DAY IS THE SABBATH OF THE LORD THAT MADE US.

VOLUME XXXI.-NO. 49. ALFRED CENTER, N. Y., FIFTH-DAY, DECEMBER 2, 1871.

WHOLE NO. 2699.

The Sabbath Recorder. PUBLISHED BY THE AMERICAN SABBATH TRUST SOCIETY. "THE SEVENTH DAY IS THE SABBATH OF THE LORD THAT MADE US." EXCEPT. 50 CENTS A YEAR, IN ADVANCE.

THE SABBATH IN SPAIN.

From England, Sept. 29th.-Mr. Edward R. Bulmer, of London, writes us as follows from the city of Barcelona, Sept. 17th:

The Rev. John Dawson, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, of this place, has undertaken to superintend the American mission to Spain, and to that end has just returned from America. Mr. Dawson is a gentleman of ability, and his designs are creditable. The American mission is but a short time established in Spain, and the work of conversions and improvements has just begun. The Methodists, who have a church in Madrid, have established one in Barcelona, and are about to do the same in other towns. The work is promising, and is likely to be productive of good results. The Methodists are, we believe, the only denominations of Christian believers in Spain, and it is to be hoped that they will be a blessing to the nation. The Methodists, who have a church in Madrid, have established one in Barcelona, and are about to do the same in other towns. The work is promising, and is likely to be productive of good results. The Methodists are, we believe, the only denominations of Christian believers in Spain, and it is to be hoped that they will be a blessing to the nation.

In the Western World, Oct. 20th.-Mr. John D. Brown, of the American Methodist Mission, writes us as follows from the Western World:

The work of the American Mission is progressing. The church in Madrid is growing in numbers, and the work of missions in other parts of the country is promising. The American Mission is doing good work, and is likely to be productive of good results. The Methodists are, we believe, the only denominations of Christian believers in Spain, and it is to be hoped that they will be a blessing to the nation.

In the Eastern World, Oct. 20th.-Mr. John D. Brown, of the American Methodist Mission, writes us as follows from the Eastern World:

The work of the American Mission is progressing. The church in Madrid is growing in numbers, and the work of missions in other parts of the country is promising. The American Mission is doing good work, and is likely to be productive of good results. The Methodists are, we believe, the only denominations of Christian believers in Spain, and it is to be hoped that they will be a blessing to the nation.
THE SABBATH RECORDER, DECEMBER 2, 1875.

THE PAPERS OF VIRGINIA.

The first legislative session of the colonial government was from 1619 to 1620, held at Jamestown. The colony was divided into three counties: Surry, Middlesex, and York. The county government was established by a charter from the Virginia Company of London, and was composed of a county court, consisting of a sheriff, a sheriff's bailiff, and five other justices of the peace. The county courts were held twice a year, on the first Monday in March and the first Monday in September. The county courts were the highest form of local government in Virginia, and had jurisdiction over all matters within the county except those matters reserved to the colonial government, such as foreign trade, war, and the appointment of district attorneys. The county courts were the highest form of local government in Virginia, and had jurisdiction over all matters within the county except those reserved to the colonial government, such as foreign trade, war, and the appointment of district attorneys. The county courts were held twice a year, on the first Monday in March and the first Monday in September. The county courts were the highest form of local government in Virginia, and had jurisdiction over all matters within the county except those reserved to the colonial government, such as foreign trade, war, and the appointment of district attorneys. The county courts were held twice a year, on the first Monday in March and the first Monday in September. The county courts were the highest form of local government in Virginia, and had jurisdiction over all matters within the county except those reserved to the colonial government, such as foreign trade, war, and the appointment of district attorneys. The county courts were held twice a year, on the first Monday in March and the first Monday in September. The county courts were the highest form of local government in Virginia, and had jurisdiction over all matters within the county except those reserved to the colonial government, such as foreign trade, war, and the appointment of district attorneys. The county courts were held twice a year, on the first Monday in March and the first Monday in September.
No text is visible in the image.