

SEVEN FIGURE PUBLISHING

ELECTION NIGHT 2018 HOT SHEET

YOUR GUIDE TO PROFIT FROM MARIJUANA'S TIPPING POINT MOMENT...

W O T E

Election Night 2018 HOT SHEET

Your Guide to Profit from Marijuana's Tipping Point Moment...

---

Hi, Ray Blanco here.

Thanks for signing up to join me and Emmy Award winning TV host Montel Williams on election night as events unfold that will change the marijuana industry forever...

On Tuesday, Nov. 6, U.S. voters head to the polls in one of the most important midterm elections in generations.

Because that night will mark a tipping point for the legalization of marijuana in the U.S.

And when you join us, you'll learn the right moves you can take to unlock a fortune.

Mark my words — Wednesday, Nov. 7 will probably be too late.

So be in your seat election night, Nov. 6 2018 at 8 p.m. EST.

We'll cover the night's events LIVE — and reveal the amazing opportunity you can take advantage of as the results pile up.

But, don't take a single action until you read what we've prepared for you ahead of the event.

Over the next seven days you'll hear from me and Montel Williams on just how big this opportunity is... you'll get to share your stories and ask us questions... and it all culminates on Nov. 6 at 8 p.m. EST when our broadcast goes LIVE.

Make sure you never miss a moment leading up to the event. Go to ElectionNight2018.com for the latest updates.

Now, here's your guide to profit from marijuana's tipping point moment...

Why Now? How We Reached the "Tipping Point"

Let's take go back to election night 2016.

In 2016 Trump took office in a historical presidential showdown.

But I watched the race intently for a different reason.

Because that night, seven states placed votes in favor of legalizing marijuana, either medically or recreationally.

Today, 31 states including the District of Columbia have legal marijuana in some form.

On Nov. 6, 2018, I expect two more states with zero marijuana laws in place to pass legislation for the drug. Plus two other states on the ballot that look to broaden existing marijuana laws.

That brings the total up to 33.

Now, at first glance, that might not seem like a big jump.

But that's 66% of the states in the U.S. with legalized marijuana in some form.

66%!

Missouri

Missouri has some of the toughest marijuana laws in the country. Now... they want to legalize marijuana for medicinal use.

Amendment 2 would allow patients with serious medical conditions to use cannabis under the supervision of their doctors.

There are two other measures up for vote as well, all looking to legalize and tax medical marijuana.

If just one amendment passes, Missouri joins a long list of states that have marijuana legalized in some form.

I predict Missouri votes “YES.”

North Dakota

North Dakota already allows for patients in need to use medical marijuana. But come Nov. 6, they vote to allow adult recreational use.

Measure 3 would allow use, sale and possession of marijuana to anyone over the age of 21.

The law would also legalize paraphernalia —pipes and bongs — used for marijuana exclusively.

Furthermore — criminal records would be expunged for anyone who “followed” the new law in the past. As long as they were 21 or over at the time.

I predict North Dakota votes “YES.”

Utah

Currently, Utah has no legal marijuana laws on the books. This Election Day, a law on the ballot will allow patients access to it.

Prop 2, if passed, would allow patients who qualify access to medical marijuana.

Smoking marijuana would still be banned.

But... if passed, Utah joins the long list of states that allow legal pot in some form.

I predict Utah will vote “YES.”

The Changing Tide Has Washington’s Attention

What’s really notable about the four states above is they were all red states in the 2016 election.

Public opinion is shifting. This is no longer a left/right debate. This is an issue of American rights and human decency.

In fact, according to a Quinnipiac poll, 93% of Americans support medical marijuana reform.

93%! You can’t get 93% of people at a party to agree on the same pizza toppings.

But it’s not just the general public. Republican candidates are ready to jump on board.

According to a recent Gallup poll, 51% of Republican voters support legalization.

That number continues to rise.

Marijuana legalization has become popular very quickly

Share of Democrats, Republicans and independents who favor legalizing marijuana

The Catalyst Driving The New Wave of Acceptance

Education and opportunity. Two of the main reasons marijuana reform has gained so much attention.

Millions of Americans have realized cannabis and its derivatives are life-changing medicines for folks who suffer from debilitating disease.

Others think the government should keep its nose out of what you do in the privacy of your own home.

And the economic opportunity cannabis creates to the jurisdictions where it's legal is astounding: jobs, billions of dollars in tax revenues (often specifically earmarked to fund education) and massive gain opportunities in the stock market.

Since I started covering this story ahead of the 2016 elections... my readers have had the chance to make a windfall of gains...

103%... 323%... 381%... 164%... 222%... and 174%... 404%...

This is only the beginning.

On Nov. 6 at 8 p.m. EST Montel Williams and I go live in an unprecedented event to cover the exciting marijuana developments on election night — the results, the opportunity and how you can pull profits out of this fast-growing industry.

You could begin raking in a huge fortune from legal marijuana stocks when the markets open the morning after Election Day.

You do not want to miss this event.

Be in your seat Tuesday, Nov. 6, at 8 p.m. EST. We will be streaming live, so don't be late — you won't want to miss a minute.

In the meantime I would love to hear from you! Got questions? Share them at ElectionNight2018@SevenFigurePublishing.com. I'll try to cover them in my emails leading up to the event.

Also, check out www.ElectionNight2018.com. Every time I send an email, I'll post it there. Every time I have a video update, I'll post it there. You'll want to bookmark this site.

See you on Nov. 6!

To a bright future,

Ray Blanco

