Summary of News

Mrs. William Prudden of West Middletown, Conn., died in the State hospital at Middletown, Aug. 19th. She was an invalid for many years, the result of consumption, which had been fought by frequent changes of air and climate. She had been in the hospital for about a year, and her death was greatly regretted by her friends. A Masonic service was held by the local Lodge in her room, and the body was removed to the burial place in the hospital cemetery.

The Remembrance of the late Dr. William Cushing, of New York, is being observed by his friends with great respect and affection. He was a true and valued member of the medical profession, and his memory will long be cherished by his professional associates.

In connection with the late President of the United States, Mr. Lincoln, it may be of interest to note that his remains have been interred in the cemetery near his birthplace. The ceremony was attended by a large number of the citizens of the town, and the place was tastefully decorated.

The trial of the late President, Mr. Lincoln, is now being held in the court of justice at Peoria, Ill. The case is before the jury, and the decision will be rendered as soon as possible. The accused is to be discharged if found not guilty, and the prosecution will be dismissed if found guilty.

A large number of the citizens of the town have expressed their determination to defend the President, and to use all means in their power to secure his release. The case has excited great interest among the people, and the trial is expected to be a long and tedious process.