FFA News

By: FFA Members

On Thursday, September 23rd, members of our local FFA Chapter attended Agtropolis at the Oklahoma State Fair. Our members worked various exhibits that included "Farmer for a Day", a farmer's market, the welcome desk, assisting with "Snickers" the milk cow, bottle feeding calves, and observing piglets being born. Once the fair concluded, our local chapter was gifted the pig and her piglets to care for. Mr. Bohn also met with a bee-keeper and is making plans to implement a bee farm within our program.

Our members also traveled to Jahn's Pumpkin Patch on Wednesday the 29th to help unload pumpkins and assist Ms. Jahn in whatever work was necessary to prepare for opening day @ Jahn's Pumpkin Patch.

Our local chapter suffered the loss of many of our chickens that we were raising outside. There was an animal attack and unfortunately many of our chickens did not survive. Our program was gifted more chickens after the conclusion of the fair to replace the loss of our flock.

Clift Notes

As we come upon the ending of the 1st 9 weeks, I believe things are off to a good and smooth start. One concern with the starting of school was how the school was going to handle things with COVID again. Last year was a challenging year, but we survived and this year, with guidance and with having been through it once, some experience, the battles are handled with care and with ease. I just want to also commend and thank the staff of Cement School for always going above and beyond for our students, even though the task of juggling distance learning and in-school learning is a challenging one. I still believe that this year will be the best year ever at Cement Schools, and so far we are off to a great start. I also want to thank Mrs. Samantha McLendon for getting off to a great start as PreK-12th principal. We have lots of new faces this year and some old faces in new places, but we believe that we have the most dedicated group of teachers, support staff, and administrators anyone can find in Oklahoma.
