THE YOUNG COMPOSERS CONCERT

Mr. Allen Johnson is teaching performing arts to 7th-12th grade students at the Methodist Church. He greets the students with cool, loud music that gets them hyper and ready to work and have fun. The students are working on a talent show for the elementary students that will be performed in December. Students can work alone or in groups. Projects can be vocal music (singing and composing), instrumental music (including percussion), dance, art and poetry. Mr. Johnson helps the students develop their ideas and then teaches them how to use their talents. He has a lot of good ideas to help expand their many hidden talents.

Mr. Johnson is a lot of fun and a pretty cool teacher. He really gets into the music and lets it all go. Mr. Johnson runs a fun classroom where the students enjoy working on their projects.

November 16-December 1

The Indianhoma FFA is having another food drive this year. All of the food will go to the local Lawton Food Bank. The food drive will be a contest between the classes. There will be two winning classes: one from the Elementary Classes (Pre-K-6th) and one from the High School Classes (7th-12th). The Elementary winning class will receive a free lunch at the Café and the winning High School class will receive a free pizza party. Good luck to all the classes and thank you for your support!

Book Fair Collects 95 cans of food for the FFA Food Drive

We had a three day food drive in the library to help FFA collect cans of food. For each can of food brought to the library, the student got to put his or her name in a jar for a chance to win $10 to spend at the Book Fair. The lucky winner was Skylar Jackson in 4th grade. Congratulations Skylar!

Thanks to everyone who participated. The cans of food will be credited to everyone's classes for their FFA Class Contest. Thanks also to everyone who supported the Book Fair. Parents, Grandparents, neighbors, teachers...you are wonderful for putting books in the hands of our children. Profits from the Book Fair provide more books for the students to read from the library. Thank you!
