

BOE Report – 1/22/2018 – Jason Townsend – Wellsville Elementary

The winter break was great for all students and staff. The consensus amongst the parents was that they were ready for the kids to come back! There was a lot of sickness before break. Our maintenance staff did superb job in cleaning the facilities to get these “bugs” out of here.

I am hearing good feedback from the PD day we had on the 3rd of January. Many teachers from other districts commented on the good things they heard from our Wellsville staff. The word “lucky” was used a lot and I believe other communities are recognizing the positive things that are happening in our schools.

We had our Wellsville Elementary Spelling Bee on January 17th. It is awesome that the students have an academic area of competition. Sophia and Carter will be representing Wellsville Elementary in the Franklin County Spelling Bee on February 7th in Central Heights.

The elementary school will be having parent teacher conferences in February. It will be great to see the families as they come to visit about their child’s progress in school. As always, we aim to hit 100% family participation.
