Spotlight on Research

Our first year students are completing the fall semester of Project Based Research. Students have explored various diseases and health conditions to understand types of infections, how illnesses are spread and ways to prevent outbreaks. This information will help students select a special area of focus for the spring semester in which students will showcase personally created projects on Exhibition Day on Friday, May 11th.

Spreading Christmas Cheer

Our first year students attended clinicals this week and surprised many residents with handmade Christmas cards. We were also able to provide several residents with socks and slippers, donated by GWAHCA students, to spread a little holiday cheer to our long term care nursing facilities. We value these partnerships and enjoy attending weekly clinicals at Ridgecrest and St. Catherine's.
