The Sabbath Recorder

VOLUME XXXIX—NO. 9.
ALFRED CENTER, N. Y., FIFTH-DAY, JANUARY 16, 1872.
WHOLE NO. 1459.

[Article content begins here]

[Continues with various articles, columns, and advertisements typical of a 19th-century newspaper]

[The text continues to fill the page, with various articles, editorials, and advertisements]

[The page concludes with the final articles and advertisements, followed by the masthead and publisher information]
THE SABBATH RECORDER, JANUARY 16, 1878.

Man, February 23, 1878, has been given to the following account of the death of Mrs. Sarah Brown, who was buried in Berwick, Illinois, on Thursday, January 16, 1878.

Mrs. Brown was born in Pennsylvania, in 1820, and removed to Illinois in 1830, where she has since resided. Mrs. Brown was married to Mr. Brown, who was also a native of Pennsylvania, and they have been married for 40 years. Mrs. Brown was much beloved by her neighbors, and her death is a great loss to them.

In the meantime, the following account of the death of Mrs. Brown was published in the Berwick Daily Times:

Mrs. Brown was buried in Berwick, Illinois, on Thursday, January 16, 1878, after a long illness. She was a kind and loving wife, and a faithful member of the Berwick Methodist Church. Her death is a great loss to her family and friends.

In the meantime, the following account of the death of Mrs. Brown was published in the Berwick Daily Times:

Mrs. Brown was buried in Berwick, Illinois, on Thursday, January 16, 1878, after a long illness. She was a kind and loving wife, and a faithful member of the Berwick Methodist Church. Her death is a great loss to her family and friends.

In the meantime, the following account of the death of Mrs. Brown was published in the Berwick Daily Times:

Mrs. Brown was buried in Berwick, Illinois, on Thursday, January 16, 1878, after a long illness. She was a kind and loving wife, and a faithful member of the Berwick Methodist Church. Her death is a great loss to her family and friends.

In the meantime, the following account of the death of Mrs. Brown was published in the Berwick Daily Times:

Mrs. Brown was buried in Berwick, Illinois, on Thursday, January 16, 1878, after a long illness. She was a kind and loving wife, and a faithful member of the Berwick Methodist Church. Her death is a great loss to her family and friends.

In the meantime, the following account of the death of Mrs. Brown was published in the Berwick Daily Times:

Mrs. Brown was buried in Berwick, Illinois, on Thursday, January 16, 1878, after a long illness. She was a kind and loving wife, and a faithful member of the Berwick Methodist Church. Her death is a great loss to her family and friends.

In the meantime, the following account of the death of Mrs. Brown was published in the Berwick Daily Times:

Mrs. Brown was buried in Berwick, Illinois, on Thursday, January 16, 1878, after a long illness. She was a kind and loving wife, and a faithful member of the Berwick Methodist Church. Her death is a great loss to her family and friends.

In the meantime, the following account of the death of Mrs. Brown was published in the Berwick Daily Times:

Mrs. Brown was buried in Berwick, Illinois, on Thursday, January 16, 1878, after a long illness. She was a kind and loving wife, and a faithful member of the Berwick Methodist Church. Her death is a great loss to her family and friends.

In the meantime, the following account of the death of Mrs. Brown was published in the Berwick Daily Times:

Mrs. Brown was buried in Berwick, Illinois, on Thursday, January 16, 1878, after a long illness. She was a kind and loving wife, and a faithful member of the Berwick Methodist Church. Her death is a great loss to her family and friends.