

Julian Ackert

iDiscovery Solutions, Washington, DC, USA

Julian, a Managing Director at iDiscovery Solutions (iDS) in Washington DC, has over 20 years of consulting and complex matter management experience in the technology and litigation industries. He has extensive experience with forensic data collection, computer forensic analysis, creating and implementing preservation and collection strategies, managing electronic data processing and review endeavors, analyzing complex transactional data systems, and working with large multi-national corporations to establish and develop methodologies and best practices for litigation preparedness. Julian has written expert reports and provided testimony on the forensic preservation, acquisition, and analysis of electronic information. Additionally, he has worked on several international projects involving complex data privacy, collection, and review challenges.

Alexander Altman

Arnold & Porter Kaye Scholer LLP, New York, NY, USA

As a Senior Associate in Arnold & Porter's Privacy, Cybersecurity & Data Strategy practice, Alex works with clients across industries to develop and assess privacy and cybersecurity programs, respond to data breaches, conduct internal investigations, and litigate privacy-related claims. Among many other matters, Alex has counseled clients on compliance with biometric privacy laws, including the implementation of facial recognition technology. He is keenly interested in emerging technologies and how they drive legal and societal change. Alex is a proud graduate of Vassar College and Fordham University School of Law, is admitted to practice law in New York, and has a pending admission to the California bar.

Jessica Averitt

Baker McKenzie, Houston, TX, USA

Jessica is a partner in Baker McKenzie's Houston office. Jessica has extensive experience advising clients in the energy, health, automotive, technology, communications, financial institution, and hospitality industries regarding the ever-changing worlds of cybersecurity and data governance; incident response and crisis management; strategic business planning and complex investigation/litigation strategic planning. Jessica regularly advises clients on emerging trends in cyber discovery, data privacy, cross border data transfer, information governance and strategic discovery. She has managed large scale discovery in response to multiple DOJ civil investigative demands, FCC Letters of Inquiry, DOJ Second Requests and large complex litigation matters.

Kate Baxter-Kauf

Lockridge Grindal Nauen PLLP, Minneapolis, MN, USA

Kate is a partner at Lockridge Grindal Nauen PLLP in Minneapolis, MN, where she represents individuals, consumers, and financial institutions in plaintiffs' side data breach litigation, in addition to cybersecurity and privacy counseling, and antitrust, consumer, securities, and ERISA class actions. She has litigated on behalf of data breach plaintiffs in federal and state courts across the country, on behalf of governmental entities defending against privacy-related claims, and has particular expertise in the areas of plaintiffs' side discovery and attorney client privilege disputes. Kate currently serves on numerous court-appointed executive committees in litigation arising from retailer, medical, and information security-based data breaches, and has argued numerous discovery disputes and dispositive motions for class and data breach litigants. She has been recognized as a North Star Lawyer by the Minnesota State Bar Association for her commitment to pro bono work on behalf of indigent criminal defendants, and as a Minnesota Rising Star by Super Lawyers, every year since 2015. In 2018, she was named a Top Lawyer Under 40 by Law360 in the area of Cybersecurity & Privacy.

Katherine Booth

McCarthy Tétrault LLP, Vancouver, BC, Canada

Katherine is a Litigation partner in the Vancouver office of McCarthy Tétrault LLP, a leading national law firm in Canada. Katherine advises companies that have experienced a data breach or cyber-attack and defends companies in class action litigation following a breach. In her incident response practice, Katherine oversees forensic investigations; advises on notice obligations and notice programs, litigation risk mitigation strategies and maintaining privilege; reports to insurers; and coordinates with regulatory lawyers regarding any regulatory investigations and compliance with privacy legislation. In her litigation practice, Katherine defends organizations in privacy and data breach, competition, conspiracy, product liability and consumer class actions. Katherine is a member of McCarthy Tétrault's Cyber/Data Group and is a regular speaker on the topics of cybersecurity litigation and incident response. She is a contributing author to Defending Class Actions in Canada published by LexisNexis and is on the Executive of the Canadian Bar Association BC's Class Actions Section.

Mathea K.E. Bulander

Redgrave LLP, Minneapolis, MN, USA

A Partner at Redgrave LLP, Mathea's legal practice is dedicated to the intersection of information technologies and the law. Her work focuses exclusively on Information Governance, Privacy, and eDiscovery needs of diverse clients in a wide array of industries including automotive, insurance, financial services, chemicals, manufacturing, and healthcare. Mathea has litigated class actions, multidistrict litigation, and other types of complex litigation around the country and sat second chair in re State Farm Lloyds proportionality case. Mathea serves as a Council Member on the Computer & Technology Law Section of Minnesota State Bar Association, is a member of the National Association of Women Lawyers, The Sedona Conference's WG1 and WG11, and the International Association of Privacy Professionals (IAPP). Mathea received a J.D. from William Mitchell College of Law (cum laude) and a B.A. in visual art from Macalester College.

David Carney

Baker & Hostetler LLP, Cleveland, OH, USA

David has been at the forefront in defending clients against alleged data privacy claims over the course of the past decade. He has defended clients against privacy claims in state and federal courts throughout the nation, with a particular emphasis in claims raising allegations under the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA). He has extensive knowledge regarding the threshold arguments on injury and on the merits that define privacy cases, and has been named both as a Law360 Rising Star for Privacy in 2016 and a Law360 MVP for Cybersecurity and Privacy in 2021.

Robert E. Cattanch

Dorsey & Whitney LLP, Minneapolis, MN, USA

Bob is a partner in Dorsey & Whitney's Minneapolis office. He represents clients in the areas of cybersecurity, data breach response and privacy compliance, using the perspective and skills gained as a seasoned trial lawyer to help clients navigate the complexities of multi-jurisdictional problems. Recognized by his peers as a thought leader in the areas of data security and privacy litigation, Bob spearheaded The Sedona Conference's publication of the highly acclaimed Incident Response Guide, and continues to serve as an integral part of Sedona's International Programmes, leading the discussion on subjects ranging from incident responses, extra-territorial enforcement of the European Union General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), and the intricacies of California's Consumer Privacy Act (CCPA). He counsels both the C-Suite and corporate Boards of Directors and Audit Committees on matters of cybersecurity, privacy and information governance. Bob is also a contributor to professional and journalistic coverage of cybersecurity issues, ranging from the New York Times, Wall Street Journal, and USA Today.

Terence R. Coates

Markovits, Stock & DeMarco, LLC, Cincinnati, OH, USA

Terry is the managing partner of Markovits, Stock & DeMarco, LLC, a boutique plaintiffs' litigation firm in Cincinnati, Ohio. His practice focuses on complex commercial litigation, class action litigation, and sports and entertainment law. In 2022 alone, Terry has been a member of court-appointed class counsel in finally-approved class action settlements valued at over $758 million and part of plaintiff's counsel in an individual state settlement of $80 million. Terry has been recognized as Super Lawyers Rising Stars each year since 2014, Best Lawyers since 2020, Cincinnati Business Courier's Forty under 40 (2019), Wittenberg University's Outstanding Young Alumnus (2014), Flying Pig Marathon's Volunteer of the Year (2016), and is the current Executive Director of the Potter Stewart Inn of Court.

Andrea D'Ambra

Norton Rose Fulbright US LLP, New York, NY, USA

Andrea is a partner in the New York office of Norton Rose Fulbright, where she heads the EDiscovery and Information Governance Group for the United States. Her practice focuses on eDiscovery, information management, data privacy, and cross-border discovery. Andrea counsels clients on preservation and data management issues, and has drafted information governance and records management policies for a number of multinational companies. In addition to counseling, she has assisted clients in navigating foreign data privacy laws while complying with U.S. discovery obligations. Andrea served for over seven years as an officer in the United States Navy. Her diverse Naval experience includes serving as an action officer for high-profile investigations within the Bureau of Naval Personnel and managing the administrative and legal issues of the Navy's computer network defense command. Andrea also is an adjunct professor of law at Temple Law School and William and Mary School of Law, where she teaches classes on Electronic Discovery. She received her B.S. in Political Science from the United States Naval Academy and her J.D. from William and Mary School of Law.

Starr Turner Drum

Maynard Cooper & Gale, Birmingham, AL, USA

Starr leads the privacy division of the Cybersecurity & Privacy practice group at Maynard, Cooper & Gale. She assists clients with everything from developing globally compliant privacy programs to defending privacy-focused litigation and regulatory investigations. Starr has successfully developed hundreds of internationally compliant privacy and information governance plans across several sectors and has served as privacy due diligence counsel on over $10 billion in private equity and M&A-related transactions. Starr has also defended numerous state and federal privacy class action and security breach cases and regulatory investigations. She is often invited to speak on emerging privacy issues, such as AI, biometrics, and marketing and data analytics. She also serves as an Adjunct Professor at The University of Alabama School of Law where she teaches privacy and data security.

Jeff Dunifon

Dexcom, Cleveland, OH, USA

Jeff is Sr. Director, Privacy and Data Security Counsel for Dexcom, a global leader in diabetes care technology. Jeff has extensive experience in privacy and data security. He began his privacy career in the US Department of Health and Human Services – Office for Civil Rights (HHS-OCR). While at HHS-OCR, Jeff managed investigations implicating HIPAA's Privacy, Security, and Breach Notification Rules and negotiated mandated corrective actions. Following his time at HHS-OCR, he worked for a pair of global law firms in Chicago and New York in their Chambers-ranked privacy practices. While in private practice, Jeff advised a wide range of clients on compliance with US federal and state privacy and data security requirements, as well as international data protection requirements. Immediately prior to joining Dexcom, Jeff was the Global Privacy Officer for Zimmer Biomet, leading its privacy program across all business units and geographies.

Arianna Evers

WilmerHale, Washington, DC, USA

Arianna advises clients on privacy, data security, and consumer protection issues arising under federal, state, and international laws. Arianna represents clients in investigations and litigation with state attorneys general and the Federal Trade Commission concerning alleged privacy and consumer protection violations. She advises a broad range of clients on privacy and data security compliance challenges, including those related to the CCPA and the collection of biometrics. Arianna's work also involves preparedness and response related to cybersecurity incidents.

John C. Gray

Lewis Roca, Phoenix, AZ, USA

John is Of Counsel with Lewis Roca Rothgerber Christie LLP. Based in Phoenix, John represents clients in a wide range of privacy and cybersecurity matters in both Arizona and California, and he has extensive litigation and regulatory experience in a number of jurisdictions. John is also a Certified Information Privacy Professional, has spoken and written on a variety of privacy and cybersecurity subjects, and is a regular host and contributor for the Phoenix and Bay Area Chapters of the CISO Executive Network. Before joining Lewis Roca, John served as Senior Litigation Counsel, Data Privacy Team Leader, and FinTech Sandbox Counsel at the Arizona Attorney General's Office, where he drafted much of Arizona's current breach-notification law and co-chaired the Technology Futures Subgroup of the Arizona Cybersecurity Team.

Eric B. Gyasi

Aon Cyber Solutions, New York, NY, USA

Eric is a Vice President at Aon's Cyber Solutions (formerly Stroz Friedberg). In this role, Eric is a key advisor to clients on matters of cybersecurity, digital forensics and incident response, and regulatory requirements regarding data privacy and information governance. Eric develops and implements tailored cybersecurity incident response strategies for clients, manages digital forensics and technical analysis, advises on evidence gathering and fact development, and leads engagement with law enforcement. Eric directs engagements involving forensic investigations in response to state-sponsored and non-state attacks and espionage, terrorism, identity theft and financial crime, hacktivism, insider threats, and bad leavers. An experienced privacy professional, Eric advises clients on proactively identifying and addressing risks related to data privacy and information governance. Eric leads data discovery, data mapping, and data classification projects. He also guides clients on designing policies, processes, and controls to comply with data subject requests and other aspects of global data privacy laws.

Emily B. Jennings

Paul Hastings, New York, NY, USA

Emily is a Discovery Attorney at Paul Hastings LLP, with 15 years of experience in litigation and technology. She moved into her discovery-centric role in 2020 and previously served as an associate in the Intellectual Property practice, focusing on complex litigation in the fields of pharmaceuticals and biotechnology. She works with Paul Hastings attorneys across practice groups to tailor discovery strategies and drive efficiencies, including the use of machine learning and predictive coding. Before joining Paul Hastings in 2013, she was a litigator at Goodwin Procter LLP in Boston. She received her J.D., cum laude, from Boston College Law School and later completed a post-baccalaureate premedical sciences program at Bennington College. She is based in New York.

Serge D. Jorgensen

The Sylint Group, Sarasota, FL, USA

Serge serves as the Chief Technology Officer for the Sylint Group and provides technical input in the areas of information security, data forensics and incident response. He has received patents in engineering and math-related fields while developing secure, low-bandwidth data transmission techniques and methodologies. Serge works closely with the FBI and industry groups in addressing forensic and information security needs to safeguard critical infrastructure processes and components. In this work, he is responsible for developing and implementing secure communication protocols, traffic analysis techniques, malware identification, and remediation efforts. Serge works nationally and internationally to mitigate the effects of malicious attacks against corporate and government enterprises, is a published author, and a vice-chair of the ABA's Electronic Discovery and Digital Evidence committee.

Amy Keller

DiCello Levitt Gutzler LLC

Amy is a partner at the law firm of DiCello Levitt Gutzler LLC, focusing her practice on consumer protection, products liability, and technology class action litigation. As the youngest woman ever appointed to lead a nationwide, multidistrict class action, Amy serves as co-lead counsel in data breach litigation involving Equifax and Marriott. She has built a reputation as an advocate for individuals and small businesses, alike. Amy is recognized as a National Law Journal Plaintiff Trailblazer, one of the Top 40 Under 40 trial lawyers in Illinois by National Trial Lawyers, and a Rising Star by Super Lawyers. She is a two-time chair of the Chicago Bar Association's Class Action Committee, and a board member of the Public Justice Foundation, a not-for-profit legal advocacy organization protecting consumers, employees, civil rights, and the environment.

Jerami D. Kemnitz

Littler Mendelson P.C., Minneapolis, MN, USA

Jerami is a seasoned litigator with over 25 years of private practice and in-house experience. He has advised clients in strategic and tactical eDiscovery, data privacy and security solutions, and the creation and implementation of operating models, protocols, policies, and procedures to efficiently balance risk management, compliance, and costs. Jerami currently serves as Director and Assistant General Counsel of Compliance, Privacy and Security for Littler Mendelson. Prior to that, Jerami served as Global Head of eDiscovery for Wells Fargo, and was founder and chair of Shook, Hardy & Bacon's International Discovery and Data Privacy Team. Jerami is an active member of The Sedona Conference Working Group 6 on International Electronic Information Management, Discovery and Disclosure (WG6); The Sedona Conference Working Group 11 on Data Security and Privacy Liability (WG11); chairs the Diversity Subcommittee on Attraction; and is a member and former chair of the WG6 Middle East Committee.

Gary Klinger

Milberg, Chicago, IL, USA

Gary is a Partner at the international plaintiffs' class action firm Milberg Coleman Bryson Phillips Grossman, LLC ("Milberg"). Gary has extensive experience serving as leadership in numerous high-stakes consumer class actions. He has settled more than fifty (50) class actions, the majority of which were privacy cases, as lead or co-lead counsel and recovered over $100 million in the process. Gary's privacy practice includes data breaches, ransomware attacks, unlawful collection and/or disclosure of personal information, and violations of privacy statutes and/or laws, such as the Illinois Biometric Information Privacy Act, Illinois Genetic Information Privacy Act, California's Consumer Privacy Act, California's Confidentiality of Medical Information Act, the Telephone Consumer Protection Act, and the EU General Data Protection Regulation. In addition to his privacy litigation experience, Gary is a Certified Information Privacy Professional (CIPP/US) and is presently pursuing his Masters of Laws (LLM) in Data Privacy and Cybersecurity from the University of Southern California Gould School of Law.

Matthew Meade

Eckert Seamans, Pittsburgh, PA, USA

Matt is a member of the Data Security and Privacy Group at Eckert Seamans. Matt works closely with clients to manage and respond to data security breaches involving state law issues and federal law such as HIPAA. He helps clients to proactively identify business risks associated with the use and storage of sensitive information. He regularly conducts cyber training and runs interactive breach exercises. Matt's practice requires in-depth knowledge of security breach notification laws and other U.S. state and federal data security requirements (including laws regarding disposal of records). Matt obtained his B.A. in Political Science from Yale University, and his J.D. from Fordham Law School.

Douglas Meal

Orrick Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP, Boston, MA, USA

Doug defends clients targeted by litigation and government investigations stemming from major privacy and cybersecurity incidents. According to Chambers USA 2017, companies select Doug because he is “regarded by market sources as the leading privacy litigator in the USA.” As the lead outside lawyer handling claims stemming from the data security breaches suffered by Target, Neiman Marcus, The Home Depot, Hilton Worldwide, Landry’s, Arby’s, Supervalu, Sally Beauty, Sony, Heartland Payment Systems, TJ Maxx, Hannaford Brothers, Aldo, Genesco, and Wyndham Hotels—some of the most highly publicized data security breaches in recent years—Doug has become the national leader in defending companies that suffer significant cybersecurity breaches involving consumer information against the ensuing claims and regulatory investigations. Doug’s recent successes include leading the team that prevailed in the closely watched LabMD v. FTC, convincing the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit to become the first court ever to overturn a cybersecurity enforcement action by the Federal Trade Commission.

Tim Murphy

Pennsylvania Office of Attorney General, Philadelphia, PA, USA

Tim is a Deputy Attorney General in the Bureau of Consumer Protection for the Pennsylvania Office of Attorney General. He primarily focuses on privacy, data protection, and cybersecurity issues throughout the Commonwealth and participates on numerous multistate investigations involving nationwide data breaches. In addition, he litigates various consumer protection matters involving the Pennsylvania Unfair Trade Practices and Consumer Protection Law. Mr. Murphy earned his Juris Doctor from Villanova University School of Law, Master of Education from Lehigh University, and Bachelor of Science from the University of Pittsburgh. He regularly speaks throughout Pennsylvania regarding consumer protection and privacy topics.

James J. Pizzirusso

Hausfeld, Washington, DC, USA

James is a founding partner in Hausfeld’s Washington, DC office. His practice centers on representing plaintiffs in class actions cases involving consumer protection and cybersecurity/privacy (chair of practice group), antitrust, environmental torts, and sports and entertainment law. In addition to practicing law, James has served as a visiting professor at George Washington University Law School. In his consumer and cybersecurity practice, James has served in court appointed leadership capacities in dozens of major class actions recovering hundreds of millions of dollars for his clients. In the antitrust sector, James generally handles direct purchaser class actions alleging price fixing and collusion in various agricultural and food sectors. He presently serves as Co-Chair of the American Bar Association’s Antitrust Section’s Food and Agriculture Committee. Super Lawyers has recognized James as a Top Rated Class Action & Mass Torts Attorney and Who’s Who Legal: Competition named him as one of the country’s leading antitrust practitioners. In 2017, the National Law Journal recognized

James as a “Cybersecurity Trailblazer” for his work on behalf of consumer and financial institutions impacted by data breaches.

Prof. Brian Ray

Cleveland-Marshall College of Law, Cleveland, OH, USA

Brian has extensive experience in eDiscovery, information governance and data privacy. He and Candice Hoke founded and co-direct the Center for Cybersecurity and Privacy Protection. They also are co-editors of the Center-sponsored SSRN Cybersecurity, Data Privacy and eDiscovery Law and Policy eJournal. Brian also co-founded, with Tim Opsitnick of JurInnov, the Cleveland eDiscovery Roundtable, an informal group of lawyers, judges and academics that meets monthly to discuss issues surrounding electronic discovery, cybersecurity and data privacy issues. In 2016 Ohio Attorney General Mike DeWine appointed Brian to the CyberOhio Advisory Board. He co-chairs the Northeast Ohio CyberConsortium’s Workforce Development Committee and is a member of The Sedona Conference Working Group on Data Security and Privacy Liability (WG11). Brian also is an expert in comparative and international law. His book, Engaging with Social Rights: Participation, Procedure and Democracy in South Africa’s Second Wave provides a comprehensive analysis of the South African Constitutional Court’s social rights decisions. He was a Fulbright Scholar in South Africa and has published extensively on comparative constitutional law and social rights.

Daniel Raymond,

Arnold & Porter, Hinsdale, IL, USA

Dan represents companies facing complex data, privacy and cybersecurity issues in litigation, regulatory and counseling matters. Dan has particular experience defending data breach class actions, state and federal government investigations, and advising clients on cybersecurity and privacy compliance issues and insurance product offerings. His experience spans the range of federal and state privacy laws, including HIPAA, the California Consumer Protection Act, Illinois Biometric Information Privacy Act, as well as the statutory and common law of most states.

Alfred Saikali

Shook, Hardy, & Bacon LLP, Miami, FL, USA

Al is a partner in Shook, Hardy & Bacon’s Miami office. He is a founder and co-chair of the firm’s Data Security and Data Privacy Practice group. Al specializes in U.S. and international data privacy and security compliance and plays a key role in assisting companies minimize their risks associated with the collection, use, storage, and disposal of sensitive information. He also directs data breach response efforts, advises companies of applicable laws, leads their internal investigations, communicates with law enforcement and regulators, and helps to minimize negative effects in the event of a breach. Al maintains the blog, Data Security Law Journal, which focuses on data security and data privacy law. He is a Certified Information Privacy Professional and is often cited by the media about issues relating to data security, data privacy, technology, and commercial litigation.

David C. Shonka

Redgrave LLP, Chantilly, VA, USA

David is a partner at Redgrave LLP, where he counsels clients on issues related to data privacy, cybersecurity, eDiscovery, cross-border data transfers, government civil law enforcement investigations, and information governance. In addition to his work on client matters, David serves as the Firm's General Counsel and oversees and reviews legal, risk, and compliance issues. Prior to joining Redgrave LLP, he served three years as the Acting General Counsel of the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) (March 2016 - April 2018, January - June 2009, and October 2012 - June 2013). In that role, he frequently commented on Federal legislative proposals and was the FTC's chief legal advisor and oversaw its Litigation, Legal Counsel, and Opinions & Analysis groups and the agency's FOIA, employment law, and Energy Counsel staff. David also served ten years as the FTC's Principal Deputy General Counsel and as a member of the Administrative Conference of the U.S., serving on the Committee on Judicial Review and the Council of Independent Regulatory Agencies. He is an active member of the Sedona Conference, and he has previously served and is now serving again on the Steering Committee for Working Group 6 (cross-border transfers of data), the Steering Committee for Working Groups 1 (e-discovery and electronic records) and is active in Working Group 11 (privacy and data security). David is a recipient of the 2015 Presidential Rank Award of Meritorious Executive.

James D. Shook

Dell, Johns Creek, GA, USA

Jim leverages a diverse technology and legal background to help organizations understand and meet their compliance obligations for electronically stored information. Along with an undergraduate degree in Computer Science, he is an experienced commercial litigator and a former general counsel to technology companies. Jim publishes and speaks frequently about meeting challenges created by the intersection of law and technology, and has been an active member of The Sedona Conference's WG1 since 2004 and WG11 since 2015.

Joseph Warren Swanson

Carlton Fields, Tampa, FL, USA

Joe is of counsel at Carlton Fields in Tampa, and co-leader of the firm's data privacy and cybersecurity task force. Joe's practice focuses on representing companies, executives, and directors in shareholder and other commercial litigation, as well as in government and criminal investigations. Joe also advises clients on issues related to cybersecurity, including preparing for and responding to data breaches and similar cyber incidents. Prior to joining the firm, Joe served as an Assistant U.S. Attorney in the Criminal Division of the U.S. Attorney's Office for the Middle District of Florida. Joe served as the Tampa office's Computer Hacking and Intellectual Property ("CHIP") Coordinator. In that role, Joe not only investigated and prosecuted computer/privacy crimes, but he also advised other prosecutors on investigative techniques involving internet and email providers, computers, websites, and other electronic evidence. Joe received his J.D. from the Georgetown University Law Center and his B.A. from Georgetown University. Joe clerked for the Honorable J. Frederick Motz, U.S. District Court for the District of Maryland.

Douglas S. Swetnam

Indiana Attorney General, Indianapolis, IN, USA

Doug is Section Chief - Data Privacy & Identity Theft Unit in the Office of Indiana Attorney General Todd Rokita. He has managed the review and investigation of several thousand data breaches. He led the state's investigation and litigation against Equifax, obtaining a $19.5 million judgment. He has led multi-state litigation and multi-state investigations in matters involving technology, data breaches and HIPAA. He currently serves as Co-Chair of the Legal and Insurance working group for the Indiana Executive Cybersecurity Council. He helped form the Indiana Identity Theft Task Group with USSS, FBI, SSA OIG, IRS, US Marshalls, US Postal Inspector and state and local law enforcement. He has testified before U.S. Congressional panels and a General Accounting Office investigation related to unemployment claims. In his early career he was a litigator, where he represented insurance companies in both third party and first party cases. Prior to joining the Indiana Attorney General's office, he served as Global Director of Web Technologies for a Fortune 200 company and subsequently worked in various capacities for two additional Fortune 500 companies.

Jami Mills Vibbert

Arnold & Porter, New York, NY, USA

Jami is a data protection and cybersecurity partner in the New York office of Arnold & Porter. She counsels on compliance with the ever-growing number of data protection requirements and on how to create global data strategies designed to align with these requirements in an efficient, proactive, and operationalized way. Jami assists in program and policy creation, conducts privacy and data security risk assessments, advises on data risk management, negotiates privacy and data security provisions with customers and third parties, and engages in privacy and data security due diligence. In the aftermath of a security incident or data loss, she guides clients through breach response and crisis management and has been counsel for clients in privacy and data security-focused investigations with relevant privacy and data security regulators and in privacy and data security litigation.

Craig W. Weinlein

The Sedona Conference, Phoenix, AZ, USA

Craig is the Executive Director of The Sedona Conference and Editor-in-Chief of The Sedona Conference Journal. He has been a member of the Board of Directors of The Sedona Conference since 2009 and currently serves as the Chairman of the Board. Craig has worked with The Sedona Conference since 2000, when he served on the faculty of the first Conference on Patent Litigation. He was a member of The Sedona Conference Advisory Board from 2004 to 2013. Before joining The Sedona Conference full time in 2014, Craig was a partner with Carrington, Coleman, Sloman & Blumenthal, LLP in Dallas, Texas, for 25 years. He served as Chair of his firm's Intellectual Property Practice Group for his last ten years with the firm. His primary area of practice was complex litigation with a concentration in intellectual property cases. When in private practice, Craig tried dozens of cases and argued numerous appeals in federal and state courts. He is counsel of record in 29 reported court decisions. Craig was selected by American Lawyer Media and Martindale-Hubbell as a Top-Rated Lawyer in Intellectual Property. He also was listed as one of the best trademark practitioners in Texas in Who's Who Legal: Texas and in World Trademark Review 1000—The World's Leading Trademark Professionals. Craig's book, The Art of Witness Preparation, is a unique contribution to the literature on complex litigation because it focuses on the witness's testimony and presentation, instead of the lawyer's examination and performance. Craig's publication credits also include articles in The American Journalism Review, The Journal of Arts Management and Law, The American Symphony Orchestra League's Principles of Orchestra Management, and The Journal of Air Law and Commerce.

Larry Wescott

Arete Incident Response, Washington, DC, USA

Larry is Associate General Counsel, Privacy at Arete Incident Response. He leverages his experience in IT management and administration to oversee Arete's global security and data privacy compliance efforts. He is a contributor to two Sedona publications and is a former chair of the Technology Committee of the Litigation Section of the Maryland State Bar Association. Larry is an honors graduate of the Carey School of Law at the University of Maryland and holds a master's degree in business administration from the University of Georgia's Terry College of Business. He is also a Certified Information Systems Security Professional (CISSP).

Jonathan M. Wilan

Sidley Austin LLP, Washington, DC, USA

Jonathan is a partner at Sidley Austin LLP in Washington, D.C., where he focuses his practice on the intersection between legal risk and data. Jonathan has extensive experience in the areas of cybersecurity, complex litigation, investigations, and large-scale compliance technology implementations. Jonathan is also a frequent speaker and thought leader on issues related to cybersecurity, information management, and complex litigation. He sits on the Steering Committee of The Sedona Conference Working Group 11 on Data Security and Privacy Liability. He earned a B.A., magna cum laude, from the University of Maryland at College Park and a J.D., cum laude, from Harvard Law School.