

David Almeling

O'Melveny & Myers LLP, San Francisco, CA, USA

David is a partner in the San Francisco office of O'Melveny & Myers LLP and has been recognized by Legal 500, IAM Patent 1000, Law 360, the National Law Journal, and others, as a leading attorney in trade secret law. He has represented clients in matters that span the full range of trade secret and employee mobility counseling and litigation. His book, Trade Secret Law and Corporate Strategy, is now in its third edition. He has taught trade secret law at UC Berkeley Law School for the last few years. He also advises clients on patent strategy and litigates patent cases. David is currently serving as Vice-Chair of The Sedona Conference Working Group 12 on Trade Secrets.

Russell Beck

Beck Reed Riden LLP, Boston, MA, USA

Russell is a business and intellectual property litigator, nationally recognized for his trade secrets and noncompete experience. He has often been cited as an expert in trade secrets and noncompetes. Russell teaches Trade Secrets and Restrictive Covenants at Boston University School of Law. His books include Trade Secrets Law for the Massachusetts Practitioner (1st ed., MCLE, Inc. 2019) and Negotiating, Drafting, and Enforcing Noncompetition Agreements and Related Restrictive Covenants (6th ed., MCLE, Inc. 2021). He prepared the firm's widely used 50 State Noncompete Survey and the firm's 50 State Trade Secrets Comparison Chart, and administers the blog, Fair Competition Law. He has over 30 years of experience representing corporate and individual clients throughout the country in federal and state trial and appellate courts, arbitrations, and mediations.

Demarron Berkley

Google, Mountain View, CA, USA

Demarron is Senior Litigation Counsel on Google's in-house Litigation team, handling domestic and international cases involving a breadth of legal issues and technology areas. He handles primarily patent litigation matters, but also works on cases involving privacy, defamation, and trade secret theft. Before joining Google, he represented clients in general commercial and intellectual property disputes before federal and state courts throughout the country. Demarron began his legal career as a judicial law clerk to the Honorable Charles R. Wilson of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit. Before law, he was an engineer at top technology companies and taught college computer programming classes.

Hon. Hildy Bowbeer (ret.)

U.S. District Court, District of Minnesota, St. Paul, MN, USA

Judge Bowbeer served as a U.S. Magistrate Judge for the District of Minnesota from June 2014 until her retirement in June 2022. Prior to her appointment, she was an Assistant Chief Intellectual Property Counsel with 3M Company, where she managed IP litigation both in the U.S. and internationally. Judge Bowbeer received her law degree from the University of Michigan in 1979. Following her graduation, she clerked for the Minnesota

Supreme Court before entering private practice. In 1985, she became one of the seven founding partners of Bowman and Brooke, and had a national practice in product liability litigation before joining 3M in 1997. Judge Bowbeer is a judicial advisor to The Sedona Conference and has contributed to its projects on Electronic Discovery, Patent Litigation Best Practices, and Trade Secret Litigation Best Practices. She serves on the Federal Practice Committee for the District of Minnesota and co-authored the District's Guide for Practitioners on electronic discovery. She is also a member of the American Law Institute and the Hon. Jimmie V. Reyna Intellectual Property Inn of Court. She has authored a number of articles and speaks frequently in the U.S. and abroad on IP litigation management, electronic discovery, diversity and inclusion, and ADR.

Leigh Ann Buziak

Blank Rome LLP, Philadelphia, PA, USA

Leigh Ann represents clients in various types of business disputes, with a concentration in handling difficult employment and intellectual property issues. She concentrates her practice on drafting, negotiating, and litigating non-compete agreements, pursuing departing employees for misappropriation of trade secrets, and defending companies from accusations of the same. Leigh Ann also provides strategic advice and counsel in employment matters, litigation risks, and investigations. Leigh Ann has experience developing digital evidence, including forensic investigations. Leigh Ann was recognized by The Legal Intelligencer as an "unsung hero" for her pro bono work on a case involving attempts to expunge the criminal record of the first Pennsylvania citizen released from prison on the basis of after-acquired DNA evidence. During law school, Leigh Ann served as a legal intern for the Honorable Bruce I. Fox, United States Bankruptcy Judge for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania.

Indira Cameron-Banks

Cameron Banks Law, Los Angeles, CA, USA

Indira founded Cameron Banks Law in 2021 to bring the full weight of her legal and investigative experience to bear on claims and issues that everyday people face in their personal pursuits of truth and justice both inside and outside the courtroom. As an Assistant United States Attorney in Los Angeles for over thirteen years, Indira worked tirelessly for federal crime victims and everyday consumers, recovering hundreds of millions of dollars in restitution and federal penalties. She directed large federal investigations into the fraudulent mortgage lending and securitization practices at the root of the 2008 financial crisis resulting multi-million dollar settlements. Indira's leadership at the U.S. Dept. of Justice (DOJ) led to her appointment on national DOJ working groups focused on financial fraud and financial recovery, internal auditing teams, and as faculty at the DOJ's national training center. She served as a member of the senior management team in the United States Attorney's Office as Chief of the Financial Litigation Section and as Special Counsel to the United States Attorney. Indira has investigated, litigated, and resolved civil matters (including financial fraud, constitutional violations, torts, employment discrimination, administrative actions, consumer protection, and immigration), and prosecuted criminal matters (including illegal firearms and drugs, child pornography, assault, identity theft and financial fraud). During the global pandemic, she left her federal appointment to serve the most vulnerable members of our community by assuming direction of a large legal services program serving those experiencing homelessness in Los Angeles County. Indira has called Los Angeles her home for over fifteen years, but she began her career in courtrooms across New England defending clients in professional liability, products liability and toxic tort matters. She is a proud graduate of the University of Chicago and of Boston University School of Law.

Stephen Y. Chow

Hsuanyeh Law Group, Boston, MA, USA

Steve started practice in 1976 defending against antitrust, patent and trade secrets charges, applying broad technology training and knowledge of competition law. Through swings in technology rights and investment policy, domestic and international, Steve has practiced uniquely “full spectrum” as a patent drafter, start-up and venture fund counselor, and business tort/governance litigator (most recently administrative challenges of medical device patent portfolios and assertion of electric vehicle battery patents). A life member of the American Law Institute and of the Uniform Law Commission, Steve has participated in a generation of drafting most recently of the Uniform Personal Data Protection Act, the Uniform Restrictive Employment Agreements Act and Amendments to the Uniform Commercial Code – Emerging Technologies (primarily blockchain). The “Massachusetts” version of the UTSA, to which Steve contributed, was enacted in 2018. Steve wrote wholly or substantially Data Security and Privacy in Massachusetts, E-Commerce and Communications, International Computer Law and Law of the Internet. He has taught at Suffolk Law School and teaches at Boston University School of Law around his interest of rationalizing the convergence of proprietary (including personal) information rights, commercial and competition law, and societal interests in automated decision making.

Monte Cooper

Goodwin Procter LLP, Redwood City, CA, USA

Monte is Senior Counsel Goodwin Procter LLP’s Silicon Valley office and is a member of the firm’s Intellectual Property Litigation Group. The focus of his practice is on patent and copyright litigation, particularly contexts that involve computer software and hardware, as well as network-related applications. He has represented many hi-tech companies in complex and high-profile patent litigation. Monte is a frequent speaker and writer on cutting-edge IP topics, and regularly contributes to his firm’s appellate issues and Supreme Court practice. He also provides guidance on complex intellectual property licensing obligations. Prior to joining Goodwin, Monte was of Counsel at Orrick. He also was associated with firms in Pasadena, CA and Denver, CO. Monte the liaison between the Steering Committees for The Sedona Conference Working Group 9 on Patent Damages and Remedies (WG9), Working Group 10 on Patent Litigation Best Practices (WG10), and Working Group 12 on Trade Secrets (WG12).

Victoria Cundiff

Paul Hastings LLP, New York, NY, USA

Vicki is a litigation partner at Paul Hastings LLP, and is a leader of the firm’s nationally ranked global trade secrets litigation practice. She has had extensive experience litigating trade secrets, non-compete, “inevitable disclosure,” intellectual property ownership, and other intellectual property and commercial disputes in state and federal courts throughout the U.S., and before a variety of arbitration and mediation tribunals. Vicki also coordinates multi-jurisdictional litigation. As important, she helps her clients with installing proactive measures to guard against misappropriation, and by designing confidential verification protocols for resolving intellectual property use and ownership disputes in and outside of court. A frequent writer and speaker in the field, Vicki teaches classes in intellectual property law as a Visiting Lecturer in Law at Yale Law School and at the University of Pennsylvania Law School. Vicki is currently serving as Chair of The Sedona Conference Working Group 12 on Trade Secrets (WG12).

Joseph D'Angelo

Cisco, Southborough, MA, USA

Joe is a Senior Corporate Counsel at Cisco where he analyzes complex business and IP issues and provides business oriented counseling to executive leadership and engineering within his division. Joe's role at Cisco includes protecting innovations through patents and trade secrets, supporting ongoing IP litigation efforts, and providing inbound and outbound contractual IP and business support. Joe also oversees a Patent Technology and Trade Secret Committee. Before joining Cisco through an acquisition, Joe was Director, Patent and Technology Counsel at Acacia Communications where he established Acacia's internal intellectual property function and had responsibility for all aspects of Acacia's IP. His practice includes overseeing the development and management of Acacia's patent and trademark portfolios, patent drafting and prosecution, trade secret protection, IP licensing, standards, Open Source, supporting IP related litigation matters and contract negotiations, as well as general IP counseling.

Hon. Kevin Doyle

US District Court, District of Vermont, Burlington, VT, USA

Judge Doyle is a United States Magistrate Judge in the District of Vermont. He is a graduate of Georgetown University and Seton Hall Law School, where he served as an Articles Editor on the law review. Prior to his appointment as Magistrate Judge, he was an Assistant U.S. Attorney in the District of Vermont from 2007 to 2021, handling matters in both the Civil and Criminal Divisions, concluding his service as First Assistant U.S. Attorney. After law school, he was a judicial law clerk in the District of Vermont, the District of New Jersey, and the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit. Judge Doyle has taught criminal law courses at Norwich University and Vermont Law School, and legal writing and appellate advocacy at the Justice Department's National Advocacy Center. He is a member of the American Law Institute.

Jonathan J Engler

Mintz, Washington, DC.

Jonathan is a seasoned intellectual property attorney who focuses his practice on representing clients in patent, trade secret, copyright and trademark litigation before the US International Trade Commission (ITC), and in appeals of those disputes at the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit. Drawing on his extensive experience as an ITC attorney in private practice and his tenure as an attorney with the ITC and in the US Department of Commerce, he successfully represents parties on both sides of ITC disputes, including representing them in relation to the enforcement of remedial orders through US Customs and Border Protection. Cases he has handled have been directed to semiconductors, batteries, LED lighting, cellular communications, networks, and consumer electronics, and have involved some of the most widely recognized electronics and consumer products companies.

Sheryl Falk

Winston & Strawn LLP, Houston, TX, USA

Sheryl is co-chair of Winston & Strawn's Global Privacy and Data Security practice and is recognized as a premier resource in the field of privacy and technology. Her clients have described her "experience and talent" as "unparalleled." Sheryl draws upon her deep expertise in privacy, data security, and forensic technology as well as her strong litigation background to handle complicated data issues, lead computer forensic investigations, and develop data security and trade secret protection procedures. Sheryl is a former Federal Prosecutor and has been recognized in Legal 500 in Privacy/Cyber Security, Trade Secrets and Information Governance.

Cameron Fine

DLA Piper LLP (US), Phoenix, AZ, USA

Cameron has extensive experience litigating trade secrets cases across multiple states, federal districts, and countries. His experience includes litigating Defend Trade Secrets Act and Uniform Secrets Act claims in state court, federal court, and domestic and international arbitration representing both plaintiffs and defendants. He also has experience with internal investigations related to trade secrets issues and advising companies on policies related to trade secrets. He has managed and advised clients concerning their global trade secrets strategy related to issues and disputes occurring simultaneously across multiple continents and countries. Among Cameron's cases is a ruling obtaining preliminary injunction against a foreign corporation for misappropriation of a domestic medical device manufacturer's trade secrets. He subsequently won in the United States Court of Appeals establishing new law concerning the extraterritorial application of the Ohio Uniform Trade Secrets Act.

Benjamin I. Fink

Berman Fink Van Horn P.C., Atlanta, GA, USA

Ben is a shareholder at Berman Fink Van Horn P.C. in Atlanta, Georgia. He concentrates his practice on business and employment litigation with an emphasis on restrictive covenant and trade secret disputes. Ben is a well-respected writer and published author. He lectures regularly on competition-related topics and other legal issues facing businesses and he blogs at Georgia Non-Compete and Trade Secret News. Ben co-authored a chapter on Restrictive Covenant Litigation for Georgia Business Litigation (Daily Report Books). He has co-authored a Practice Note on Georgia Confidentiality, Nondisclosure and Non-Solicitation Agreements (Thomson Reuters). Currently, Ben serves as the Chair-Elect of the AIPLA's Trade Secrets Committee. He was named one of Georgia's Legal Elite, a Top 100 SuperLawyer in Georgia and was awarded an AV Preeminent rating by Martindale-Hubbell. He obtained his J.D. degree from Emory University School of Law (where he serves as the President of the Alumni Board) and his undergraduate degree from Duke University.

Hon. Beth Labson Freeman

U.S. District Court, Northern District of California, San Jose, CA, USA

Judge Freeman is a Judge on the Federal Court in the Northern District of California, appointed by President Obama in 2014. Judge Freeman sits in the San Jose Division, hearing a broad array of cases including antitrust, civil rights, consumer class actions, commercial litigation and technology cases including patent, trademark, copyright and trade secret cases. She serves on the Northern District's patent local rules and jury instruction committees. Judge Freeman previously was a Superior Court Judge in San Mateo County, California from 2001 to 2014. Judge Freeman served as Presiding Judge and Assistant Presiding Judge of the San Mateo Court. Prior to her appointment to the bench in 2001, Judge Freeman was deputy county counsel in San Mateo County, and an associate attorney at Lasky, Haas and Cohler in San Francisco and Fried, Frank, Harris, Shriver and Jacobson in Washington, DC. Judge Freeman is a graduate of the Harvard Law School and University of California, Berkeley.

Christopher Gerardi

Charles River Associates, Washington, DC, USA

Christopher is a vice president at Charles River Associates (CRA) based in Washington, DC and New York, with more than 25 years of experience providing economic, financial, and accounting advisory services to companies, legal counsel, regulatory authorities and tribunals involved in transactions, investigations and disputes. He brings to his clients the depth and breadth of CRA's global resources to address critical issues in controversy, evaluate and mitigate risk, and improve performance. An internationally recognized advisor and economic damages expert, Chris has expertise in matters relating to intellectual property, ITC investigations, commercial litigation, and international arbitration. He has worked with legal counsel, management and licensing professionals in the development and execution of royalty audit and licensing compliance programs, technology valuation, and licensing strategy. Chris has provided oral and written evidence in matters before U.S. federal and state courts, the U.S. International Trade Commission, and multiple international arbitration forums. He is a regular speaker on the topic of patent, trade secret, and commercial economic damages at several professional organizations.

Dina Hayes

Arnold & Porter, Chicago, IL, USA

Dina has extensive complex trade secret litigation expertise involving state law trade secret statutes across multiple federal districts. Her experience covers implementing best practices for protecting trade secrets under the Defend Trade Secrets Act as well as preparing custom made policies for the investigation and security of trade secret information. She also advises clients in matters connected with application, opposition and reexamination proceedings before the United States Patent and Trademark Office for both patents and trademarks. Dina is also experienced in all facets of full scale multiple-patent and multiple-party patent litigation in a variety of industries. Her diverse experience includes handling complex intellectual property cases involving power tools, power tool accessories, automotive brake components, automotive electrical modules, biomedical infusion devices, power wheelchair suspension systems, cardiac ablation devices and techniques, and digital audio fingerprinting methods.

Benjamin Herbert*Kirkland & Ellis LLP, Los Angeles, CA, USA*

Ben is a partner in Kirkland & Ellis' Intellectual Property Group. He has significant experience representing plaintiffs in trade secret misappropriation trials. Since 2019, he was a key member of three trial teams that secured more than $1.5 billion in jury verdicts in cases involving claims for misappropriation of trade secrets. His practice primarily focuses on litigation in Federal District Courts, where he has worked on and led teams for both plaintiffs and defendants litigating complex cases involving diverse technologies, including digital radios, medical devices, computer software and hardware, graphics processors, bitcoin mining, portable power generation, and satellite technology. Ben also has significant experience before the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit, where he clerked for Judge O'Malley, including drafting briefs and arguing before the court.

Randall Kay*Jones Day, San Diego, CA, USA*

Randy is a trial lawyer with nearly thirty years of experience representing intellectual property owners in disputes over trade secrets, confidential information, patents, unfair competition and contracts. He handles jury trials, arbitrations, injunction proceedings and appeals. Randy has represented trade secret plaintiffs and defendants, successfully resolving cases through summary judgments, settlements, favorable jury verdicts from coast to coast, and IP appeals in the California and federal courts of appeal. Randy's matters involve technologies in computers, telecommunications, semiconductors, medical devices, biotech and the life sciences. The Legal 500 named Randy a Leading Lawyer for trade secret litigation. Randy is co-editor/author of the treatise Trade Secret Litigation and Protection in California, published by the State Bar of California.

Maria Kreiter*Godfrey & Kahn, S.C., Milwaukee, WI, USA*

Maria Kreiter is a shareholder in the litigation group at Godfrey & Kahn, S.C. and Chair of the firm's Trade Secret and Non-Competition Practice Group. Her practice focuses on complex business litigation, including claims involving trade secrets, non-competition agreements, banking and financial services disputes, and FINRA arbitrations. Maria's trial experience includes court and jury trials in both state and federal court, as well as numerous injunction hearings and temporary restraining order hearings.

Lauren Linderman

Faegre Drinker Biddle & Reath LLP, Minneapolis, MN, USA

Lauren litigates complex commercial disputes, advocating for businesses during trade secret and non-compete litigation and other business torts and contractual disputes. She helps companies protect the valuable trade secrets and intellectual property that are critical to their businesses, including providing strategic advice and oversight on trade secret protection programs and implementation of clean room development plans. Lauren's experience includes a part-time secondment with a Fortune 10 company's in-house intellectual property legal team. Lauren has extensive consulting, pretrial, trial, and appellate experience in state and federal courts in both arbitration and mediation. Lauren is licensed to practice law in two states (Minnesota and California). Lauren is a former federal law clerk and graduated order of the coif from the University of Southern California Gould School of Law, where she served as editor-in-chief of the Southern California Law Review.

Jennifer Lynn Miller

Renmatix, Inc., King of Prussia, PA, USA

Jennifer is the Chief Legal Officer, Senior Vice President and Secretary at Renmatix, Inc. Prior to Renmatix, Jenny was a partner at Ballard Spahr in the firm's Philadelphia office. Her practice, and her work at Renmatix, has always focused on the business, finance and contract side of technology companies, including developing, collaborating in the development of, protecting, licensing, and selling intellectual property and processes and products protected by intellectual property. She served as a Wolcott Clerk to the Delaware Supreme Court. She earned her J.D. from the Delaware Law School, magna cum laude, and her B.A. from Dickinson College, Phi Beta Kappa.

Prof. Nicole Morris

Emory University School of Law, Atlanta, GA USA

Nicole Morris is a Professor at Emory University School of Law. There, she oversees an innovative technology commercialization program wherein law students work with technology innovators to transform research into economically viable products. Nicole helps innovators and entrepreneurs identify their product's value and create a marketplace advantage. Prior to Emory, Nicole practiced IP law for over eighteen years in large and mid-sized law firms. Nicole was Managing Patent Counsel for The Coca-Cola Company where she was responsible for the development and implementation of the Company's global patent strategy. She also worked as an engineer for six years with 3M and Eli Lilly and has over twenty-five years of experience working with consumer products and technology commercialization. Nicole is a frequent speaker on innovation topics including the legal implications of technology, innovation strategy, and IP licensing.

Mindy Morton

Procopio, Cory, Hargreaves & Savitch LLP, San Jose, CA, USA

Mindy is a partner with Procopio LLP. Her practice focuses on internet and intellectual property litigation. She helps companies resolve trade secret, trademark, copyright, computer fraud and non-compete agreement litigation. Mindy also litigates cutting-edge cases at the intersection of technology and free speech issues and defends internet companies against claims based on third party content. She works closely with clients to resolve disputes quickly and efficiently. Mindy earned a degree in political science from the University of California, Berkeley, and her J.D. from Yale Law School.

Patrick O'Toole

Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP, Boston, MA, USA

Patrick is a partner in Weil's Boston office where he practices in the Complex Commercial Litigation and White-Collar Defense & Investigations Groups. He has extensive trial experience covering a wide spectrum of industries and topics. His civil experience includes trade secrets, joint venture and partnership disputes, private equity investments, real estate and trust and fiduciary issues. In addition to trial work, Patrick represents clients in civil and criminal investigations and regulatory enforcement proceedings. He began his legal career by serving clerkships with the Honorable Francis J. Boyle of the U.S. District Court for the District of Rhode Island and the Honorable Neil L. Lynch of the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts.

Eric Ostroff

Meland Budwick, P.A., Miami, FL, USA

Eric is a shareholder at Meland Budwick, P.A. in Miami, Florida. He is a Chambers-ranked lawyer who focuses his practice on trade secret and restrictive-covenant litigation. Eric represents companies and individuals in these matters, across a variety of industries, including frequently obtaining emergency injunctions to prevent further misappropriation or violations of restrictive covenants. Eric has tried a number of bench and jury trials dealing with trade-secrets issues. He is the author of the Protecting Trade Secrets blog, which can be found at www.protectingtradesecrets.com. Eric earned his JD, summa cum laude, from the University of Miami School of Law, where he was a member of the law review.

Jeff A. Pade

Paul Hastings LLP, Washington, DC, USA

Jeff is a partner in the Washington D.C. office of Paul Hastings LLP. Jeff is an intellectual property litigator with over 20 years of experience in all phases of trade secrets and other intellectual property disputes. He directs complex civil and criminal trade secrets litigations concerning diverse technologies for clients around the globe, and also represents clients in internal trade secrets audits and related forensic investigations, as well as trade secrets compliance initiatives. Jeff teaches Trade Secrets Law at The George Washington University Law School, and is a frequent speaker and author on trade secrets issues.

Hon. Donald F. Parsons Jr. (ret.)

Retired, Wilmington, DE, USA

Former Vice Chancellor Parsons consults on various corporate and intellectual property matters. He served on the Delaware Court of Chancery from 2003 to 2015. With a focus on alternative dispute resolution, his practice draws on his past mediation experience in various business and IP disputes before the Chancery Court as well as the Federal Circuit. Since rejoining Morris Nichols in 2016, Don has mediated and arbitrated a number of disputes involving IP licenses and IP-related aspects of mergers and acquisitions. He also advises on matters of corporate governance and alternative entities. During his judicial tenure, Don issued hundreds of opinions addressing significant questions concerning corporation law, alternative entities, and other complex commercial matters, including disputes regarding trade secrets and other forms of intellectual property. He is a fellow of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators and a past president of the American College of Business Court Judges.

Dean Pelletier

Pelletier Law, LLC, Chicago, IL, USA

Dean is the founder of Pelletier Law, LLC, an intellectual property law firm in Chicago, IL. Prior to founding Pelletier Law, Dean was a managing director at an intellectual capital merchant bank and a board member/shareholder at another IP law firm in Chicago. He has been working with IP for more than two decades. His practice focuses on leveraging patents and trade secrets. Dean has litigated and tried cases in U.S. district courts, the U.S. International Trade Commission, and state courts and has argued before the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit. Dean litigated one of the first Defend Trade Secrets Act cases. He also represented Amsted Industries, the prevailing complainant, in the groundbreaking trade secret case, TianRui v. ITC. Dean received his J.D. from Washington University School of Law (St. Louis, MO) and his B.S. in biomedical engineering from Northwestern University (Evanston, IL).

James Pooley

James Pooley PLC, Menlo Park, CA, USA

Jim focuses on trade secret law and management, as an advocate, advisor and neutral. He is an author or co-author of several major IP works, including his treatise Trade Secrets (Law Journal Press) and the Patent Case Management Judicial Guide (Federal Judicial Center). Jim's most recent business book is Secrets: Managing Information Assets in the Age of Cyberespionage (Verus Press 2015). The Senate Judiciary Committee relied on Jim for expert testimony and advice regarding the 2016 Defend Trade Secrets Act. From 2009 to 2014 he managed the international patent system at WIPO in Geneva. He is a past President of AIPLA and Chairman of the National Inventors Hall of Fame. Jim is Chair Emeritus of The Sedona Conference Working Group 12 on Trade Secrets (WG12), after serving as its Chair from 2018 to 2021. He has taught at UC Berkeley School of Law. In 2016 Jim was inducted into the IP Hall of Fame for his contributions to IP law and practice.

Matthew Prewitt*Schiff Hardin LLP, Chicago, IL, USA*

Matt is a trial lawyer with a national practice in trade secrets litigation, disputes arising from the theft or destruction of electronic data, breach of restrictive covenants, and related claims for unfair competition and business torts. As lead trial counsel, Matt has obtained injunctive relief in expedited proceedings in more than a dozen states and has won case-terminating sanctions for destruction of electronic data in multiple suits. In addition to his trial practice, Matt frequently counsels clients on issues of data protection and employee mobility. Matt is the chair of Schiff Hardin's Cybersecurity and Data Privacy Team, co-chair of the firm's Trade Secrets and Employee Mobility Team, and a member of the firm's e-Discovery Committee. Matt is a Certified Information Privacy Professional (CIPP/US) and member of the International Association of Privacy Professionals. He is an adjunct professor of law at Chicago-Kent College of Law. Matt is a graduate of the University of Chicago Law School.

Christopher Racich*Vestigant, Vienna, VA USA*

Christopher is President and founder of Vestigant™. Mr. Racich has been a leader in the fields of Computer Forensics and Electronic Discovery since 1997. Mr. Racich has conducted thousands of Computer Forensics investigations, and has been qualified to testify in Federal and State Courts and before arbitration bodies. Mr. Racich is a Certified Computer Examiner (CCE) through The International Society of Forensic Computer Examiners and is a recipient of the High Technology Crime Investigation Association (HTCIA) case of the year award for 2016.

Daniel Reza Saeedi*Taft Stettinius & Hollister LLP, Naperville, IL, USA*

Daniel focuses his practice on issues relating to employment law, data privacy, and information security. He represents clients nationwide in the realm of trade secret theft, non-competition and non-solicitation agreements, and breaches of fiduciary duties. Daniel also provides counseling to business on how to employ best practices and policies to better position themselves to litigate unfair competition claims. In addition, he helps companies conduct complex internal investigations regarding intellectual property theft, computer fraud and unfair competition issues. Daniel also has a robust practice in data privacy, including matters related to biometric information and compliance with the Illinois Biometric Information Privacy Act. He has first-chaired several high-profile class actions involving consumer and employee privacy issues related to a variety of different technologies, and touching on several industries, including manufacturing, logistics, information technology and software design, marketing, health and medical devices, food, entertainment, and retail. Daniel is a Certified Information Privacy Professional (CIPP/US).

Heather Schroder

Robert Bosch LLC, Farmington Hills, MI, USA

Heather Schroder is a Director and Senior Legal Counsel for Robert Bosch LLC. Ms. Schroder is based out of Robert Bosch GmbH's North American headquarters in Detroit, Michigan, and serves as the Team Leader of the M&A and Corporate legal team for North America. A New York native, prior to joining Bosch in 2014, Ms. Schroder was Senior Corporate Counsel at ATMI, Inc., a publicly traded, semiconductor company in Connecticut; prior to working in-house, Ms. Schroder worked as a Corporate Law Associate in private practice in New York City. Ms. Schroder is admitted to the bars of New York, Connecticut, and Michigan. She is a Director on the Board of Advisors for Syracuse University College of Law. Ms. Schroder regularly speaks on cross-border panels in the U.S. and in Germany. Ms. Schroder earned a juris doctor from Syracuse University College of Law, concurrently receiving her Master of Public Administration from the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs of Syracuse University.

Dave Shenian

Clark Hill, LLP, Los Angeles, CA, USA

Dave is Chair of the Trade Secrets Committee of the Clark Hill Restrictive Covenant Strategic Initiative Team and regularly writes about nationwide developments in trade secrets law. For nearly three decades Dave has practiced as a commercial litigator in state and federal courts and draws upon his inquisitiveness in technology and persistence at problem-solving to litigate trade secret matters. Dave represents clients in a variety of business and commercial litigation matters including misappropriation of trade secrets, complex contract and business tort disputes, UCC/commercial law, and creditor's rights. Dave represents manufacturers, distributors, healthcare companies, wholesalers, service providers, financial institutions and real estate investors. Dave is committed to helping clients by providing them with efficient, creative, and effective representation to resolve their legal matters. Intelligently aggressive in litigation, he strives to maximize the results for his clients.

Abraham Y. Skoff

Moses & Singer LLP, New York, NY, USA

Abraham (Avi) is a Partner and Co-chair of Moses & Singer's Litigation practice, and Chair of the firm's Business Torts/Unfair Competition practice. Avi focuses on complex civil litigation and has been involved in a number of major, newsworthy cases. He served as Assistant U.S. Attorney and Deputy Chief of the Civil Division, U.S. Attorney's Office, Eastern District of New York, and has litigated before courts and arbitration panels throughout the country. Avi has significant experience in a broad range of practice areas, including litigation over trade secrets, noncompetition agreements, health care, entertainment and toxic tort/product liability matters, among others. He is an experienced trial lawyer, has represented parties in complex, multiple forum litigation, and has extensive experience in litigating injunctive proceedings. Avi is admitted in New York and New Jersey and has a national practice.

Hon. Sidney H. Stein

US District Court - Southern District of New York, New York, NY, USA

Judge Stein has been a United States District Judge for the Southern District of New York since 1995. He received an A.B. degree from Princeton University and a J.D degree from Yale Law School. Following his graduation, he was a clerk to the Chief Judge of the State of New York and Chief Judge of the New York Court of Appeals. Judge Stein was a partner in a litigation firm he founded in 1981 until his induction as a United States District Judge in 1995. Judge Stein was a member of the U.S. Delegation to the Special Commission on the Practical Operation of the Hague Convention in 2001 and was the recipient of the Stanley H. Fuld Award of the New York State Bar association in 2003, and the Edward Weinfeld Award of the New York County Lawyers' Association in 2012. Judge Stein is also a member of the American Law Institute, the board of directors of the Greater New York Councils of the Boy Scouts of America, and is Chair of the International Judicial Relations Committee of the Judicial Conference of the United States.

Jim Vaughn

iDiscovery Solutions (iDS), Costa Mesa, CA, USA

Jim is a Managing Director at iDiscovery Solutions, a certified digital forensics examiner and a testifying expert. He has trained hundreds of law enforcement officers, attorneys, and other examiners on computer forensics and high-technology related issues involving best practices and methodologies. He is retired from law enforcement, has co-developed computer forensic courses for the California Department of Justice, and has been involved in high stakes cases throughout his career. Jim has extensive experience working on litigation and consulting matters in digital forensics, e-Discovery, and other high technology issues. His experience covers both the Windows and MAC OS platforms. He serves his clients through the litigation or consulting lifecycle by assisting them with important issues like data scoping, preserving, gathering, processing, hosting, review and production, as well as deeper diving issues uncovered through the use of digital forensics.

Erik W. Weibust

Epstein Becker & Green P.C., Boston, MA, USA

Erik has a national litigation practice, representing companies of all sizes and in various industries throughout the U.S. in high-stakes commercial litigation involving theft of trade secrets, breach of restrictive covenant agreements, and unfair competition, among other things. He also advises clients with respect to the protection of trade secrets and proprietary information; the drafting, implementation, and enforcement of post-employment restrictive covenants; and the hiring of executives, key employees, and strategic groups from competitors. Erik represents some of the world's largest insurance, staffing, medical device, pharmaceutical, and technology companies, as well as other companies of all sizes and levels of maturity in various industries. He has won substantial victories for his clients in court and at the negotiating table.