Physical Features of Latin America
Physical Features of Latin America
Climate Zones of Latin America

- Highlands
- Marine west coast
- Humid subtropical
- Mediterranean
- Arid
- Semi-arid
- Tropical wet and dry
- Tropical wet
Climate Zones of Latin America
Climate Zones of Latin America

- Highlands
- Marine west coast
- Humid subtropical
- Mediterranean
- Arid
- Semiarid
- Tropical wet and dry
- Tropical wet
Vegetation Zones of Latin America

Vegetation Zones
- Highlands
- Desert
- Desert scrub
- Temperate grassland
- Tropical grassland
- Chaparral
- Deciduous forest
- Coniferous forest
- Broadleaf evergreen forest

Lambert Azimuthal Equal-Area projection
Vegetation Zones of Latin America
Population Density of Latin America
Population Density of Latin America

Urban Population

Number of People
- Over 8,000,000
- 4,000,000–8,000,000
- 1,000,000–4,000,000
- 1,000,000–4,000,000

Population Density

Per sq. mi. | Per sq. km
--- | ---
Over 250 | Over 100
125–250 | 50–100
25–125 | 10–50
2–25 | 1–10
Under 2 | Under 1

© Teachers’ Curriculum Institute
Economic Activity of Latin America

Land Use
- Hunting and gathering
- Subsistence farming
- Commercial farming
- Livestock raising
- Commercial fishing
- Forestry
- Trade and manufacturing
- Little or no activity

Resources
- Coal
- Diamonds
- Hydroelectric power
- Iron
- Natural gas
- Petroleum (oil)
- Precious metals (gold, silver, copper)
- Uranium
Economic Activity of Latin America
Economic Activity of Latin America

Land Use
- Hunting and gathering
- Subsistence farming
- Commercial farming
- Livestock raising
- Commercial fishing
- Forestry
- Trade and manufacturing
- Little or no activity

Resources
- Coal
- Diamonds
- Hydroelectric power
- Iron
- Natural gas
- Petroleum (oil)
- Precious metals (gold, silver, copper)
- Uranium

© Teachers' Curriculum Institute