

Lesson 26: Doer/Action Pairs

Analogies can be used to compare different doers and actions to each other.

Key to Solving

How are these words related?

guard, protect

An action that a guard does is to protect.

What does a librarian do? A librarian categorizes books.

We can make an analogy to compare the two word pairs:

Guard is to protect as librarian is to categorize.

Directions: The first two words name a person and an action he or she performs. Darken the circle for the word that best describes the action of the other person listed.
