Justiss promotes Red Ribbon Week and drug-free activities

Justiss Elementary School conducted a full week of Red Ribbon Week activities beginning with a kick-off assembly featuring a presentation by Paris High School students.

Photographed (top left) are cheerleaders Lauren Madding, Meghan Chapman, Katy Chaix, and volleyball player Lindi Hamner who spoke about the dangers of harmful drugs. Football player Jordan Williams awarded 3rd grader Jordan Williams a prize for answering a drug awareness trivia question correctly.

First grade teacher Jeri Brakebill and her students, Jameriyia Moore, Blayne McCormack, and Aiden O'Dell proudly teamed up against drugs and donned their favorite team shirts.

On Friday, the entire student body joined PE teacher Penny Cox in a THRILLER flash mob to “Dance Away From Drugs” before the Annual Drug Free Parade led by the Paris High School Drumline.
