

BOE Report – Jason Townsend – Wellsville Elementary – 5/22/2017

State assessments went well throughout the month of April. Preliminary scores are starting to come in and I am pleased with the results. Our students did a great job putting forth some solid effort on these assessments.

We are excited about the direction that our tech integration is going. We will be getting several pieces of hardware that will help make information and learning accessible to more students.

Today (5/17) we presented many awards to students. One of my favorite awards to hand out is the citizenship awards. Character is important. Every student who received an award had an overall positive influence on others and always looks for the best in others. In this case, positivity won 10 out of 10 times.

The students, staff, and families (most of them ☺ ) are all ready for an important summer vacation. It is a great opportunity to hit the reset button and come back fresh in the fall. Positive things don't happen by accident. It takes the right group of people, with the right attitude, and a focus on the right things in helping us to move forward. As we end another great year – we are already looking forward to the start of another great year next fall.
