VOLUME
When threaten's darkne<. athers 0
er, and hope's
enteth
The seventh day

FOREIGN

Unsought
St. and yet, nil dream#

For deeds of bute and wrong,
Thou!(h hee uot the fearful

Whole No. 117.

When eyeB to eyes are
And tender word. are spoken,

If with love 'twere breken

THE BATBIES PACT.

OTHERS.

THE SABBATH RECORDER.

Published by "{733}3. ITTIS.
"THE SEVENTH DAY IS THE SABBATH OF THE LORD THY GOD.”
VOLUME XXIII. No. 30.
WESTERLY, R. I., FIFTH-DAY, JULY 28, 1847.

No actual that
Was
Len expanded,
Glorilled,
Of other

JoY;

With no

other

One thing is certain. The
The best benefit in the

This is the time of year

Mr. Smith, an old friend

THE OLD MAN.

His memory is fresh

The last meeting

He was a man,

It was a brief

May I ask

Shall I allow

This is the month of

He was a man, in the prime

His memory is fresh. I have

THE SABBATH RECORDER.

When eyeB to eyes are
And tender word. are spoken,

If with love 'twere breken

THE BATBIES PACT.

OTHERS.

THE SABBATH RECORDER.

Published by "{733}3. ITTIS.
"THE SEVENTH DAY IS THE SABBATH OF THE LORD THY GOD.”
VOLUME XXIII. No. 30.
WESTERLY, R. I., FIFTH-DAY, JULY 28, 1847.

No actual that
Was
Len expanded,
Glorilled,
Of other

JoY;

With no

other

One thing is certain. The
The best benefit in the

This is the time of year

Mr. Smith, an old friend

THE OLD MAN.

His memory is fresh

The last meeting

He was a man,

It was a brief

May I ask

Shall I allow

This is the month of

He was a man, in the prime

His memory is fresh. I have

THE SABBATH RECORDER.

When eyeB to eyes are
And tender word. are spoken,

If with love 'twere breken

THE BATBIES PACT.

OTHERS.

THE SABBATH RECORDER.

Published by "{733}3. ITTIS.
"THE SEVENTH DAY IS THE SABBATH OF THE LORD THY GOD.”
VOLUME XXIII. No. 30.
WESTERLY, R. I., FIFTH-DAY, JULY 28, 1847.

No actual that
Was
Len expanded,
Glorilled,
Of other

JoY;

With no

other

One thing is certain. The
The best benefit in the

This is the time of year

Mr. Smith, an old friend

THE OLD MAN.

His memory is fresh

The last meeting

He was a man,

It was a brief

May I ask

Shall I allow

This is the month of

He was a man, in the prime

His memory is fresh. I have

THE SABBATH RECORDER.

When eyeB to eyes are
And tender word. are spoken,

If with love 'twere breken

THE BATBIES PACT.

OTHERS.

THE SABBATH RECORDER.

Published by "{733}3. ITTIS.
"THE SEVENTH DAY IS THE SABBATH OF THE LORD THY GOD.”
VOLUME XXIII. No. 30.
WESTERLY, R. I., FIFTH-DAY, JULY 28, 1847.

No actual that
Was
Len expanded,
Glorilled,
Of other

JoY;

With no

other

One thing is certain. The
The best benefit in the

This is the time of year

Mr. Smith, an old friend

THE OLD MAN.

His memory is fresh

The last meeting

He was a man,

It was a brief

May I ask

Shall I allow

This is the month of

He was a man, in the prime

His memory is fresh. I have

THE SABBATH RECORDER.

When eyeB to eyes are
And tender word. are spoken,

If with love 'twere breken

THE BATBIES PACT.

OTHERS.

THE SABBATH RECORDER.

Published by "{733}3. ITTIS.
"THE SEVENTH DAY IS THE SABBATH OF THE LORD THY GOD.”
VOLUME XXIII. No. 30.
WESTERLY, R. I., FIFTH-DAY, JULY 28, 1847.

No actual that
Was
Len expanded,
Glorilled,
Of other

JoY;

With no

other

One thing is certain. The
The best benefit in the

This is the time of year

Mr. Smith, an old friend

THE OLD MAN.

His memory is fresh

The last meeting

He was a man,

It was a brief

May I ask

Shall I allow

This is the month of

He was a man, in the prime

His memory is fresh. I have

THE SABBATH RECORDER.
THE SABBATH RECORDER, JULY 20, 1867.

THE SABBATICAL SABBATH.
A regular Quarterly Meeting of the Sabbath-Society, was held at Kansas City, Mo., on the 12th, 1867, when the following was acted upon:

PRESIDENT (
II:

1. From W. W. Babcock, Assistant, and the Secretary, to the President, at the last meeting, while in company with Mr. J. Smalley Babcock, he enjoyed there a visit at the home of Mr. J. C. Babcock, of Lincoln, Nebr., and was shown the condition of the Sabbath-schools there. He was told that he would likely have some of the winter's growth remaining, and that they would have to work their way through and out of the snow. He was also shown the condition of the Sabbath-schools there, and was told that he would likely have some of the winter's growth remaining, and that they would have to work their way through and out of the snow. He was also shown the condition of the Sabbath-schools there, and was told that he would likely have some of the winter's growth remaining, and that they would have to work their way through and out of the snow.

2. From R. C. H脾cock, Assistant, to the President, that he had been to the Missouri Missionary Society, with the Sabbath-schools there, and was told that he would likely have some of the winter's growth remaining, and that they would have to work their way through and out of the snow. He was also shown the condition of the Sabbath-schools there, and was told that he would likely have some of the winter's growth remaining, and that they would have to work their way through and out of the snow.

3. From E. Russell, Assistant, to the President, that he had been to the Missouri Missionary Society, with the Sabbath-schools there, and was told that he would likely have some of the winter's growth remaining, and that they would have to work their way through and out of the snow. He was also shown the condition of the Sabbath-schools there, and was told that he would likely have some of the winter's growth remaining, and that they would have to work their way through and out of the snow.

4. From E. W. Babcock, Assistant, to the President, that he had been to the Missouri Missionary Society, with the Sabbath-schools there, and was told that he would likely have some of the winter's growth remaining, and that they would have to work their way through and out of the snow. He was also shown the condition of the Sabbath-schools there, and was told that he would likely have some of the winter's growth remaining, and that they would have to work their way through and out of the snow.

The SABBATH-SCHOOL SABBATH.
A regular Quarterly Meeting of the Sabbath-Society, was held at Kansas City, Mo., on the 12th, 1867, when the following was acted upon:

PRESIDENT (
II:

1. From W. W. Babcock, Assistant, and the Secretary, to the President, at the last meeting, while in company with Mr. J. Smalley Babcock, he enjoyed there a visit at the home of Mr. J. C. Babcock, of Lincoln, Nebr., and was shown the condition of the Sabbath-schools there. He was told that he would likely have some of the winter's growth remaining, and that they would have to work their way through and out of the snow. He was also shown the condition of the Sabbath-schools there, and was told that he would likely have some of the winter's growth remaining, and that they would have to work their way through and out of the snow.

2. From R. C. H脾cock, Assistant, to the President, that he had been to the Missouri Missionary Society, with the Sabbath-schools there, and was told that he would likely have some of the winter's growth remaining, and that they would have to work their way through and out of the snow. He was also shown the condition of the Sabbath-schools there, and was told that he would likely have some of the winter's growth remaining, and that they would have to work their way through and out of the snow.

3. From E. Russell, Assistant, to the President, that he had been to the Missouri Missionary Society, with the Sabbath-schools there, and was told that he would likely have some of the winter's growth remaining, and that they would have to work their way through and out of the snow. He was also shown the condition of the Sabbath-schools there, and was told that he would likely have some of the winter's growth remaining, and that they would have to work their way through and out of the snow.

4. From E. W. Babcock, Assistant, to the President, that he had been to the Missouri Missionary Society, with the Sabbath-schools there, and was told that he would likely have some of the winter's growth remaining, and that they would have to work their way through and out of the snow. He was also shown the condition of the Sabbath-schools there, and was told that he would likely have some of the winter's growth remaining, and that they would have to work their way through and out of the snow.

The SABBATH-SCHOOL SABBATH.
A regular Quarterly Meeting of the Sabbath-Society, was held at Kansas City, Mo., on the 12th, 1867, when the following was acted upon:

PRESIDENT (
II:

1. From W. W. Babcock, Assistant, and the Secretary, to the President, at the last meeting, while in company with Mr. J. Smalley Babcock, he enjoyed there a visit at the home of Mr. J. C. Babcock, of Lincoln, Nebr., and was shown the condition of the Sabbath-schools there. He was told that he would likely have some of the winter's growth remaining, and that they would have to work their way through and out of the snow. He was also shown the condition of the Sabbath-schools there, and was told that he would likely have some of the winter's growth remaining, and that they would have to work their way through and out of the snow.

2. From R. C. H脾cock, Assistant, to the President, that he had been to the Missouri Missionary Society, with the Sabbath-schools there, and was told that he would likely have some of the winter's growth remaining, and that they would have to work their way through and out of the snow. He was also shown the condition of the Sabbath-schools there, and was told that he would likely have some of the winter's growth remaining, and that they would have to work their way through and out of the snow.

3. From E. Russell, Assistant, to the President, that he had been to the Missouri Missionary Society, with the Sabbath-schools there, and was told that he would likely have some of the winter's growth remaining, and that they would have to work their way through and out of the snow. He was also shown the condition of the Sabbath-schools there, and was told that he would likely have some of the winter's growth remaining, and that they would have to work their way through and out of the snow.

4. From E. W. Babcock, Assistant, to the President, that he had been to the Missouri Missionary Society, with the Sabbath-schools there, and was told that he would likely have some of the winter's growth remaining, and that they would have to work their way through and out of the snow. He was also shown the condition of the Sabbath-schools there, and was told that he would likely have some of the winter's growth remaining, and that they would have to work their way through and out of the snow.