A WYSIWYG (What You See is What You Get) editor is used to customize the content of your Rental Agreement. Your Rental Agreement consists of static content that you can type or paste directly into the editor, and merge tags that pull dynamic content from the system. Merge tags are explained in greater detail below.

A few tips about adding content to your template...

1. In general text from Microsoft Word can be cut / paste directly into the editor. However, at times a bunch of junk formatting from Word will carry over that will screw up your template. If that happens, copy the contents to a text editor first like Notepad and then copy / paste into the template. That will assure a clean import.
2. The "Source" button will show you the actual source formatting code. If you are experiencing issues with formatting many times digging into the source will help you delete unnecessary formatting.
3. [clogo] will allow you to display your logo in the template, if a logo has been uploaded within the Important Settings area of the application.

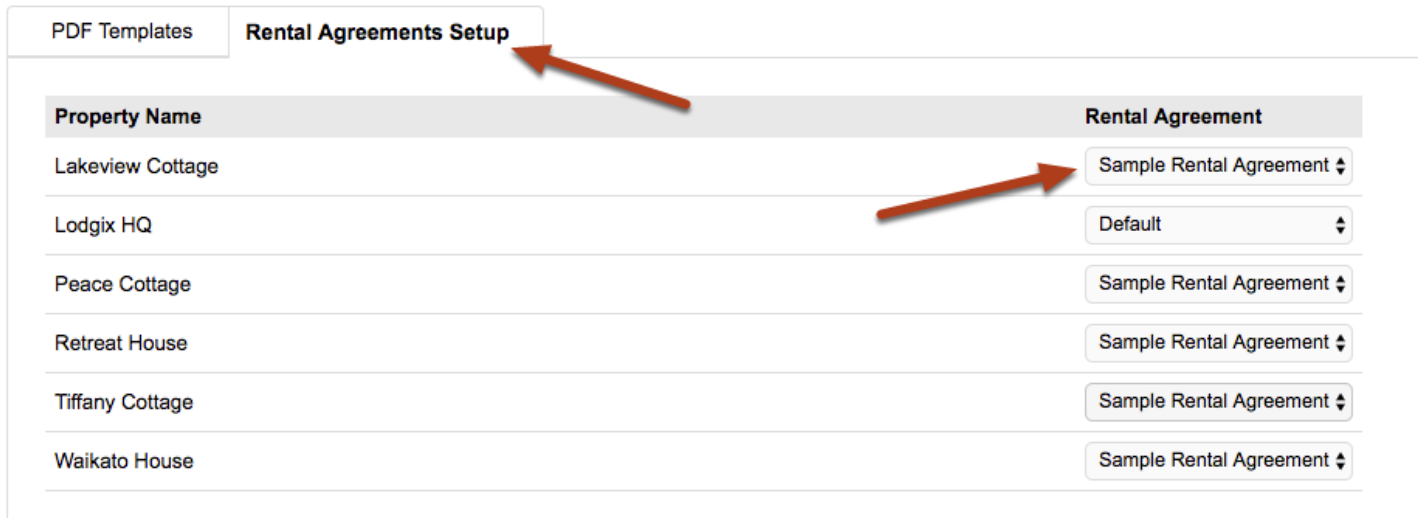

Working with Merge Tags

You can use merge tags to pull data directly from the database to populate the templates. Merge tags can pull Company, Guest, Property, and Reservation specific information and dynamically insert it into your template. For example, you can insert the name of the guest into the document using the [GUESTFIRSTNAME][GUESTLASTNAME] merge tags.

Each merge tag has a short description to aid in finding the correct merge tag to use for your template. If you can't determine which merge tag is the correct one, a good way to test is to choose a merge tag, save the template and then generate a test pdf or go to an invoice and generate a live PDF to determine whether the PDF output is what you require.

Assign Different Rental Agreements to Different Properties
