2018 REGION 9 TEACHERS OF THE YEAR

BREANN SPIVEY, ELEMENTARY TEACHER OF THE YEAR
CRESTVIEW ELEMENTARY, GRAHAM ISD

Ms. Spivey has taught third grade for nine years, and also serves as the UIL Coordinator for her campus. She was encouraged to earn a degree in Education after being inspired by her own third grade teacher, and through experiences in teaching Bible classes at church and assisting the Special Education teacher in a high school class.

Ms. Spivey states, “I wholeheartedly believe that in order to engage students, my lessons must be relevant, meaningful, and have high levels of student involvement. It is vital that I create an atmosphere that encourages my students to become critical thinkers.” Ms. Spivey uses Project Based Learning when possible, and has involved her students in solving real-life problems, such as helping the local Humane Society, while incorporating ELAR and Math TEKS. “It proved to my students that what you learn in school transcends into real world situations. It involved many aspects of our beautiful community to solve a very real, very important problem.” In another project, she enlisted help from high school students in teaching her students public speaking skills. The third grade students later presented their project to the high school helpers and members of the Graham ISD Administration team. “That day showed my little friends the many possibilities of what was yet to come for them in the future…”

She goes on to say, “One of the most important parts of my job is to build a relationship with these children that will make their learning experience and environment safe and productive. I truly believe that when children feel unconditionally loved, believed in, and accepted, they will move mountains.”

MICHELLE LOWREY, SECONDARY TEACHER OF THE YEAR
GRAHAM HIGH SCHOOL, GRAHAM ISD

Michelle Lowrey has 14 years of experience teaching chemistry, physics, geology, meteorology, and oceanography, and currently teaches innovative courses from the Project Lead the Way curriculum. She has also served as an Adult Education, English as a Second Language teacher for Region 9 ESC.

Ms. Lowrey recently led some of her students in participating in the StellarXplorers, a national high school space competition sponsored by the Air Force Association. The Rocketeer Steers team progressed through several stages, and became one of only ten to make the national finals competition in Colorado Springs, CO, where they finished in third place.

In the past she has also involved her students in the Samsung Solve for Tomorrow challenge, which demonstrated how STEM could be applied to improve the local community. In this project, the students developed a method in which camera-equipped drones could be used to monitor crops, check irrigation systems, “ride the fences” to find breaks, locate lost or sick cattle, and check energy equipment such as oil pump jacks and wind turbines. The students placed first in the state of Texas from several thousand entries. They continue to conduct yearly classes for community members on the benefits and use of drones.

Ms. Lowrey states, “The fire for learning burns brightest in a classroom where students are accepted, their interest is sparked, and a teacher that cares fans the flames.” She continues, “Great teachers invest in the lives of their students. They want them to succeed and are committed to helping them. We should make each student feel as if their life is of interest to us, not just their class assignments.”

WHAT PEOPLE ARE SAYING ABOUT REGION 9
(Comments taken from results of TEA Client Satisfaction Survey – Fall 2016)

Top notch in my book!
Support provided by ESC9 is crucial to the teacher and leadership development within the district.

We rely on our service center.
Outstanding service necessary for the effective, efficient operation of the district.
Region 9 goes way above and beyond for our district.

We could not survive without them.
Our service center provides a great value to our district. We would not be able to afford the level of training and support...if we had to contract independently for it.

Happy to call this place MY service center!
