Paris High School varsity girls basketball team donates items

The Paris High School varsity girls basketball team donated items for the children at the Truman Smith Children's Care Center in Gladewater. Coach Deanne Dial takes the team there each year in remembrance of her special needs nephew that passed away in 2013. Coach Dial said, "They visited with the children and sang Christmas carols to them. They did an amazing job! It was such a humbling experience for the girls to be able to bless these children during the holiday season."
