Superintendent's Message

Dear Seniors,

You have come to the end of your high school education. Congratulations to you.

Most of you are now ready to start on a college education or some of you will possibly start on your life's vocation. Whichever choice you make will be your own decision and you will be on your own. No longer will you be able to stay with the parents that took care of you in your teen-age years.

Your success depends on what you make it. Set your goal high and keep steadily working towards that goal.

Sincerely,

Elo Rohde

Elo Rohde, Supt.

Principal's Message

Seniors, success is that something which most people strive to achieve. Success need not be measured in terms of dollars and cents. There are other great values which are more worthy to strive for and which will in the end bring greater satisfaction to one's soul than all the other types of worldly glory. Lose yourselves in the limitless service to humanity and you need not worry about success; it will take care of your fame.

The time has almost come for your parting with your Alma Mater after having spent four enjoyable but busy years within her confines. It is hoped that you are taking along with you some worth-while learning you have acquired within her walls. May this learning spread before your feet an everlasting ray of light for the rest of your days.

Jesse J. Jocker

Der Deutsche Erinnerungkreis Der Fayetteville Hoch Schule

The Fayetteville High School German Club has developed quite a reputation for singing. It has appeared at a recital and talent show in Industry, Texas. Also included in its singing appearances is the annual "Saengerfest" held in Shelby each September with German singing groups. The Fayetteville High School German Club appeared with groups from Shelby, Bellville, Houston, San Antonio, and other places. At Christmas of 1962 the German Club visited shut-ins and aged people to sing carols and songs for them. It also appeared in numerous school functions.

Class Prophecy

I arrived in Fayetteville by Transcontinental Airways. The pilot was an old classmate, Roy Gene Koehl, who I learned had quite a reputation with the airline hostesses.

As I came into the business district of Fayetteville, I noticed the addition of several new buildings. Even though it was rather late, a large number of cars were parked around one of these buildings. On top of the building I noticed a huge neon sign saying, "The Dark Bar." Proprietor--Connie Halamichek.

Upon entering the bar, I had to strike a match to find my way around. Finally I located Connie who was busy behind the bar mixing drinks. While chatting with her, I learned that she was married and was doing very well with her night club. She also told me that tonight she had one of the best bands in the country playing. It seems that my old classmate, Elvis Schulze, was the leader of this band.

I went back to the band room in the night club where I watched Elvis perform. He hadn't changed much since high school. He was beating out a wild rhythm with one hand while he had the other around a striking blond. Suddenly, two of Connie's customers started a ruckus. Immediately a tall muscular fellow separated them and bounced them out. It was Glenn Royce Weyand, now sheriff of Fayetteville.

It was getting late so I decided I had better try to find a room for the night. Crossing the street, I had to jump back to avoid being run over by a fire engine red convertible. It was filled with girls and the driver was none other than Edward Sklar.

Walking down the street, I came to a plush hotel. Upon entering I found Waldine Weyand as the receptionist. She told me that Gene Moellenberg, the proprietor, was on a safari in Africa and wouldn't return for a couple of weeks. While Waldine and I were talking, a young man wearing a red sports jacket, pink shirt with a maroon tie, white shoes, and sun glasses strolled into the lobby. I recognized him as John James. John told me he went to Hollywood with his guitar a few years back and had been an instant success. His singing had gained him five golden records, and he was now starring in a "Tarzan" movie. John also told me that the movie was directed by Daniel Kuehn, who had just come back from his honeymoon with his French movie star bride.

The next morning I was awakened by loud cheering and hollering from outside. Looking out of my window I saw a Fayetteville school bus outside surrounded by cheering people. Upon further inquiry I learned that the Fayetteville High School coach, Victor Ray Havran, had just returned from the State Meet. It was Victor's fourth straight State title.

Dressing quickly I hurried down to congratulate Victor. Upon entering the street I saw a snappy little sports car convertible go by. Victor said it probably was Richard Hornak, just checking one of his many watch shops he owned.

The cheering crowd around us suddenly stopped as a huge black Rolls Royce pulled up. A distinguished looking gentleman was escorted up to us by the chauffeur. It was Donald Heinsohn, now a famous novelist. Donald told us he had just come back from a Political Dinner Party given in honor of the new G.O.P. nominee for president, the silver tongued politician, Elsworth Buttles.

While I was talking to Donald and Victor, a huge truck rolled down the street and on the side of the truck, written in huge letters, were the words "Shirley's Beer--Refreshingly Light--Brewed in Shiner, Texas." Victor then told me that Shirley Gebhard had married a beer tycoon from Shiner and he had named the beer after her.

After chatting a while with Victor and Donald I started walking back to my hotel. On the way back I noticed a car standing next to the curb. On it was the lettering "Doris' Driving School." I then recognized Doris Mae Dominey sitting in the car. After talking to her I learned that the only person of my old senior class who I hadn't seen or heard about was Leonard Coufal. So I asked Doris Mae about him. She said that he was doing very well with his cattle and dude ranch combination.

Now, having visited all my old classmates, I, Larry Treybig, am ready to leave from Fayetteville International Airport by Transcontinental Airways, both of which I own. I will return to my French wife, Angelique, who was Miss France of 1964. I will then begin negotiations for buying U.S. Steel.

Come See Us!

We, the graduating class of 1963, wish to take this opportunity to express our sincere gratitude and appreciation to all of the businesses which placed ads in this twenty-sixth edition of the Bluebonnet.

Without your support this publication would not have been possible. This community cooperation is essential for the success of any of the endeavors of the school.
