“His First Assignment” by Ralph Henry Barbour, excerpted from “His First Assignment” as it appeared in The New Boy at Hilltop, and Other Stories by Ralph Henry Barbour (1870–1944). Published by D. Appleton and Co., 1910.
Section 1
Some people believe that cell phone use while driving should be banned. They argue that using a cell phone while driving causes drivers to be distracted, and this could lead to accidents. Others believe that the advantages of using cell phones while driving outweigh any possible risks. They argue that having the ability to call for directions or help is important. Although they are against banning cell phones while driving, they do advocate that all drivers should be aware of the possible distractions.

Write a persuasive essay taking a position on whether or not cell phones should be banned while driving. Be sure to support your position with reasons, examples, and/or personal experiences.

The Oak
by Alfred, Lord Tennyson

Live thy Life,
Young and old,
Like yon oak,
Bright in spring,
Living gold;
Summer-rich
Then; and then
Autumn-changed
Soberer-hued
Gold again.
All his leaves
Fall’n at length,
Look, he stands,
Trunk and bough
Naked strength.

The Democratic National Convention to nominate a candidate for the presidency was but a month away dissension threatened. A moderate man of views was favored by the East on the subject of currency reform; the West and the greater portion of the South stood unanimous for a politician whose success in the coming battle would presage the most radical of measures. Final disagreement between the Democrats of East and West meant certain victory for the Republican Party. Today all the country was asking whether the leaders had agreed on a nominee. If so, which one? The newspapers were hysterical in their demands for information; all day the wires leading to Washington had borne message after message imploring news, but only baseless rumors had sped back. Tom Collins, knowing all this, realized the hopelessness of his task.
