THE SABBATH RECORDER, JUNE 13, 1874.

THE BIBLE CLOSED.

A propos, after propriety of the event, the President of the Board of Directors, in his address, observed that the Scriptures are the source of all knowledge. The Bible is not only the chief source of our knowledge, but it is also the grand concern of our lives. The Bible is not only the fountain of knowledge, but it is also the guide of our conduct. The Bible is not only the source of our knowledge, but it is also the foundation of our faith. The Bible is not only the fountain of knowledge, but it is also the source of our piety. The Bible is not only the source of our knowledge, but it is also the foundation of our morals. The Bible is not only the fountain of knowledge, but it is also the source of our righteousness. The Bible is not only the source of our knowledge, but it is also the foundation of our ethical principles. The Bible is not only the fountain of knowledge, but it is also the source of our moral duties. The Bible is not only the source of our knowledge, but it is also the foundation of our duties. The Bible is not only the fountain of knowledge, but it is also the source of our obligations. The Bible is not only the source of our knowledge, but it is also the foundation of our obligations. The Bible is not only the fountain of knowledge, but it is also the source of our duties. The Bible is not only the source of our knowledge, but it is also the foundation of our duties. The Bible is not only the fountain of knowledge, but it is also the source of our duties. The Bible is not only the source of our knowledge, but it is also the foundation of our duties. The Bible is not only the fountain of knowledge, but it is also the source of our duties. The Bible is not only the source of our knowledge, but it is also the foundation of our duties.
