

Martin E. Gordon, M.D., F.A.C.P., F.A.C.G., F.A.S.G.F., F.A.A.A.S.
 CEO, Medical Films, LLC
 One McKnight Place, Suite 437
 Saint Louis, Missouri 63124

Cellphone 203-507-5551

martin.gordon@yale.edu

FAX 203-991-6656

Prior Clinical Professor, Yale School of Medicine
Recognized Internationally as the pioneering knowledgeable Creator of many educational Programs, Films and Exhibits, e.g. Creator, The "Learning Center, an epicenter of the International Digestive Disease Week, attracting the educational self-focus of thousands of attendees.

Produced and Internationally acclaimed and distributed
"The Global Disease Guide"
 (an Int'l Physicians Desk Reference for travel medicine)

Recipient and Cited for
The Peter Parker Dean's Medal for
"for lifetime contributions to Medicine and Yale University"

the American College of Physician's Laureate Award for patient care.

Benedict Harris Teaching Award

The Yale New Haven Medical Residents also honored him for contributing most to their First Year of Resident training

Fellowship, American Society Advancement Science:
"for contributions to clinical gastroenterology, travel medicine, and biomedical film production "

Creator Author/Producer:
"Clinical Aspects of Parasitology "
(Many Int'l Award- winning Films in Series)
The Intruders-Cestodes
The Infiltrators-The Nematodes
The Insinuator-Toxoplasma Gondii

While Clinical Professor of Medicine, interactions in "Morning Report" with students, House Officers & faculty at Yale Medical Center
Yale Honoris Causa in recognition for "Outstanding Service and Abiding Support of the Downs Student Travel Fellows

Initiated Yale BIOBUS Program
Designed to encourage young Students to enter the Biomedical Sciences.

Microscopy--Tools of the Biomedical Sciences"
 Produced to honor Yale University Tricentennial Celebration
 Film streamed internationally with CD-ROM formats. Available on the International Web, Yale University with Virtual Exhibit of microscopes gathered Finalist Award in the Basic and Clinical Category of the Time, Inc. International Health and Medical Media
 Competition

Mounted various scientific programs with contributory Exhibits; sponsored films, posters and educational devices for national and international meetings.

(Web site)

-2-

Instigated the Digital Imaging Center within the Cushing/Whitney Med. Library, featuring Award-winning Int'l Science Films for students, faculty and guests

Organized and chaired: The International Disaster Medicine and Emergency Management Congress

Published New England Journal Medicine Book Reviews on the texts
Malpractice Myths and Travel Medicine

Creator of the CD-ROM Probing the Dx", received the AMWA Will Solimine Award for "Excellence in Med. Communication

DVD ,Author, Producer/Director
"Embracing Plants and Cures-From Seedlings to Remedies"
dedded per request to the NIH/NLM for their Archival Shelves in perpetuity.
The film is now present within International Medical facilities

Creator, Newly launched and widely acclaimed Medical APP :

" PLANTS4CURES"
Useful APP : Diagnostic Guide for all healthcare and legal experts
(Apple Store) See Below

*The above contributions provide ample medico-legal background for his valued and frequent Expert Witness testimonies.
(Schedule Legal Appointments via Medical Films, LLC @ 203 507 5551) or directly : martin.gordon@yale.e Designed to*