During this time of Distance Learning, the Antlers Public Schools would like to assure parents of children with special needs that their child will continue to receive those services. The special education director and teachers have been in contact with all service providers and are working to contact parents. These service providers are working to find the best way to serve these students and assist with distance learning. If you have a student with special needs and have not been contacted, please contact your child's building principal by telephone or email. Please leave your updated contact information so that they can get you in contact with the appropriate provider. You can also contact Special Education Director, Amy Kitchens, by telephone or email.

Sincerely,

Bryan McNutt, Superintendent
Antlers Public Schools
