

My name is Takelia Carter. I am a graduate of Marion High School, class of 1996. As a mother of five children (four boys and one girl) I am proud to say that all of them are Patriots and they inspire me to do what I love on a daily basis. My husband (and biggest supporter) of 11 years is Russell Carter and we live in Marion. I taught fourth grade for six years in another district before becoming an assistant principal in the Marion School District. Besides all things related to education, I enjoy football, basketball, reading, watching movies, and going to the beach with my family. Some of the things I am most proud of include being voted classroom teacher of the year in 2014, obtaining a Master's Degree in Educational Leadership from ASU Jonesboro, being a public speaker, starring in a television commercial for MSCC, and receiving the honor of being named 2017 Alumnus of the Year for ASU Mid-South.
