Mr. Stewart Wood was chosen to join the prestigious Office of Educational Quality and Accountability and Evaluation Systems group. The group of educators will participate in a Framework Review conference for the Certification Examinations for Oklahoma Educators (CEOE) program. Simply speaking, the group will review the teacher certification tests with the intentions of updating the testing process to meet today's needs. All of the teachers in the group have years of teaching experience that has helped develop their understanding of what a new teacher would need to know to teach their respective courses.
