

How Temporally and Spiritually Self-Reliant Are You?

	Never	Rarely	Sometimes	Often	Always
I have the skills to provide for my needs
I and my family have a budget and follow it
I save money
I have 3-month's expenses saved
I am free of debt (except education or a home)
I have a job or work that provides for my needs
If married, my spouse and I are on the same page financially
I have adequate health and life insurance
I am investing money towards my future needs
I am worthy of a temple recommend
I pay tithing and fast offerings
I take the sacrament weekly
I pray and study the scriptures daily
My life is centered on things that matter most

Ponder: Are there other things you need to change to become more self-reliant?
What will your life be like as you improve the items above?

To find out about each of these groups and consider joining, plan to attend a fireside held in the chapel of the stake center on March 7, 2019 @ 7:00 pm (casual dress).
