

IPHONE & IPAD TRICKS

1. On the iPad: Make typing more comfortable by switching your keyboard to thumb mode.

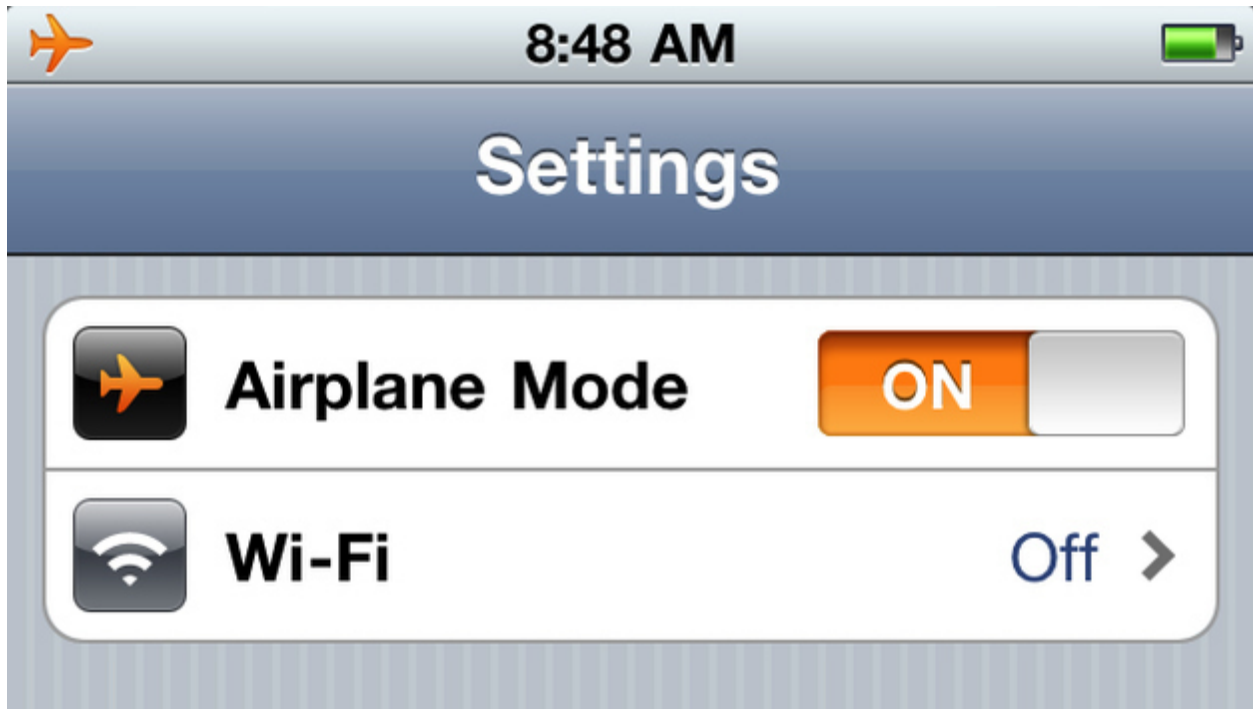

Change Your Keyboard From This:

To this:

2. If you put your phone on airplane mode, it will charge twice as fast.

3. In the Calculator app, remove an accidental number by swiping left to right.

4. Turn on Guided Access while a child is playing with your phone or iPad.

Guided Access keeps users from accidentally clicking or tapping within an app and ending up somewhere they aren't supposed to be, or deleting something accidentally.

First go to Settings.....General.....Accessibility.....Guided Access and turn it on. You will also want to turn on the Accessibility Shortcut.

Triple-click the home button in the app you want to turn it on for. From here you can choose any buttons that you don't want clicked. Or you can disable the home button while keeping the touchscreen on.

5. Take selfies using the remote on your earbuds.

Click the volume + button on the remote on your Apple or Apple-compatible earbuds while in camera mode to click and shoot, or the middle button (play/pause) while in video mode.

6. Quickly get to the Camera app without having to unlock your phone.

Swipe up on the camera icon in the bottom right corner of your home screen. The Camera app will open, bypassing the unlock screen.

This is especially handy when something incredibly photo-worthy is happening and you need to access your camera ASAP. This is GREAT when handing your phone to others to take a picture---they won't need to enter in your password.

7. You can use ANY Bluetooth keyboard with your iPhone or iPad.

8. Inside the Compass app there is a built-in level gauge.

Open up the Compass app and swipe to the left and you'll be at the level scree.

9. On the iPad: You can add more apps to the home row AND you can add folders.

You can fit a couple extra apps on the bottom dock (the default is four, but it fits six). Just click any app and hold until you get the jiggly icons.

10. Swipe right to left to get rid of a banner notification.

11. Use this simple Siri command for taking naps.

12. Outsmart your autocorrect by typing an extra letter when trying to spell a contraction.
