

US History AMI days 11-15

If you haven't turned in days 2-10, please do so as soon as possible. You can turn in hard copies to the file cabinet located at the high school OR take a picture of your pages and text or email them to me. MAKE SURE YOUR NAME AND THE AMI DAY IS ON THEM!

Day 11: (Read them all as you may want to do them at the same time)

Make a list of the Top Ten most important events in US history in your opinion (1 being the most important). Briefly explain why you chose each one.

Day 12:

Ask a parent, or anyone of an older generation (Grandma and Grandpa would love it if you called, just saying), what they think are the Top Ten most important events in US history. Write down their answers. Discuss with them what your lists had in common and different.

Day 13:

A Heritage Recipe is a made-from-scratch, handed down through the years, family recipe. What is your favorite heritage recipe? Call the person who makes it and ask for the recipe. Write down the recipe making sure you include all the ingredients, measurements, and step by step instructions. (Read back over it and make sure I could follow it if I chose to make it. There's actually a really good chance I will since I am sick of cooking the same old things.) Trust me you will be glad to have this someday. IF you can't get a heritage recipe, any recipe you like will do.

Day 14:

Write a paragraph answering this prompt: "What is your favorite family tradition?" If you don't really have any family traditions then you can write a paragraph describing a tradition you would like to start when you have a spouse and kids of your own. (5 or more sentences)

Day 15:

I know we only got up to the early 60's in our lessons, but using what you know, write a paragraph answering this prompt: "If you could live in any other decade, which one would it be and why?" Would the Roaring 20's suit you? Would you have sock-hopped to Elvis in the 50's? There's no wrong answer, just tell me why that era would suit your personality.
