For the benefit of humanity.

For the benefit of humanity, the work of the Sabbath Recorder is carried on by the American Sabbath Union, an organization dedicated to the promotion of the Sabbath as a day of rest and reflection. The Recorder is published weekly, providing a platform for articles, sermons, and essays that address various aspects of Sabbath observance and its importance in the lives of its readers. The publication aims to educate and inspire its audience to live according to the principles of Sabbath observance, emphasizing the spiritual, moral, and physical benefits of keeping the Sabbath.

In the article titled "The Sabbath in China," the Recorder explores the unique challenges faced by Sabbath observance in the Chinese context. The article discusses the efforts of Chinese Christians to adhere to the Sabbath laws despite the cultural and religious practices that may conflict with them. It highlights the importance of education and outreach in helping Chinese communities understand and adopt the Sabbath as a central tenet of their faith.

The Recorder also includes articles on the power of education and the role of the Sabbath in personal development. It emphasizes the importance of the Sabbath as a time for rest, reflection, and spiritual renewal. The publication encourages its readers to use the Sabbath as an opportunity to deepen their understanding of the Bible and to grow in their faith.

Overall, the Sabbath Recorder is a valuable resource for those interested in the Sabbath observance and its impact on personal and community life. It offers a rich array of articles and essays that address the practical, spiritual, and cultural aspects of Sabbath observance, providing guidance and inspiration for its readers to live according to the principles of the Sabbath.
