Whatever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things.

Forbid not him that doth good, nor seeketh the truth, except he be a sinner that speaketh calumnies.

If thy brother sin against thee, go and tell him his fault between thee and him alone. And if he hear thee, thou hast gained thy brother. But if he will not hear thee, then take with thee one or two more, that in the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may be established. And if he refuse to hear them, tell it unto the church; and if he refuse to hear the church, let him be unto thee as an heathen and a publican.

Whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things.

Forbid not him that doth good, nor seeketh the truth, except he be a sinner that speaketh calumnies.
