

Third Grade News

January 22-25

Schedule is subject to change at any time

Math: Fractions

Essential Question: How can fractions be modeled, compared, ordered, and named?

I can statements:

- I can divide a whole into unit fractions based on the number of sharers.
  - I can compose a whole from unit fractions.
  - I can prove that fractions are equivalent on the number line.
  - I can name a fraction in many ways.
- ***Keep reviewing clocks and elapsed time

Science:

We will be taking a break from Science Fair this week to collect materials for each Project.

This week we will start our unit on plants.

I will be out Thursday and Friday!
Please remind students to be on their best behavior.

Literacy:

Walk to Read: Martin Luther King Jr.

Read Aloud: Sarah Plain and Tall

Comprehension Skill: Point of View

Vocabulary: plain, wretched, pesky

Language: Adverbs

Writing: Reflective Narratives

Spelling: Four more ways to spell /oo/
u, ui, ou, uCe

Words to work with at home: juice, fruit, soup,

youth, ruby, rumor, rule, tube

Red word: neither, either

Homophones: choose/chews

Tests: Spelling

Daily Grades will be taken in most subjects.

Weekly Information:

Nettleton STEAM
3801 Vera Street
Jonesboro, Arkansas 72401

Phone: 870-910-7809

Current Project

Science Fair Projects

Reminder:

send empty shoe boxes, paper towel/toilet paper rolls, empty containers, tissue paper