Justiss Elementary kicks off Red Ribbon Week with an Assembly and Parade

Justiss Elementary proved “Drug Free Looks Like Me” and kicked off Red Ribbon Week at their Friday assembly and school parade. Paris High students visited to speak to the students about the dangers of drugs, the good reasons to just say no, and what the future holds when you keep your body clean and healthy!

The Paris High School Drumline led the Justiss students in a “Drug Free Looks Like Me” parade around the school.
