Dedication

We wish to dedicate this 1967 Lion to all Seniors of the past, present, and future years. To some students, being a Senior means that a part of their life has been lived, and part of their goal achieved. To others, it means merely getting out of school and on their own. But, it is the greater person who continues to work and strive hard for his set goal.

Graduation marks the end of a wonderful part of one's life; but at the same time, the beginning of an even more important part, for in a very short while, the Seniors of today will truly be the leaders of tomorrow.

Upon graduating, the 1967 Annual Staff urges each student to learn to accept responsibility and to work for what he wants most out of life, with divine guidance and leadership. By doing this, you will receive a great deal of satisfaction and rewards.

Dear Students,

This was our first opportunity to serve any school as administrators. We are indeed happy that we could have had you as our first students to administer. We are sure we have made mistakes; we are also sure that by experience we learn and grow; therefore, we hope that next year we will make fewer mistakes wherever we are.

Some of you are seniors. This means that after this school year, you will no longer be here, but will represent your school wherever you go. We hope you seniors will earnestly become a part of everyone you meet. We hope that this "part" will reveal what all the teachers have tried to do the past twelve years. Good luck, seniors, in your environment of learning or working, and God Bless You.

The rest of you students will be back again next year. As administrators, we hope that you will give yourself a chance to broaden your horizons in all fields. Don't be satisfied with an average "education." Do your utmost to learn all you can. You cannot make up a day lost; it is lost forever.

Be proud of your character; live up to high morals, and good luck.

Mrs. J. D. Odstrcil, Sec.

It's a Date Senior Play

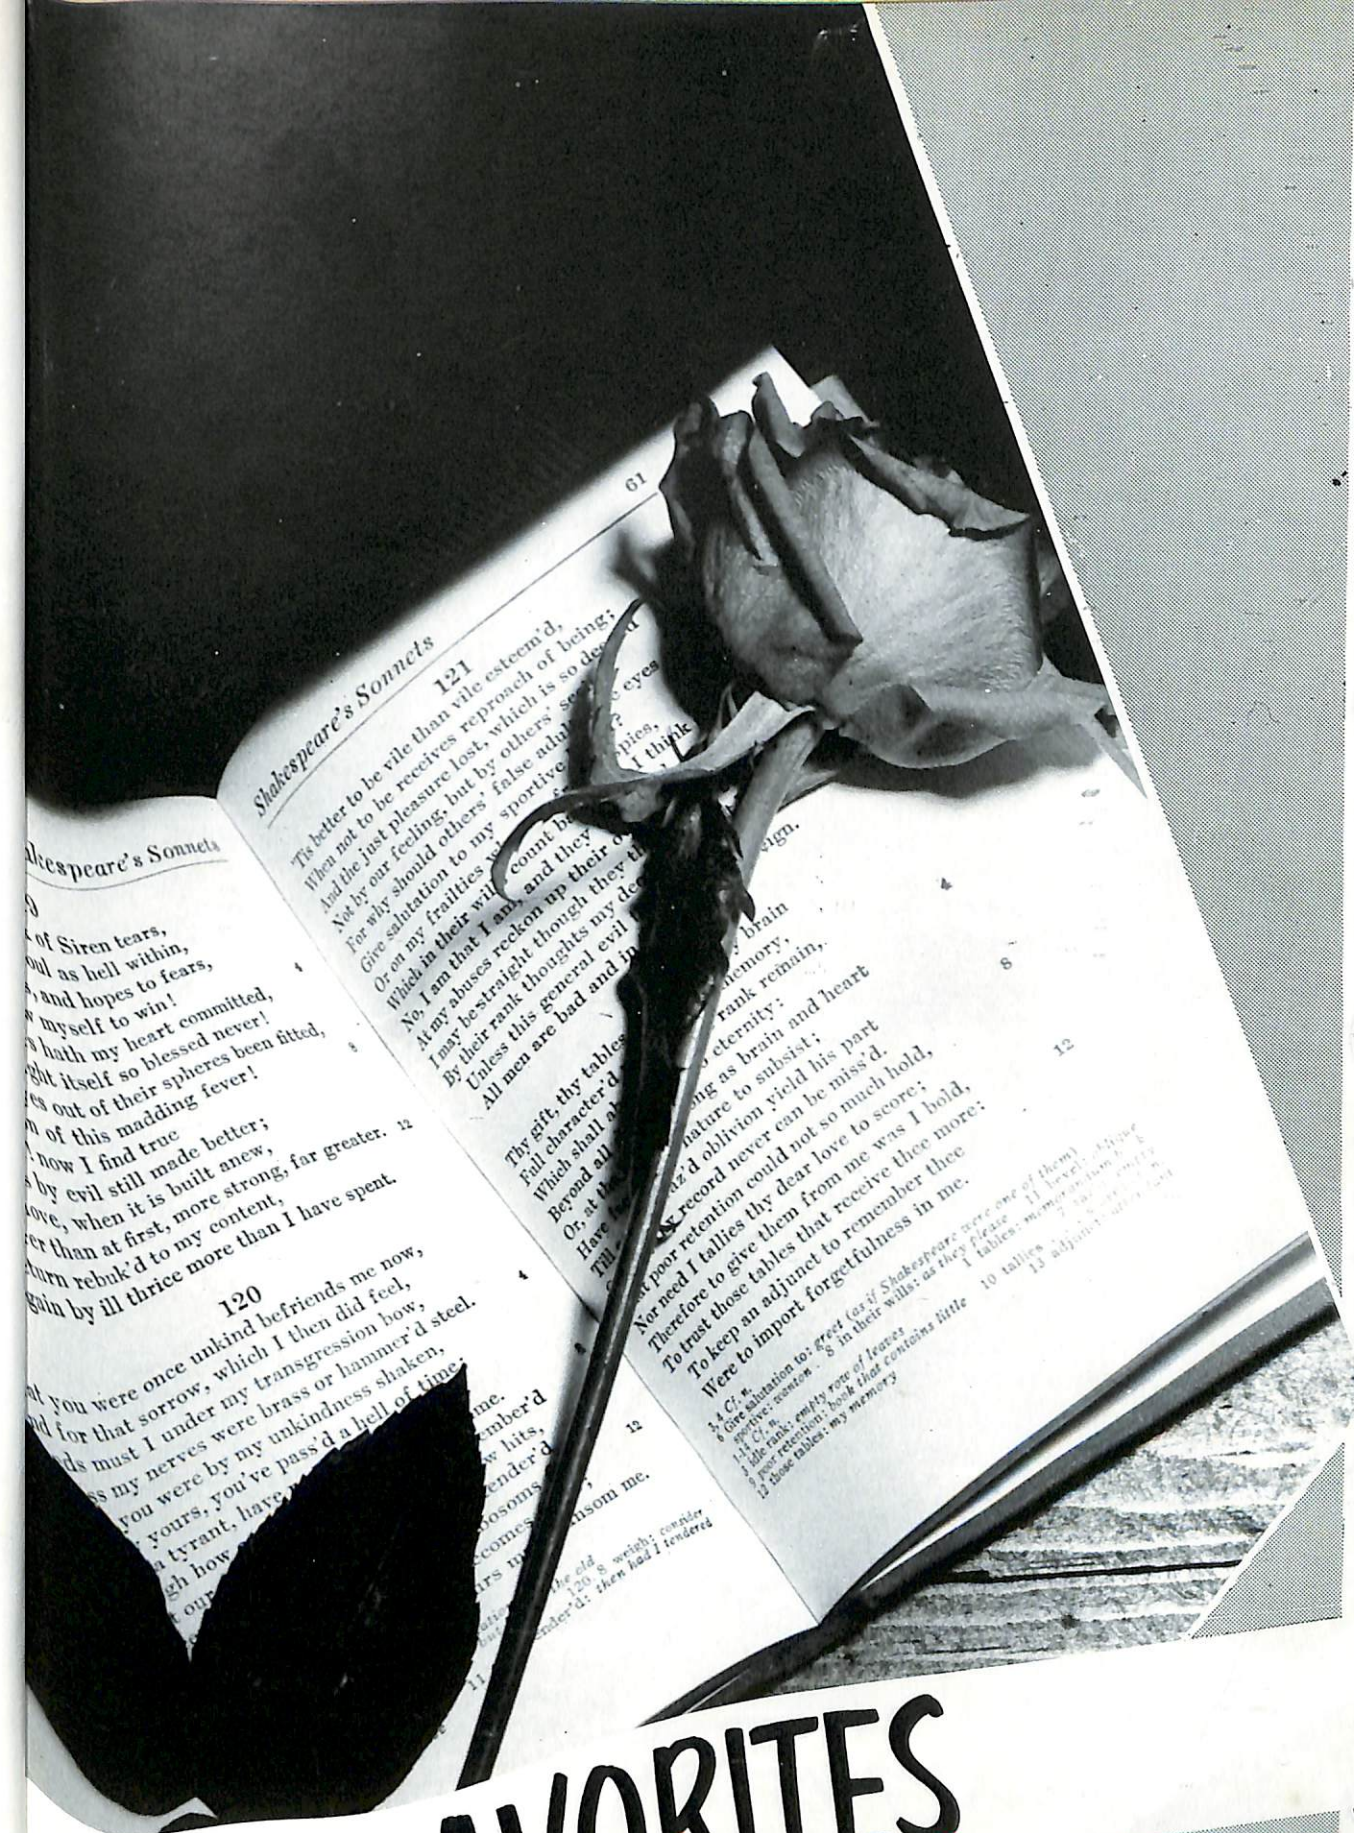

It's a Date is a comedy play in three acts.

Linda Rogers is to have a date with Austin Farrell for the dance. Diana Gordon, Austin's steady, comes around on the last minute and drags Austin away. Linda pays Diana back by nominating Hal Montgomery for class president.

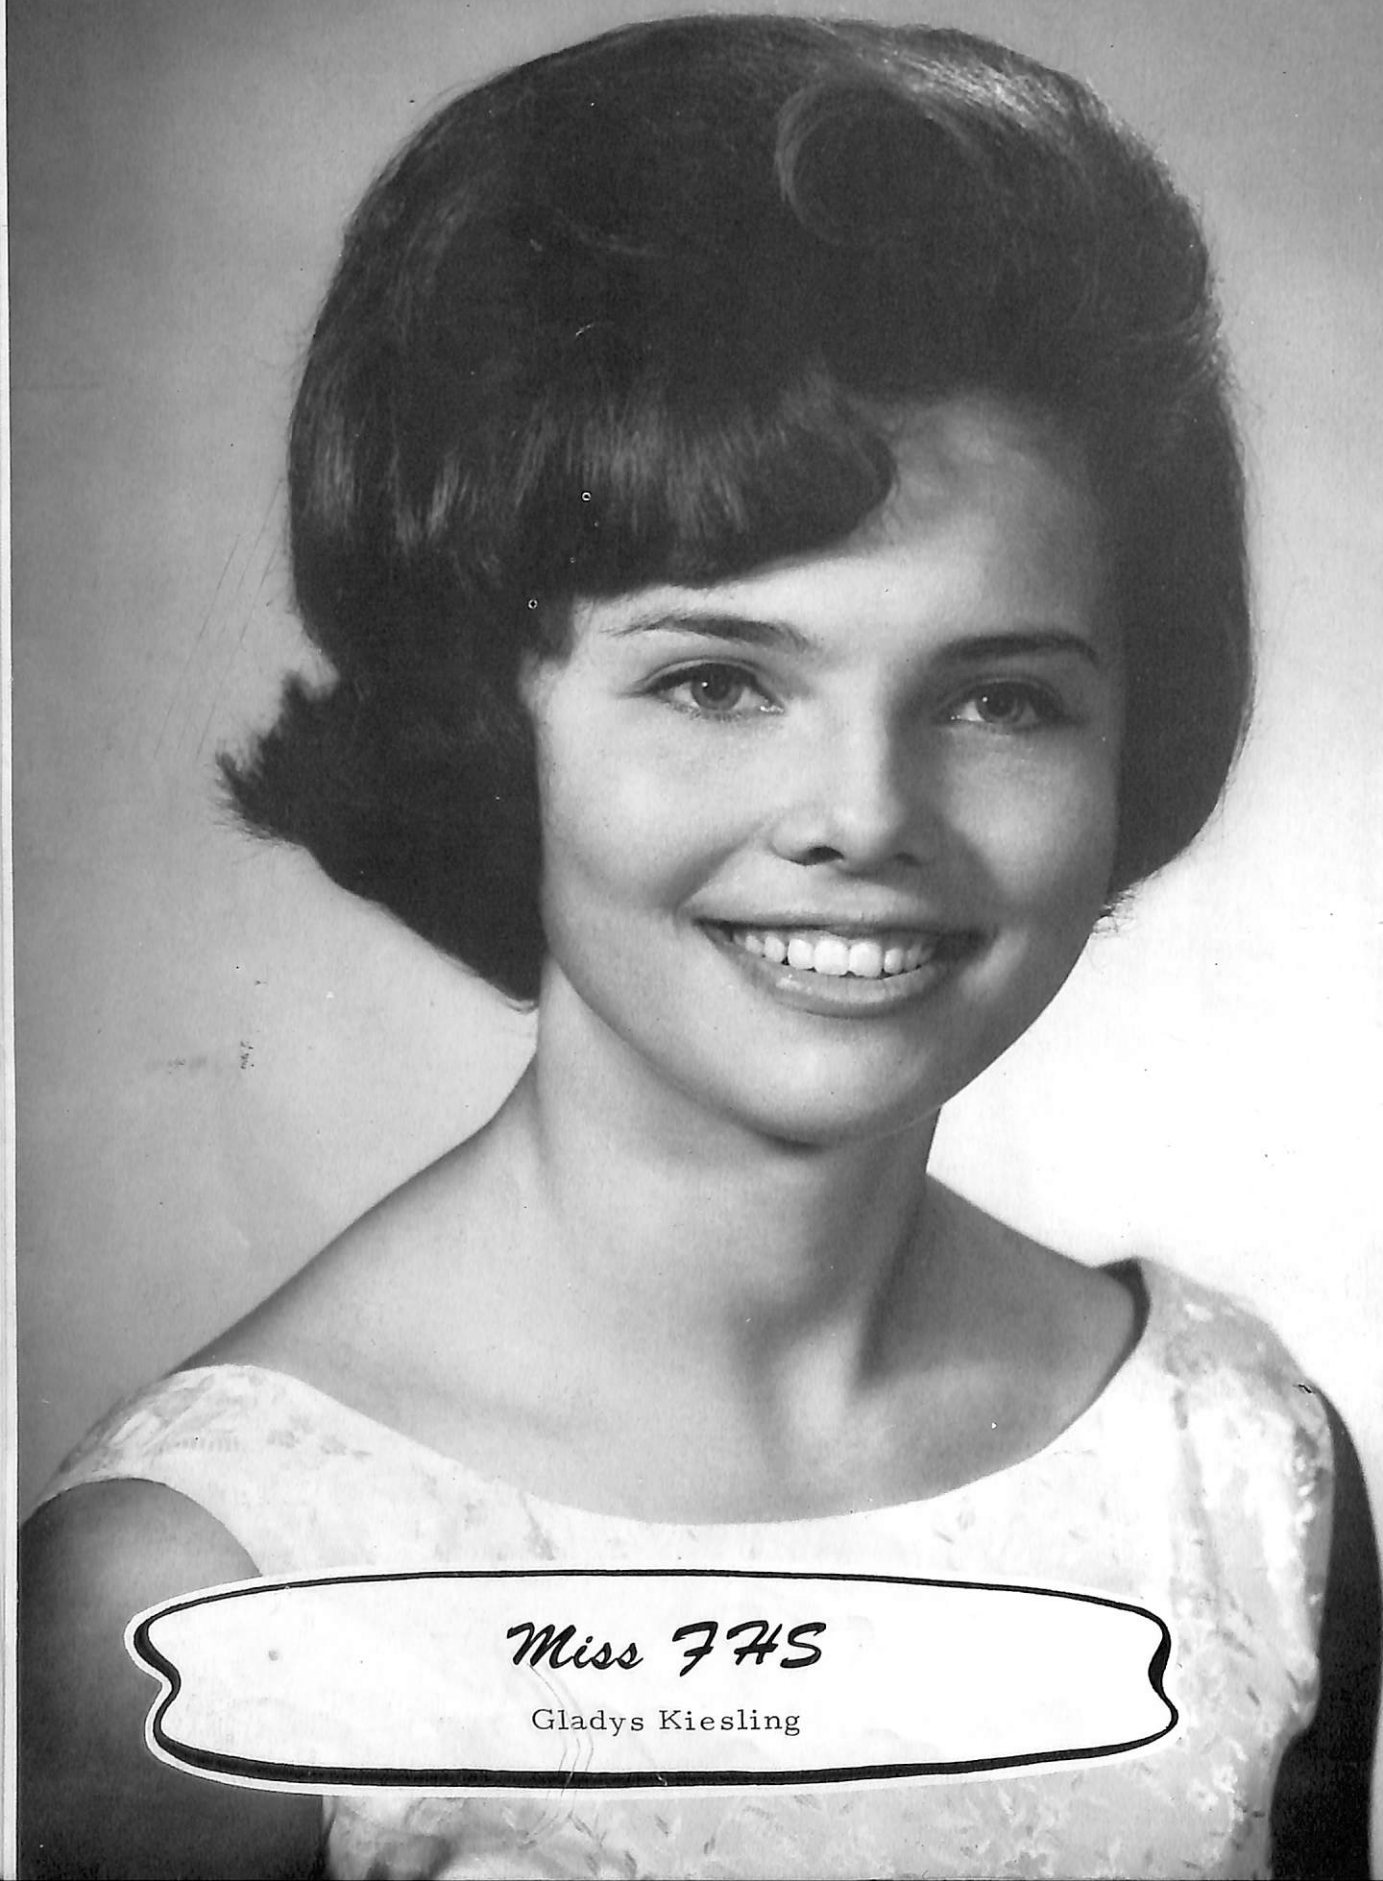

Diana has a date with Hal to the Election dance. Linda has a date with Austin. At the last minute they exchange partners. Linda said she would go with the class president and she did.

Mrs. Brookmeyer will be in the library every evening for one hour for three hours on Saturday evenings. Children should come and ask to Mrs. Brookmeyer and she will be glad to help all of the naturally deprived children with their problems. Any other children also come for help.

A secretary/bookkeeper has been hired for office help. The N.Y.C. program and the programs under it would not be too hard to show that 80%-90% qualify for help. children come from homes where German or Czech are still spoken. This is a handicap in most cases and can be corrected if the child will train diligently. Tape recorders will be used and the child will be able to hear his own voice and from having heard his own voice the student will be able to correct his mistakes. Library books will be purchased on both Title I & Title II.

A teacher aide has been hired to help the elementary teachers at the elementary school. Typing sessions will be held and possibly a snack will be provided for the children. Arrangements for this school will be set during the last part of April or the early part of May.
