ADMINISTRATION

Dear Seniors,

Many times we have heard that "birds of a feather flock together" or "a person is known by the company he keeps."

If one has the good fortune to associate with friends who are in many ways superior to him, it is the easy natural thing for him to move upward, but if one chooses evil, indolent or irresponsible companions, he is almost certain to slide toward lower levels of conduct.

For the sake of one's own satisfaction, his own prestige, and of his effectiveness as a citizen, it is highly desirable that he add knowledge and skill to his good intentions. Without the lofty purposes, there is no foundation upon which either friendship, character, or public service can be built. But with good intentions plus skill, efficiency, determination, and training, one may travel a road that leads not to disappointment and failure in life, but to the satisfaction of every reasonable and worthwhile undertaking.

Sincerely,

Elo Rohde

Senior Class Prophecy

I was very elated to learn that I had been chosen the winner of a trip to the moon.

After boarding the moon rocket I was informed that its pilot was Gus Kautz and navigator was Malcolm Skalitsky. The smiling stewardess was Dorothy Seidel.

Immediately after arrival I rushed to a telephone to call Earth. Searching through the complicated directory, I happened upon the author's name: Everett Wied. Beginning my search anew, an advertisement caught my eye. It read, "For the best music from out of this world, call Edwin Kubena." Another advertisement read, "For the best mashed potatoes on the moon visit the Jean Stoelke Cafeteria." Continuing in the yellow pages, I noticed a health bar operated by Wayne Burnside, a rocket service station operated by Leonard Dominey, dancing classes instructed by Verlyne Krause and August Aschenbeck, and a resort "Shores of the Cummins Creek" owned by Billie Coufal and Sylvester Schmitt.

Having finally found the desired number, I dialed the operator. A picture of the exchange flashed across the screen showing Nollie Elsik (the operator) being serenaded by the moon famous crooner, Norman Schulze.

Returning to the yellow pages I found another interesting ad. "For the latest dope in town, come to the Swap Shop." On my way to the Shop, I passed a poster announcing a revival held by Dale Heinsohn that evening.

The Swap Shop turned out to be a large bare room where gossip items were swapped. Swapping tales at the moment were Thomas Chovanec, owner and operator of the establishment, and a hermit from a distant crater, Thomas Sarrazin.

The stories converted me, Jo Ann Galle, a simple Earthling, into a happy moon dweller.

F. F. A. News

The Fayetteville Chapter of the Future Farmers of America began its new year with Gus Kautz as its president, followed by the election of the following officers:

Vice President .....	Edwin Kubena
Secretary .....	El Gene Weyand
Treasurer .....	August Aschenbeck
Reporter .....	Wayne Burnside
Sentinel .....	Everett Wied

A barbecue was prepared by the chapter for the members, their dates and the chapter's honorary members. The barbecue was served in the Public School Gymnasium on November 11.

Jean Stoelke, a senior, was elected as our sweetheart. The contest was held during the month of October, with the results being announced at the F.F.A. Barbecue.

The Chapter members had three teams participating in the District Leadership Contest, they were; Senior Farm Skills, Junior Chapter Conducting, and F.F.A. Quiz. The Junior Chapter Conducting team placed first in district and area and competed in the State Contest.

A donkey basketball game will be held in the gymnasium on February 24. Our barn dance, an annual affair, is being planned for May 4. The proceeds from these events will go toward a summer tour to distant parts of the United States.

The planning of a Father and Son Banquet for April is underway.

We, the members of the Fayetteville Future Farmers Chapter and our advisor, Mr. Jeff Farris, extend our hardy thanks and express our appreciation for the financial and moral support which our fellow citizens have given us. Our chapter can only be as good as the support it receives from the community.

Basketball News

The Fayetteville Lions started their first practice session of the 1959-1960 season on October 6, 1959. Five lettermen, Wayne Burnside, Gus Kautz, Edwin Kubena, Dale Heinsohn, and Norman Schulze have returned from last year. The first four, plus August Aschenbeck, have alternated as co-captains this season.

So far this season, the Lions have lived up to expectations. The record as of February 1, 1960 stands at 26 victories and 3 losses. Chances for winning the district title look good although we are tied for first place with RT-C.

The Lions have also copped two trophies. A championship trophy was won by the victorious five in the Rock Island Tournament. The same five copped the Consolation Trophy in the Sheridan Tournament.
