Re: Scale Back of Remote Learning

Beginning October 5, 2020, Whitewright ISD will begin scaling back Remote Learning options. Students that were not successful with Remote Learning (failed one or more classes or has poor attendance) will no longer have the option to attend school remotely and will be required to attend in person, on campus, instruction. Remote learning over the past 6 weeks has proven not to be a successful option or educationally sound for some students. If your child is failing and you choose not to bring your student to school on October 5, 2020, the following are options for you:

1. Withdraw to Homeschool
2. Enroll in a Private School
3. Request a transfer to another school that offers remote learning.

If you choose to withdraw your student, please contact your student's campus administrator.

If your child has been successful in completing assignments as well as being present for attendance purposes, remote learning will remain an option for your child even though we would prefer to have your child attend in person daily. We will review academic success every three weeks to ensure continued success. Successful completion of work and good attendance will be reviewed.

As of September 30, 2020, we have had one student case of Covid 19. Whitewright ISD will keep safety a priority by continuing to wear masks, clean thoroughly multiple times a day, and continue to follow social distance guidelines wherever applicable. We will continue to do this as long as necessary to keep our children and staff safe.

Thank you for your support during this very trying time. We will continue to communicate updates to you as necessary. If you have any questions, please contact your campus principal.

Thank you,
