T. G. Givens Early Childhood Center has a quarantine fake parent pick up line.

On Friday, March 27th T. G. Givens Early Childhood Center showed their students how much they were missed by forming a quarantine fake parent pick up line. The Givens staff lined up at an appropriate social distance around the pick up lane from 11:00 – 11:30. Parents were able to pick their child's lunch/breakfast up and then drive around to the front where the staff were eagerly awaiting their arrival. The students and staff were so excited to see each other. There were lots of smiles from staff, students and parents and even some tears from all.

Givens student Braylan Shirey is greeted by Principal Sheila Ensey, Early Childhood Specialist Kim Miller and Officer Brad Ruthart.

Gavin Plata waves to his teacher.

Teacher Monica Rhodes tells one of her students that she can not wait to zoom with him and the rest of his classmates next week.
