

January 2019

We have received our Autumn Box Tops for Education contest money. The grand total is $260. The money will be used to buy books by some popular middle school authors and add to our elementary choices. The second and fifth grade classes will get preference because they brought the majority of the Box Tops in October.

Please continue to save Box Tops for our Spring Box Tops Contest, which will be the month of February because the national deadline is March 1. However, instead of the class that brings the most Box Tops winning the party, the first class to bring 500 Box Tops will win the party. This way we hope to create some competition among the classes and some new interest in Box Tops collections.

Get your entire family involved in Box Tops collection. Ask grandparents, aunts, and cousins to collect for you. Ask people at church to help you collect Box Tops. This way we get everyone involved, and our totals will be higher.

All of our 2018-2019 books bought with school money have arrived, have been processed, and have been put on the shelves. The elementary library got 114 new books, the middle school got 74 new books, and the high school got 104 new books. All of the first through seventh grade books have reading tests.
