Tron Inc. Announces Plan to Deepen Integration with TRON Ecosystem and Pursue Super Representative Status

Winter Park, Florida – August 13, 2026 – Tron Inc. (Nasdaq: TRON) (the "Company"), the largest publicly traded holder of TRON (TRX) tokens, today announced a major strategic initiative to deepen its integration in the TRON DAO ecosystem and expand into value-add infrastructure businesses capable of generating recurring on-chain revenue.

The Company plans to pursue election as a top-tier Super Representative ("SR") for the TRON network. SR nodes (27 in total) operate collaboratively to secure the TRON blockchain, produce blocks, validate transactions, and participate in on-chain community governance. In 2025, the TRON network generated total block production rewards of approximately 122 million TRX for the SRs, as well as voting rewards of approximately 1.5 billion TRX distributed to the 27 SRs and the other SR Partners.

The Company has accumulated more than 709 million TRX since implementing its Digital Asset Treasury Strategy in June 2025, with its digital asset holdings reflecting a cumulative gain of approximately $15.8 million as of June 30, 2026. By pursuing TRON SR status, the Company intends to participate directly in the success of the TRON network that is uniquely positioned to benefit from the strong demand globally for stablecoin and agentic AI payment solutions.
"Seeking election as a TRON Super Representative represents the next phase of our long-term growth strategy," said Rich Miller, the Company's Chief Executive Officer.

About TRON DAO

Founded in 2017, TRON blockchain is one of the world's most popular layer-1 networks and the dominant settlement protocol for on-chain stablecoin payment. As of July 31, 2026, TRON blockchain hosts about $90 billion in TRC-20 USDT stablecoin, accounting for nearly half of the total global supply. With over 396 million user wallets internationally and cumulative transaction counts approaching 15 billion as of July 31, 2026, TRON blockchain ecosystem is the de facto global standard for on-chain USDT settlement. According to a recent industry report by Allium, an on-chain research institution, about 90% of stablecoin payment volume settles on TRON. Annual USDT transfer volume grew at a rapid pace of over 40% per annum for three consecutive years to nearly $8 trillion in 2025.
