Dr. Amy McCready
Director of Adult and Community Education

Dr. Amy McCready is in her 29th year in public education and 16th with Union Public Schools. She received her Bachelor's of Science degree from the University of Nebraska in Lincoln, Nebraska. She received her Master's in Education with an emphasis in Sports Management from the University of Kansas in Lawrence, KS and her Administrative Certification from the University of Missouri in Kansas City. McCready completed her Ed.D. at Oklahoma State University in Tulsa in 2020.

While at Union, McCready has served as Director of Union's spirit programs, Assistant Principal at the Intermediate High School, Assistant Principal at the Alternative School and Principal of the ASPIRE Program. She is currently serving as the Director of Adult and Community Education.

Before coming to Union, McCready was at Blue Valley Northwest High School in Overland Park, Kansas, for 13 years, where she taught math and was an Assistant Principal. She was recognized as a Teacher of the Month, TeenInk Honorable Mention Educator of the Year, and a Top Dawg in Teaching.

McCready's interests include spending time with her husband, Matt, who is Union's Director of Fine Arts, and with friends and family. She also enjoys playing trumpet and piano, supporting the Jayhawks and traveling.
