THE SABBATH RECORDER, DECEMBER 5, 1873.

It is well to reflect on the subject of the Sabbath, and on the means by which it is best to keep it holy. For God has set apart this day as a holy day, and has given us the command to sanctify it as such. The Sabbath is the day on which we remember the Lord, and the day on which we should do our best to please Him. God has given us the Sabbath, and we should make the best use of it.

The Sabbath is a day of rest, and we should use it to the best advantage. We should spend the day in prayer, in reading the Bible, in study, and in other ways of employing our time to the best advantage. We should also use the Sabbath to do good to others, to help them in their troubles, and to show them the love of Jesus.

The Sabbath is a day of grace, and we should use it to the best advantage. We should use the Sabbath to show our faith in Jesus, and to demonstrate our love for Him. We should also use the Sabbath to show our love for others, and to help them in their troubles.
