GENERAL INFORMATION: Football requires many individual skills that must be practiced regularly. It takes hours of instruction to master the basic fundamentals on which the game is built.

Under the supervision of qualified instructors, campers will be taught all aspects of the game and will have the opportunity to practice these important techniques daily. The Brock Football Camp will also emphasize the basic elements of stance, starts, passing, punting, pass catching, ball handling, snapping the ball and the individual defense. Physical development and the value of team play will receive special attention. Campers will have the opportunity to evaluate their performance through consultation with the instructors.
