

Promotion and Retention of Students

IKE

Retention of students shall occur only after a complete review of the situation by the teacher, principal, parent, and counselor. Retention should occur only if, in their opinion, retention would improve the academic achievement of the student.

When retention is being considered, the teacher must confer with the student's parents well before the end of the school year.