Paris to win over the glamorous world of the music hall, he first of all is completely overwhelmed by the big city," Bernard said.

The youth began with performances on the night-club circuit, and then moved up into the big time of radio and television and recording contracts.

But success was not without its problems. "The more money I earned, the more I lost at gambling," Bernard recalled one day when he lost at poker one entire year of his copyright income.

Added to his other problems was a marriage that seemed about to break up because of conflicting personalities.

During this time a missionary bringing a copy of the New Testament visited the couple. Several "missionary" editions of the Scriptures, designed to sell at a very low price, had been produced by the French Bible Society in 1967 and 1968 to encourage evangelism and missions. Through personal contact and through reading the Bible both Bernard and his wife were led to profess faith in Christ.

Bernard continued his career in the entertainment world, but longed to do something different. Then last spring the French Baptist Federation asked him to sing gospel music during their nationwide crusade.

"For four years I had been waiting to sing the Gospel of Jesus Christ," he said.

"This offer to sing publicly for Christ was the turning point of my life." Six months later he left the entertainment world.

Ecumenical Gifts Needed

Attention is again called to the need for special contributions to designated funds for the World Fellowship and Service phase of the Our World Mission. More specifically the pledges to the National Council of the Churches of Christ and to the World Council of Churches are in need of our support.

As of June 30 we had a total giving of $75.32 toward an NCC pledge of $150. To the World Council, toward a pledge of $240, there is in hand $37.98. While $133.48 has been received toward the WCC budget, $95.50 of that amount was used to complete payment of last year's pledge. This leaves us owing $74.68 to complete our NCC $150.00 pledge, and $202.02 to complete the WCC $240 pledge.

The council would urge that special attention be given to these two agencies in our designated giving prior to December.

What Is General Conference?

Conference is all the delegates and visitors assembled to hear addresses or to transact necessary business. Conference is also a large number of small discussion groups as pictured here. Above is one of the sensitivity groups questioning themselves as to how they could be more sensitive to the needs of others. Below is a portion of the committee to consider missionary work on the home field, pondering questions.
