

Bloodborne Pathogens Quiz

BLR's Safety Training Presentations

Name: _____ Date: _____

1. The risk of exposure to bloodborne pathogens is only possible when blood is present in the body fluid.
True or False
2. The two regulated pathogens of concern are _____ and _____.
3. The term OPIM refers to Obvious Probability of Infectious Material.
True or False
4. Treating all body fluids as infected is known as _____ precautions.
5. Hepatitis B vaccinations do not have to be offered to occupationally exposed employees.
True or False
6. Three ways to reduce the risk of exposure to bloodborne pathogens are:

7. If employees are potentially exposed to bloodborne pathogens as part of their duties, the company is required to have an exposure control plan.
True or False
8. Items to be disposed of that contain potentially infectious materials must be treated as _____.
9. Medical records must be kept for three years past the termination of employment. True or False
10. Two types of records required to be maintained under the Bloodborne Pathogen Standard are _____ and _____ records.