

From Dr. Bauter

On Thursday I made a student announcement about the Floral students being invited to a floral trade show in Tyler. They spent the day with an internationally experienced designer who was responsible for inaugural balls of George HW Bush (41) and Clinton. It was a great experience for the students, who were invited to help prepare for that trade show. As a result of the trade show, the students have invitations to work (for pay) at a Longview florist as seasonal help around Valentine's Day. All of this is because of an outstanding number of floral certifications earned last year.

Success (12 floral certs) breeds success (invitation to trade show, then job offers).

Marcus Allen knows. The Band's success this year also tells the story. The varsity boys' basketball team is having a winning season. Keep working hard, and pursue excellence. Let's make Big Sandy a Big Deal!

If you haven't heard me say it, I LOVE being your principal! If you've made me laugh, sang me a song, given me a high five or a quick hug in the hall, or made me smile as I watch you learn in the classroom, thank you. Y'all are awesome kids.

Go Wildcats!

Procedural

Not on the list 🙅🙅🙅 up there? Not among the 55 on the A/B honor roll? Turn in all work on time, every time!

Don't forget to get a parking permit when you start driving to school!!!

Nothing is impossible; the word itself says, "I'm possible."

For Real, People!

Seniors

COME TO SCHOOL. Why?

1. You can't graduate if you don't have your credits.
2. You can't get your credits if you aren't here to do the work.
3. Loss of Credit law forbids me from granting credit even if you pass the class, if you don't attend 90% of the time the class meets.
4. Es la ley. (You passed Spanish, right?)
5. Your attendance rate is very low as a class.
Remember, you should be practicing how to be GOOD employees, not how to get fired!
