

THE KEYS
TO SEDUCING
LATIN WOMEN

THE KEYS TO SEDUCING LATIN WOMEN

www.waystogetwomen.com

Devoted to the power and right that we all have within us to find the woman we want and be happy. To the people that are beginning to discover that life is too short to pass up submission to conformity of common existence.

Table of content

Foreword by Nick Rogue.....	6
Introduction.....	8
The first impression.....	10
The initial status of a “Gringo”.....	11
Making a difference.....	16
I S L C (Instant Latina Sexual Chemistry).....	18
What Latin women wonder on the first encounter.....	22
Picking up Latin women at day and night.....	27
Learning Spanish - Portuguese to Pick Up Latinas?.....	28
During the night.....	30
Identifying her interest.....	32
Projecting high value in Latin night clubs.....	33
Kick ass strategies to meet Latin women in night clubs.....	36
Strategy #1.....	38
Strategy #2.....	39
Strategy #3.....	41
Strategy #4.....	41
How to pick up Latin women in night clubs being with just guys.....	42
www.waystogetwomen.com

How to approach a Latina at night if she's with other guys?.....	43
Indirect ways to start conversations with Latin women.....	45
During the day.....	47
Meeting Latin women in the gym.....	48

How to get her interested.....50

The phone situation.....	52
Inviting her out.....	52
The first date.....	55
Where to take her if your Spanish level sucks.....	55
In case your Spanish level is good.....	56
The proper mind set.....	58
Great conversation topics to use.....	62
The way to treat them.....	63
Great Spanish phrases to know, and when to use them.....	64
How to obtain a kiss with a Latin woman.....	67

Latin Culture.....72

Who pays the bill?.....	72
Is Latin culture chauvinistic?.....	73
Origins of Latin culture.....	74

How the culture is romantically involved.....	75
How sexually open minded is the culture.....	76
Is it worth to have a relationship with a Latina?.....	77
Where to find the cute ones depending by country.....	78
Meeting Latin Girls When Travelling – How To Make A Good Impression.....	80
Latin women online.....	82
Have you heard about the mail order bride?.....	82
The pictures.....	83
Description lines.....	84
How to deal with Latinas.....	88
Latin psychological tests.....	89
What a man needs to know if he gets into a serious relationship with a Latina.....	91
What to expect of a Latina according to her age.....	93
Differences between Latin women and US women.....	94
The gravitational law of attraction.....	96
How to get them around you.....	96
Constructive Compliments.....	97
Make her qualify herself.....	98

Attracting Latin women.....	99
How does attraction work inside Latinas' minds?.....	99
Why you should learn dancing and what to learn.....	102
 Sex with Latin women.....	 103
The place for sex.....	104
Real story (Seduction in the apartment).....	106
How they behave sexually.....	108
How to make sex happen.....	108
Sexual performance.....	109
About the author.....	111
About the company.....	112
For more info.....	114

Foreword by Nick Rogue

"If you want a proper margarita, don't go to an Irish pub"

This bit of bar wisdom has applications that extend far beyond the bar...

...It even extends into the realm of seduction.

Listen, if you want to know what it takes to seduce a Latina, sure you could come to me and I could give you the principles that are cross-cultural when it comes to getting sexy women into bed...and you'll get results.

-BUT-

Wouldn't it be so much better to go straight to the source and learn from Esteban Lara, a guy who has been seducing Latin women for his entire adult life!?

Wouldn't you much rather know the exact things you should do to seduce a Latina that might not be as effective on the typical American (or wherever you're from) girl?

And more importantly, isn't it time you understand the cultural differences so that you can stop doing the things that repel Latinas (even if those same things get girls from your culture fired up and ready to go to bed with you)!?

That is exactly what Esteban Lara reveals in this guide. You are going to know exactly how to seduce Latin women straight from a guy who KNOWS Latin women.

So if you're ready to seduce that sexy girl, let's call her "Margarita", it's time you get out of that proverbial "Irish Pub" and put your confidence in the words of Esteban Lara. Read on...

www.waystogetwomen.com

Preface

“Every man dies, not every man really lives.”

-William Wallace

A wise quote, indeed. So many men these days are unhappily married to a woman they chose by mistake. Worse yet, some of these men settle for a sub-par marriage because they believe that being with a woman they don't love is a normal thing. They trick themselves into thinking that having a curvy, spicy girl in their arms is unattainable, only to realize their folly all too late.

So where can a man find the woman of his dreams? The need look no further than Latin America, a group of nations with an unusually high concentration of attractive women. The only problem is that, stereotypically, the sensual vivacity and tenderness of Latin women is difficult to harness because of their equally stereotypical flakiness. Because of the high learning curve with Latin American women, getting to know them can be difficult for most men.

I'm Latin, and I was born and raised in Colombia, a country with the sexiest women in the world. I know the Latina mind set. So trust me, my advice on Latinas is spot on.

I'm here to reveal my secrets, so you can also get the Latin woman of your dreams.

Over the past years I've refined my technique, and made all of the mistakes you won't have to make (if you follow my advice carefully). I've been where you are, and I am where you're going to be.

I wish you the best of luck on your journey to mastering the art of seducing Latin women.

www.waystogetwomen.com

The First Impression

Latin women have some things in common with women from the US and Europe. So, all you have to do is know which are the things in common and what the differences are. This way you'll calibrate your game and be successful. And, as you read this book, you'll find a lot of things that will work also with women from any other place in the world.

The good news is that this course will give you the power to reach a higher level in seduction skills, because when you manage to seduce Latin women, you'll think that seducing other types of women is a piece of cake.

I will start with several basic points that I want you to consider before you try to seduce Latin women.

www.waystogetwomen.com

When a Latin woman of value meets a man from another country, the first things that she wonders are:

1. Can I trust him or is he a stranger that I need to get rid of?
2. Is he someone important or is he just another needy guy trying to impress me?

Your chance of success depends on how you get her mind to answer these questions about you.

This is not something that is done overtly; it's about acting in ways that will get her perception of you to be such that she will answer those questions about you in your favor.

I'm about to teach you precisely how to do this.

I'm sure you've heard about the amount of beautiful Latin women who are waiting for you.

But be prepared! You should know that the women of this region do not think like the American or European women.

Before answering the above questions, we will discuss the status that you have the first time a Latina meets you.

The initial status of a "Gringo"

OK if you are blond or white skinned with green or blue eyes or an American/English accent, everybody from Latin America will badge you as a "Gringo". That's the word Latin people will use to describe you if you are from the US, England, Scotland or Australia.

And before deciding you want a Latin girl, you must understand that millions of Gringos have been trying to seduce them with few positive results with the women who are 8s, 9s, and 10s. Although Gringos will usually achieve some success with some 5s, 6s, and 7s, I'm sure that what you're after are the women with high value, and you don't want to settle with someone who is not so cute.

There are some options you have when trying to find Latinas:

1. Finding them in your country by going to a Latin club.
2. Meeting them in some English classes in your country.
3. Being lucky and running into a Latin woman serendipitously.
4. Traveling to Latin America.

In all cases you're going to have to be prepared to take your game to a different level, and that's what you are about to learn.

Latin women are, according to many people, the most difficult kind of attractive women to seduce. Well, of course, if you go to Iraq you'll find more difficult women since they aren't allowed to go out of their houses, but I'm talking about the available women of the world.

Latinas identify the intentions of the Gringos by recognizing behavioral patterns shown by the majority of Gringos who have come before you. It means they have an image already in their minds.

The crucial point is that the image that other Gringos have left isn't so good and you may be discouraged when you go to some countries and find out that they don't go crazy in love right after they see you. Most of the cases they would act very skeptic and seem defensive. But don't worry, that's exactly why you are reading this book, to crack their minds and seduce them.

Most of the cases, the first time a Latina meets an American is when he goes on vacation to Latin America. And the story seems to be always the same; it gets so evident that the man goes expecting to bang every Latina he sees. While a Gringo is in a Latin country on vacation, his eyes moves from side to side while every Latina passes in front of him, looking very desperate for sex.

www.waystogetwomen.com

So the first step is to make a difference.

Do not look desperate for sex, or at least hide it at the initial encounter with a Latina. I'm not saying you should remain repressed, but in the initial encounter, yes. There will be a time later to escalate little by little to heat the environment, after recognizing the signals that say that the woman is open.

Perhaps you wonder, "What's wrong if a Latin girl knows that my intentions are just having sex while I'm on vacation?"

It is true that there is nothing wrong with wanting sex. We humans think about sex every day, but think for a minute and put yourself in the place of a Latin girl. With the majority of guys showing that they're desperate for sex, do you think that it would be very appealing to be with a desperate guy?

That's the perspective of every hot Latina because of what has happened to her every day of her life. Most of the guys in this region are so needy.

It's the same that happens when you go to a store and there's a desperate sales clerk who is too desperate to sell something to you. It makes you scared, right?

Perhaps you've heard that women subconsciously seek protection, while men seek to pass their genes. That fact is mentioned in some books.

Latin women aren't necessary looking for protection, and it wouldn't be right to say they are all looking for the same thing, but the first thing the majority of them are looking for is for providers.

Yes, it sounds weird, but it's a true fact, it's something that they will look in a man consciously, because it's what their moms and dads have taught them to look for. But the good news is that unconsciously each one of them feels the same attraction any woman of the world would feel for the different personality types of men. So a Latina would still feel unconscious attraction either for the bad boy, the gentleman, the Daddy and the leader.

www.waystogetwomen.com

So, be ready to be asked a lot about what you do and how you do it, because it's a question that they will ask you and dig into it, to find out that you have the potential to provide abundance in the future and that you aren't a lazy man who will make her live in scarcity.

The problem is that, consciously they have to find a provider. And that is because their parents tell them every day "honey, you need to choose a man that gives you the opportunity to live comfortably so you don't live in scarcity as some women live".

So it's a very real fear that Latin women have and that's why it becomes so important. I'm sure it doesn't happen in the US or some developed countries so much, because they aren't afraid of living in scarcity.

The situation with Latinas is that they are the second most dependent female specie in the planet (the #1 are the Arabian girls, who are not allowed to show their faces). They depend a lot more on men to provide the things for the family. Even when they make a lot of money they would look for a man that can provide, so they can spend it in clothes, jewelry and surgeries.

A Latina would not only analyze the behavior of a man, she would dig to find his achievements, the people that surround him and the projection the man has in order to succeed in life.

All those facts are important for Latinas because they have not had all the opportunities that are typically available in countries that are highly developed. They have had to live a harder life and have had to work very hard for very little while they were in their countries. In addition to it, the Latin culture is very chauvinistic, which means that it educates them to think that the man is the one who is supposed to work and the woman is supposed to be at home.

Even though the world is changing fast and women are claiming to be more independent, starting to work and study, they still have a strong need to find the kind of guy that their parents taught them to find.

www.waystogetwomen.com

I know, lately women are starting to become independent, many of them are making a lot more money than a lot of men, but Latinas still have not changed their perspective about what they want in a man, so they still analyze what the man does, what he earns, who the friends are, what projections he has in life, how prepared he is to succeed and how smart he is.

You'll notice that, even though a Latina can be making lots of money, she will always expect for the man to pay the bill on most of the dates. She wouldn't make the minimum attempt to pay for anything, unless she's already into the American or European culture.

And I'm not saying that women around the world don't look for those aspects, what I'm saying is that Latin women pay much more attention to it.

This isn't necessary bad news for you; it's actually the greatest news. Because, being a Gringo, a European or an Australian will project you as a man who wouldn't let her live in scarcity. So guess what, you have the exact potential to be the kind of guy she wants, as long as she sees that you aren't a lazy man!

All of the difficulties that life has given to Latin women in their countries have made them more aware and more analytical when it comes to finding a man who will provide for them; that's why they analyze so much before deciding to have sex with someone.

That's why I can tell you that women from Latin America aren't as easy to seduce as women from the United States or other countries in Europe.

The same way I can assure you that, if you want to feel loved, they are the perfect option for you. When a Latina allows a man to keep her, she's great. And if you aren't rich, don't worry. It's not necessary to have a lot of money to get Latin women, as I said before, Latinas would analyze the projection the man has and the skills to succeed in life.

One of the thoughts that most guys have is that once they go to Latin America or go to a Latin club in the US, all of the women are going to go crazy and are going to jump on them because they are “Gringos”, and this idea is completely false, wishful thinking. These women aren’t that easy, and the image that they have of gringos is not as good as you may think it is.

www.waystogetwomen.com

The image they have of gringos is not so good because all they see every day is guys coming to their countries for a week and having sex with ugly women. This is not attractive, high value behavior.

I’ve seen gringos so desperate that they end up with really ugly girls just because they will have sex with anything that lets them.

Let’s discuss about how to make a difference.

Making a difference

There are several basic recommendations that are going to differentiate you from the other desperate gringos, either if you are in your country or on vacation in South America:

1. Do not wear sandals on the street. Sandals show no class and most of the gringos who are on vacation in Latin America wear them. I recommend you start by wearing close toed shoes unless it is a Sunday. I don’t know why Latin women complain so much about this, they just hate how a guy looks in the street with sandals.
2. Wear clean clothes and cologne. For Latinas it’s very important that a man smells good. Some time ago I was talking to a Latin girlfriend and she told me she was on a date with an interesting man; I was surprised when she told me that she didn’t allow him to kiss her just because he didn’t smell of anything. That was funny; he didn’t even smell badly, he just didn’t smell particularly nice! Of course not all Latin women are so crazy about this, but you’ll be likely to meet a lot of cases like this, they really care about good smell.

3. When you see a very sexy Latina, do not chase her with your eyes. This is something most of the gringos do according to Latin women, and it shows desperation for sex which is not attractive. This is basic, and applies to women from any part of the world.
4. Forget about saying the typical phrases that all gringos say in the first date such as: "You are very pretty," "You're beautiful," "I want to be with you." Those phrases are easy to learn in Spanish but they do not show you as a man of value. It is more important to master body language than those lines. I'll teach you later some lines that work better.
5. Show yourself very uninterested in her at the beginning. Do not show any romantic intentions. Latin women feel like they're always on a pedestal. They are accustomed to men doing everything they say, and worst of all, most guys agree to do so. Latin America is a very chauvinistic place, which means that men are supposed to provide the things and women are supposed to take care of domestic things. Men are very gentlemanly at an extreme level with courtship, they think that the more they provide chocolates, flowers and gifts the more Latin women will like them. They try so hard to be gentlemen that they become wussies and start doing everything the girls say. Set yourself apart by not being a sycophant to her every whim.

Be a little disinterested at first and you'll see how she begins to show interest. Wait until she earns your attention. Also, be prepared for a lot of psychological tests; Latin women will give you more than any girl of any part of the.

After you consider the recommendations above, we'll answer the questions we referred at the beginning.

How To Create I. L. S. C

(Instant Latina Sexual Chemistry)

In this section, you'll discover my favorite "shortcut" technique for making Latinas feel fast sexual attraction towards you.

It will make you look like the charming prince they've always dreamed of.

I S L C is a simple method you can use in two situations:

- Right after you meet her.
- On the first date.

The method consists of following these three steps:

1. Isolate her by bringing her to a different or unexpected place.
2. Lay back, display confidence, and give her the chance to show her interest.
3. Give her an "insinuating kiss" on her cheek.

1. Isolate her to an unexpected place.

- Right after you meet her:

If you are in a bar, isolating her from her friends may sound a bit hard to do. However, there's always a way to make it seem natural.

The best way to do it is, after you gain some trust during the initial conversation (using the Keys you'll find throughout this book), say something like: "Hey, I want your help with something. The bar across the street has amazing cocktails and I want to try one of them. Maybe you can help me choose one, and drink something with me."

Isolating a Latina is the best option you have. These women are under a lot of social pressure. The culture is very closed, and people are concerned about what others might think. You want to get her away from her friends, so that she doesn't feel uncomfortable about talking to you.

www.waystogetwomen.com

When you achieve that isolation, you'll see how different her behavior becomes.

- On the first date:

Latin women are very open to dates. But the fact that you scored a date with a Latina doesn't mean you have her yet. There's still work to do.

I've travelled around the world. I know how different it is with European women, for example. Once she accepts going out for a date, it means she's usually open to at least giving you a kiss at the end of the night. When they accept going out with you, you can assume it means they feel some attraction towards you.

Latin women, however, are different. They'll often go on dates just to feel exposed to the world, and to be seen by other guys (and girls).

So you have to be careful on the first date with a Latina, because honestly there's a big chance she'll reject you and keep you as a friend if you don't do things the right way.

Before we start thinking of the isolation, I'd like to mention the importance of dressing well. Latin women care a lot about this. Way more than girls from other cultures.

There's also one more mistake I urge you to avoid: leaving it up to her to decide where to go on the date.

Never do that. This is an automatic attraction killer. Latinas are attracted to masculine men, and one of the key traits of a "real man" is that he demonstrates leadership. So take the lead, and choose the location of the date.

Another benefit of doing this is that you will have more control over the environment. Take her to a place you are already familiar with, which you know will be comfortable and appropriate.

www.waystogetwomen.com

So the first step to get her isolated on the first date is to take her (unexpectedly) to the silliest place that doesn't make sense at all. Maybe a tacky little bar that looks like crap, but you just like a strange cocktail they sell. Tell her you want to do a first stop there just to show her your favorite cocktail before going somewhere else.

Do not take her to the fancy bar as a first choice.

Anyway, the fact you are taking her to that shitty place will give her some strong unconscious signals...

- You are not eager to impress her. (Like most other guys, who try way too hard.)
- You follow your natural instincts. You picked this place because they serve a drink you like. You're not overly concerned with what other people think.
- There won't be a lot of other attractive, well-dressed guys in this place, which will make you unique. You will shine in comparison to them.

2. Next, lay back and give her the chance to show her interest.

This will give her the chance to work for you.

The strong signal you are sending while taking her to that non-romantic, unexpected place should be accompanied by a relaxed attitude. Trust me, she will start working hard to get your attention. It's that simple.

A Latina would never understand why a man is laying back and relaxed while being in an isolated place. This is something that would make her work hard to get your attention again.

It will make her wonder if there's something wrong with her, which will make her show her sensuality to the maximum level to regain your attention.

This laidback attitude should not last long. It should be only for the beginning of the interaction.

After you see that she's showing interest and she's tried a bit to make you attracted, it's time to go for the 3rd step. It will make her choose you as a potential lover.

3. Try the insinuating kiss on her cheek.

Be careful not to make the same silly mistake all other gringos make: They verbalize sex.

There's nothing more horrible for a Latina than a man who speaks about the sexual act that hasn't occurred yet.

If you do this, her interest in you will immediately diminish. This mistake is as bad as bragging about money or material things. (Latina women strongly dislike this type of behavior as well.)

So in this third step, you're going to kiss her on the cheek while teasing her. This will let her know you won't be just a friend, without pushing too much for sex.

The way to do it is while you speak. You can be talking about any subject. It doesn't have to be a sexual topic. Just make sure you identify some signals of interest before you do it.

Following these three simple steps will put you in the "romantic zone" of her brain right from the start of the date. When you leave the first date location and take her somewhere else (another bar, or to go eat), the rest of the seduction should be much easier.

She will be more open and ready for you.

So keep reading to discover more keys to seducing your dream Latina...

What Latin women wonder on the first encounter

Can I trust him or is he a stranger that I need to get rid of?

At first you're an unknown, but this is something that can be solved easily. Let's say you go to a Latin bar where music has a moderate volume and it's possible to speak:

- When you approach a woman or her group of friends, talk to them always in the same way you would talk to your lifelong friends. It's simple; you can just ask a simple question or make a joke about something that is happening in the environment at the time. To meet Latin women I advise you to ask something you want to know about the Latin culture; that way you'll look natural and playful.

You can say something in Spanish but my suggestion is that you start finding out if they speak English. Ex: "Hey, do you speak English? I want to know something...", If you can keep things going in English you'll be making her or them invest in the interaction and therefore feel more interested since the beginning.

I'll give you more strategies to start conversations in the next chapter.

- Never say to a Latina "I'm sorry" or "Can I ask you a question?" or "Could you please help me with something?" or "I'm sorry to bother you, but...". Just be confident and never apologize for interrupting. Talk the same way you would if they were your friends you hadn't seen in a while.
- When you ask something, you must look natural. If you don't know Spanish just say it in English, you'll still find some Latinas that speak English.

- Before asking the question wait for them to shut up (in case it's a group of Latin girls). Start saying aloud something like "Hey, I want to ask you something", then you pause, look at them in their eyes and wait for them to pay attention to what you are saying.

In the following link, you can find a very effective way to learn Spanish quickly and easily:

<http://tinyurl.com/669gudp>

Your body language will improve with practice and it is very important to use it properly to look social. By having good body language, you will eliminate the pressure that is felt in the air when speaking to strangers; and you will look more natural.

- Do not try to seduce every woman you approach just to show that you are a seducer. That's a mistake many men make. They think they need to show their friends how good they are with women. That kind of pressure kills the relaxed attitude that is needed for a man to look cool.

A man of value doesn't chase every woman he sees. That's why it's so important that when you talk to women and you don't like any of them, to just move on without worrying about seducing them.

- Know that the question must be in line with the situation and must be in line with the body language and energy of the people who are in the group you're approaching. What I mean by this is that it's necessary to have good body language and ask something that won't make you look weird in the situation.

Some time ago I saw a PUA (Pick Up Artist) from Spain approaching a woman on her way to board a bus in the street with the following phrase: "Can I ask you a question? How often should I wash my pajamas?" Although the idea of the opener was to show that he had a sense of humor, it had the opposite effect: the woman looked scared and left.

The pajamas question was a terrible option for the situation, and it didn't help that the guy looked nervous and awkward when he was delivering it.

That's why I say that it is very important to use a statement that feels natural and not to try something that makes you look stupid. Do not try being outlandish with strange questions just to impress a Latina. It's very probable that she wouldn't understand your sense of humor at the beginning, which is very different than the US humor.

Is he someone important or is he just another needy guy?

It is useful to develop a look and energy that shows class and status.

No matter where you are from, I recommend that you pay attention to this if you want to have the opportunity to meet high-class women and to enter social circles that demand a stricter protocol than you're used to.

It is very important to pay attention to your looks. The clothes you wear say a lot about the status you have. If you look well put together, you will have more luck when you try to attract women.

For some reason Latin girls pay specific attention to the condition of the men's teeth and shoes to determine their status. That's why I recommend that you pay attention to the appearance of these two aspects of your looks. Do not buy clothes that look old and get your teeth organized. First impressions count a lot in Latin America.

Although these are basic things, I feel they are noteworthy because the look is one of the few things that a Latin woman can use to judge a man in an initial meeting anywhere.

Another thing that a Latina will unconsciously analyze to determine if you have status is the people you are with. If you're with people who are badly dressed or ugly looking women, she will feel you do not have high status, and will lose interest.

There's something you'll notice in Latin nightclubs and bars. Guys still use awful strategies and look needy. It makes women raise their shields to protect themselves from them. That's why it's very important to use a way to approach that feels natural and shows confidence.

Here are some of the things most guys do in Latin night clubs that you should never do:

- Taking a woman to dance when she has shown no interest in dancing with you. This one is a classic. It's the #1 strategy of frustrated Latin Guys who don't know about this book. You'll see, when there's a cute Latina in a club, approximately 20 different guys ask her to dance even when she's not showing any interest.
- Sending a woman drinks from across the bar.
- Sending a note with the waiter.
- Complimenting her when she hasn't done anything to deserve it.
- Looking desperate.
- Staring at every cute girl that walks to the bathroom.
- Looking drunk.

All the behaviors above are made by the majority of guys in Latin America, and Latin women can smell the desperation off them from a mile away, and these men make our work more complicated because women use automatic defenses, "shields," to get rid of them.

www.waystogetwomen.com

Put yourself in a woman's situation. Imagine how boring it would be to be in a club and several women approach to get you to dance for no reason...okay, that wouldn't be so boring, but for most women when men do that, it is 😊.

Picking up Latin women at day and night

www.waystogetwomen.com

Learning Spanish - Portuguese to Pick Up Latinas?

One day, I was having a good conversation with my friend from Florida. He went to Brazil for quite a number of months. Before he went to Brazil, he took Portuguese lessons because the people there speak Portuguese. But even if he learned the language, still he was not really fluent.

When he arrived to Brazil, he was fascinated with the many beautiful Latinas that are walking almost everywhere. He then started approaching some women and talking to them in Portuguese. The first few minutes were fine but then something interesting happened. These women were becoming bitchy and so he asked me what happened.

The answer is pretty straightforward. When speaking in their language, the entire time you give them 'the power'. Unless you are a fluent speaker of Portuguese or Spanish, you should not be using more than a few sentences of the language.

You probably have talked to someone, perhaps a foreigner and his English is not straight for fluent. You notice your interaction becomes uninteresting after few minutes. That's the same thing that happens with Latinas. There is nothing wrong in learning Portuguese or Spanish but when approaching a girl, you should avoid using more than a few words. Here is what you should do. Approach them with a very simple question: 'Do you speak English?'

If the lady knows how to speak English or a little bit, then that's what you need to keep going. Without any effort, you will lead or dominate the interaction. If the woman you approached does not speak English at all, it is best to try your slow Spanish or just look for another girl. If you decide to try your Spanish or Portuguese and it's not very fluent it's better if you go more direct instead of trying hard to keep your conversation going and flowing smooth.

What I mean by going direct is getting her number fast. Don't be afraid of showing some interest in this case. Here's an example of being direct and showing some interest in Spanish:

You: "Hey, do you speak English?"

Her: No

www.waystogetwomen.com

You: "ok, Me parece bonita y quiero conocerte, me das tu número?"

It means "I think you are cute and I want to get to know you, would you give me your number?"

But if the girl knows to speak a little English, make sure to talk to her as if you are talking to a baby, in a slow manner.

Learning Spanish is difficult but possible. Although you will be faced with many challenges while learning this, at the end of the lesson, you will realize the time and effort you spend are well worth it. One of the most difficult parts in learning the language is conjugating hundreds of regular and irregular verbs in their several tenses. Making the conjunctions is even tougher as you have to understand the subject or reflexive pronounced being used in the sentence. There are some rules to be used to make the conjugation process a lot easier and this is something you can learn if you take classes.

There are many ways you can learn the language quickly. You can always take a lesson or use software designed to enhance your Spanish accent and vocabulary. You can also start with the basic Spanish words and conversational Spanish. If you have a friend who is a Spanish native, you can always ask him or her to spend a little time each day to teach you how to properly, correctly and fluently speak Spanish.

Anyway, the conclusion is that you don't need to learn Spanish or Portuguese to seduce Latin women. And if you learn the language, don't use much of it if she speaks at least a little bit of English. Only use it when you see that she doesn't speak at all.

During the night

There is something I want you to understand - if you are in a club you won't be able to show the lifestyle you have, the car you have, the house you have, the travels you've had, or the finances and money you have in your bank account. In these places you must learn to demonstrate value with very different strategies.

We know that in a nightclub, it will not matter much what you say because of the loud music. Latin clubs always use a high volume of music, which makes it almost impossible to talk. The idea of these clubs is supposedly to dance. You may have a good phrase to initiate the conversation, but if you do not project social value, you won't accomplish anything. The high volume of the music makes conversations very difficult, so you have to show value in other ways.

And of course, when I refer to a Latin club, I'm talking about the kind of Latin club you'll see in the US or in the Latin countries located in the north of Latin America, the places where you'll be more likely to meet the kind of Latina with tanned skin and spicy behavior. Women that love to dance salsa, merengue, vallenato, bachata, reggaeton, etc.

www.waystogetwomen.com

In fact, the high volume of the music in clubs can be good for you if you do not speak Spanish very well because you won't have to talk so much. So don't worry.

For this reason, it is important that in these places you just approach women when you can identify them showing some interest.

Women only show interest for a reason.

In the midst of a bar or club sometimes you'll see some women with whom you don't need to use indirect methods of approach. Sometimes the value you're projecting in your looks is so appropriate that women will begin to show interest all on their own. They pay a lot of attention to the skills, the personality, the social value, and the way a man behaves in order to determine if he has a chance of success in life.

And they look for those things very carefully because Latin women depend on men so much. Most women are still looking for the charming prince they see in cartoons when they were little girls. That's why you have to play the charming prince if you want to get the cutest girls. That way you'll create a situation where she will show a high interest in you.

Latin women aren't as cold as a woman from Europe may be. They are very expressive. When a Latina is interested in a man she would really show her unconscious interest and would never be able to hide it.

So, before telling you how to become the charming prince they all want, you must identify some signals that women from any nationality will show you in a night club. It's basic but noteworthy because it's the easiest way to realize when to approach a Latina.

Identifying her interest

A Latin woman would show interest in a club as follows:

- She keeps eye contact for more than a few seconds (don't look away, keep eye contact until she breaks it). After she breaks eye contact, do not keep staring at her; just ignore it and keep doing whatever you were doing. Later, she will look at you again. This time hold eye contact again and give her a little smile.
- She looks at you and smiles slightly from the beginning. Smile back and keep talking to your friends while ignoring her. Later we'll discuss how to approach her.
- Her body language is open to you, and she keeps brushing her hair.
- She walks near your side several times and looks at you.

There are more universal unconscious ways to show interest, but these ones are the only ones you should look for before approaching a Latina in a night club.

Now we'll discuss how to become the charming prince I was telling you about. To project the value to make women see you as an important man. What comes next is not a mystery; it's something that will work no matter what kind of club or country you are. The only things that change in a Latin club are the music, the people and the way to approach. And the approach must be done only after women show interest, which would only happen if they realize you have something they like.

To project a high value in Latin nightclubs to the point where women begin to show interest, you can do the following:

Projecting high value in Latin night clubs

1. Always go to Latin clubs accompanied by women. If you go to a nightclub with only guys, I assure you that the value you'll project is low. Some women may be interested, but they will not be the prettiest women there.

If you go to club with 3 guys and 2 girls, it's fine. It is just important to have women in your group. It doesn't matter if they are just friends.

Hanging out with friends who have a high social value is something that projects value, and it makes it far easier to meet other women.

That's why I want you to worry about cultivating friends. Do not dedicate yourself to seducing everyone around you. Girl friends are very valuable; they will help you to meet other women.

If you don't have girls to bring to the club don't worry, just go to bars. It's easier to pick up women in bars and you won't have to pay anything to get inside.

2. Do not keep your hands in your pockets. It's a basic thing, but so many guys do this that I have to mention this point.
3. Say hello to the bouncers at the entrance and the waiters once inside. This will give you value because it shows you as someone who dominates your environment.
4. Smile. A good smile shows that you're enjoying the moment, which will make women curious about you. They love men who smile, but remember to do it naturally.
5. Talk to the people around you and involve them in your interactions. Sometimes simple questions can make people laugh. You can use a topic you are already talking about in your circle.

6. If you can dance, dance with the friends you are with. Do not stay seated or standing in bad mood. Make the women around you happy. Latin women love to dance. It's good to tell one of your girl friends to go with you to a nightclub where there are women you like, so you can dance near them. This way you will make the girls you like be aware that you exist before approaching them.
7. Do not hold a glass with your hand up. If you need to have a drink, keep it low, so it won't be an obstacle between you and the people you interact with.
8. Do not walk around the club with just guys. Women notice this instantly; it makes you seem like you're desperately looking for girls. But if you have a girl with you, it's good to go to other parts of the club to meet other women.
9. Do not ask a Latina to dance until you determine she's showing some interest. Trust me, if she's cute enough, she has been asked to dance at least 7 times by desperate guys before you did (Latin guys dance very good), and it's a very boring situation for her. At the same time, she would connect you unconsciously with the other non-attractive guys that asked her to dance, so her answer to it would be "I'm tired", or "my ankle hurts", "or I'll dance later". So, wait until she notices you and shows some interest, then it will be the perfect time to ask her to dance.

The best places to get cute Latin girls at first aren't necessarily the clubs. The best places to pick them up at night time are the bars where you don't have to pay covers at the entrance and where you can determine if there are enough women before you spend money to get in. And here you can pick women up even though you don't have women with you. Later I'll discuss good places and ways to pick up cute women. That way you'll have friends to invite to clubs so you can project the value you need to get more women when you go there.

For now, all these fundamentals will give you value and you will notice how, every time you practice, you will be getting women show more and more interest.

Something that I can assure you of is that Latin women who are really attractive think a lot about the social value of a man, and that's why it's so important to project a high value in these places.

You don't necessarily have to do magic tricks or be the best at telling jokes, even though it could work if you do that properly, but in Latin countries, you can show value by simply being a social man.

Kick Ass Strategies To Meet Latin Women In Night Clubs

One of the best places to meet gorgeous Latinas is in a Latin club. Dance is a very important element of their culture and you will definitely meet a whole lot of attractive ladies here. More importantly, these ladies are eager to meet guys and have a great time. Also, differences in language will no longer be a problem in a club... everybody will be here to dance and there will be very little opportunity for conversation. You just need to know exactly how to approach them.

You need to be well groomed or else you will not be able to make a good impression. Remember that Latin men are sharp dressers and you'll need to be able to hold your own in the face of competition. This is certainly not the place for scruffy vacation wear. This applies as well for being in a Latin club in your country or if you are in Latin America.

Once you have entered the club you should check out the scene and identify a likely group of Latinas to approach. Make sure that you look friendly and approachable but not desperate. In fact, if you look relatively laid back and seem to be enjoying the night with your friends then they will go out of their way to attract your attention. You'll notice that Latinas flirt a lot while being on clubs. Just by the fact that you look "exotic" you'll be able to attract their attention. So keep eye contact with the girls who are looking at you and focus on projecting a good vibe with your friends.

You don't need a fancy pick up line here; many of the girls in the group might not even speak English. The simplest way to start talking is to ask if anyone in the group speaks English. There is bound to be at least one or two of them and so you will have your translator easily.

The simplest way to get them to start talking after you find out who speaks English is to ask them simple questions while dancing. So take the opportunity to approach while dancing once the DJ is playing an easy-dancing song (Reggaeton music is a perfect example of a song that anyone could dance, you just need to move a little bit). Ask them about their country or city (in case you are travelling). If you are in your country you can start the conversation guessing where they are from, they will be happy to hear what you think of them.

www.waystogetwomen.com

When it comes to bars in Latin America you'll notice they prefer to sit at tables instead of move around. You are sure to see groups of cute girls sitting at a table. Pull up a chair and sit there, seriously. If you have a relaxed look and at least one of them speaks English then there is no reason why they won't invite you to stay. However, the key to make this work is to keep the conversation flowing and letting them know that you won't stay there all night (you have friends somewhere else and you are having fun with them too).

Another thing that you should never lose sight of is that Latin women like men to take charge of things. You can take charge of the evening just as soon as the ladies you meet break down their barriers and make friends with you. This might be a little difficult to get used to, especially if you come from a culture where women are more assertive but this is something that you can quickly get used to. If you wait around hoping that one of them will make a move then you might end the evening alone!

Latin American women are not eager to have one night stands (at least not openly). What they really want is to have a relationship and they don't like to waste time on guys who don't want the same thing. As I mentioned before, the culture is very conservative. So, don't try too hard the first night unless she's showing interest in so.

Strategy #1

Approach her smoothly (with body language that shows you might leave at any moment) and make a comment about your facts.

Ex: Hey, is it true that Latin women love the way gringo's dance?☺.

Make sure to be aware of the way you start. It's more important to deliver the open smoothly than to have the perfect question. Remember, your attitude and body language must be playful and relaxed.

After the question, go back where your friends are and keep talking with them.

This way you'll make her feel like she lost something, and she will wonder if you are going to give her the opportunity to talk again. At the same time you can do the same with other women in the area, always looking relaxed and cool and showing high social value.

If you're doing it well, the girl you approached is going to start showing interest pretty soon.

When you manage to collect her interest, go back to her table, take her hand, and ask her to go to your table. Tell her it's just for a minute because you want to show her something. This way you'll manage to isolate her from her friends and keep escalating.

This strategy must be accompanied by a conversation that is natural in the moment.

Strategy #2

Hold eye contact with all the women that make eye contact with you. Eye contact is a universal indicator of interest. Many Latin women say it's a turn on when a guy approaches with something direct after keeping eye contact with them.

I'm not telling you to stare at every attractive woman you see. Instead, get used to looking directly into the eyes of people that are already looking at you: it shows confidence.

Women make eye contact to indicate attraction in almost all of the countries in the world, but When eye contact is established with Latina, it's best to give her a small smile and make some signs that call her over to your table. Most likely, she will not come over, but don't worry, that's all part of the game. She may however give you signs to approach her.

Do not go immediately. Wait two or three minutes, then approach. If she does not give signs to approach her—even though she was the first to make eye contact—approach her anyway with a gentle but confident attitude. Try saying something like, "Hey, I saw you from there and decided that I wanted to meet you and see if you were cool."

Another way to handle this situation is to add a little dancing to your. Do this only if she holds eye contact for a while. An attractive woman often gets invited to dance upwards of fifteen times when she is in a club, and if she's not already on the dance floor, she has no interest in dancing. After she hears the line, "would you like to dance," enough times, it becomes very easy for her to say no, usually with excuses like, "my ankle hurts", "let's dance another time", or "I'm tired." That is exactly why I don't recommend you approach a woman with an invite to dance unless she's already shown interest in you. By differentiating your approach you ask her to dance without asking, and if she shows no interest, you haven't been shot down.

Also, I would say it's much better to ask for a dance when the following genres are playing: reggaeton, electronic, and reggae. This kind of music is simple to dance to, unlike salsa, which requires a degree of expertise. By comparison, this makes you look like a better dancer, which makes for a higher success rate. However, it's still a good idea to get good at salsa dancing. Just as differentiating your approach is important, being an exceptional dancer sets you apart from the pack.

www.waystogetwomen.com

It's important to handle these situations with self-confidence and security. Especially in Latin American countries women notice needy-looking men and distaste is their natural reaction. By acting needy, you put yourself out of the running from the get-go. Better yet, treating women with slight disinterest is an indicator of higher social value, which most women find appetizing. By approaching a woman, you show clear interest, so acting disinterest seems paradoxical. Still, if you learn to at least speak to women the way you would speak to your friends, you'll get better results.

Although you probably don't speak Spanish very well, do not rely on the standard questions of, "What's your name?", "How old are you?", or "What do you do for a living?" Once again, these do nothing to differentiate you from other men, nor do they contribute much to further interaction. This advice applies not just to Latinas, but to girls from any part of the world.

A good way to initiate conversations is to ask a question that prompts an opinion. "Hello, you look cool...I want to ask you a question. Is it true that Latin women are very possessive once they choose a man?", is a line that can go both ways: either they will give you their thoughts on the question, or, more likely they'll tell you a story to support the claim. Conversations based on Latin culture are usually sure-fire, and you can continue talking while you dance. Try to make her do most of the talking, as she'll (again, paradoxically) feel she's getting to know you. The way to do it in Spanish is this: "Hey, te ves divertida... quiero preguntarte algo. Es cierto que las mujeres Latinas son posesivas cuando sienten que encontraron al hombre ideal?"

Strategy #3

Now that we've covered the lazier strategies that most guys will use, we can do something requiring a little more finesse.

When you see a cute Latina being approached repeatedly by guys who ask her to dance, get close to her (by asking the bartender for a fresh drink) and say something about it. For example: "I bet you are so tired of needy guys inviting you to dance, it must be terrible". Then smile slightly and keep talking about how funny the situation looked when she was rejecting those needy guys. If you want to say it in Spanish here's the translation: "Apuesto a que estás cansada de esos hombres necesitados que te invitan a bailar, debe ser terrible".

It's a great strategy and allows you to enter her mind and get rapport easily since you are speaking about a shared experience.

Strategy #4

Approach and make a comment about what you think a woman's profession is. When you approach, do not introduce yourself or say "How are you", or "Excuse me"; courtesy is not effective here. A good example is: "The way you act makes me think you are a lawyer / psychologist / designer / singer."

I highly recommend this strategy for meeting Latin women. It always creates a fun topic of conversation which will help you get acclimated to their group. You don't have to guess correctly, you just have to give it a try. This will usually get a laugh from her, and she will ask "Why?" Make up reasons to support your claim, and show tranquil body language, without expecting to get anything from her. It's just a way to start, but you'll still have a lot of work to do to earn her interest. Maybe she will correct you by telling you her real profession, which can become a topic of conversation.

This strategy has the following alternative that you can use.

Approach with the aforementioned line, and when she asks what made you think that, say "I'll tell you later," and then return to your table. This creates intrigue, and I can assure you that if you do it with enough cool and courage, she's going to show some interest. Later, return to her and give reasons why you made your earlier statement. This is a powerful strategy with Latin women.

www.waystogetwomen.com

This line can also be used on the entire group. When her friends start asking you what you think they do, invent a job or even an entire history for each of them. This shows a quick wit and spontaneity. And because your target is now the entire group, rather than one woman, you've cast a wider net: at least one of them is bound to get caught.

Each of these strategies can be used for the first meeting. You can even mix them! However, it's best not to stay at their group after your talk to them. It's more effective to make your approach, laugh a minute with them, and then return to your table for a while. After a few minutes, come back and keep talking. Continue escalating until you get a kiss, or at least a phone number to make a date for another day.

How to pick up Latin women in clubs being with just guys Remember how I talked about leaving the girls to return to your friends between conversations? Well, it's best to have that group of friends contain a few women. I don't recommend you go to a Latin night club with a bunch of guys, but still, sometimes the situation arises. If that's the case, tell one of your buddies to go with you and stay near the ladies bathroom: it may help a lot, since it provides many opportunities to speak with women. Just stay for a few minutes and start talking to some girls on their way out. Do not stay the whole night, as most people would perceive that sort of behavior as creepy. Just stay a short while and ask unthreatening questions, like, "Hey girls, I was wondering about something that I'm sure you can help... why the hell do women always go to the bathroom with a friend?, is it true that you go to talk about guys?". You can just say it in English and see if they understand the language. If they don't, learn some Spanish or approach someone else.

www.waystogetwomen.com

This should be obvious, but it's important not to approach when they are heading to the bathroom but when they are out of it going back to their group.

The main advice is not to stay in the middle of the club drinking with all the guys. It makes the entire group look desperate. And no woman wants a desperate guy. Just try to approach the women who are milling about.

How to approach a Latina when she's with other guys

It's very common to find Latinas accompanied by Latin guys. This can be a tough nut to crack, because these men are either protecting them, or are competing against you for their favour (sometimes both).

First off, these guys speak the language better and can take advantage of that language barrier. For example, the guys could ask you things that you may not understand, making you look like a chump in the girl's eyes. If this is the situation and you determine that the girl is not dating one of her male companions (pay attention to body language) you can do the following: wait until she stands up from the table to go to the bathroom (she'll go with a friend most of the times). From the moment she stands up and starts walking, count three full minutes and then begin to walk towards the bathroom; meet them while they are on their way back to their group.

The moment you come cross them say something that makes them laugh. For example, "Is it true that Latin women use the bathroom to talk about men?" Make sure you are talking to the girl you are interested in and the friend(s) accompanying her. This comes across as less threatening, and is more likely to garner a friendly reaction. Try to keep up conversation and stay in the moment for the best results. This is the way to do it in Spanish: "Es cierto que las mujeres Latinas usan el baño para hablar de hombres?"

Another way to approach is to go direct, when she is unaccompanied by her friends on the way to go to the bathroom. This time wait for two minutes, she won't take as long as she would take when going accompanied. Say something like, "Hey, I just wanted to get to know you. You seem cool. Do you speak English?" Do not go away without requesting the phone number of the girl you like, so you can meet up later. Practice this until you can do it naturally. This is the way to do it in Spanish: "Hey, simplemente quería conocerte. Te ves divertida. Hablas Inglés?"

If a group is composed of two women and one man, I highly recommend that you approach it. When approaching, make sure to talk to the man at the table you approach. You must speak to him and make him participate of the interaction. It is very probable that he is the fiancé of one of the two, and that the other girl is available. Make sure to determine which is the available one, as hitting on an engaged Latina is embarrassing at best.

Let's consider this type of scenario from the beginning. There are several possibilities:

1. The man is the best friend of the two girls. In this case it's a very good idea for you to approach. These women are open to getting to know people and there will be little competition, as most guys get discouraged when they see that there's a man in the group.
2. The man is the fiancé of one of the two. In this one case it is a good idea to analyse which of the two is the fiancée. If the available girl is cute, I highly recommend that you pursue. The guy at the table is likely to be friendly if you do things the right way and talk to him too. The available girl will probably be open to meeting a new guy, because looking at her friend being with her fiancé will make her jealous. This will generate a certain despair and desire to know somebody. Because the group is small and not many people will be approaching, you immediately set yourself apart.

3. The man paid a great amount of money to them so that they have a night of passion with him. This is very easy to identify by the behaviour within the group. In this case, it's not a very good idea to approach. It's better to use the bathroom trick to talk to the girls and avoid confrontation with the man.
4. The man is in a relationship with both girls. If this is the case, just approach the table and congratulate him. The man of that table is on our team. He may have even read this book!

Indirect ways to start conversations with Latinas

- Hey, I wanted to ask you something. What do Latin women talk about when they are out by themselves? Is it true that they always talk about men?

Translation to Spanish: Hey, quería preguntarles algo... ¿De qué hablan las mujeres Latinas cuando salen solas?, ¿es cierto que siempre hablan acerca de hombres?

- Hey, I just want to know something about this [Latin] culture. What do you prefer: a handsome guy who is also stupid, or an ugly man who is interesting?

Translation to Spanish: Hey, solo quiero saber algo acerca de esta cultura... ¿ustedes qué prefieren, un hombre apuesto pero tonto o uno menos apuesto pero interesante?

- I am going to ask you a question that intrigues me a lot. How do men normally approach women in this country?

Translation to Spanish: Les voy a hacer una pregunta que me intriga mucho... ¿A ustedes cómo se les aproximan los hombres para conocerlas en este país?

- If a Latin woman feels attraction for somebody and is totally crazy for him, what would she do to make him approach her so she can meet him?

Translation to Spanish: Si una mujer Latina siente atracción por alguien, y está totalmente loca por él, ¿qué haría para lograr que el hombre se le acerque y conocerlo?

These types of phrases allow you to enter below the radar.

I recommend that you use these to start if your Spanish level allows you to keep a conversation, but eventually invent your own questions to start conversations.

If you find out that one or some of them speak English just keep the conversation in English, don't try too hard to impress with your Spanish.

It's best if what you're saying is connected with the situation you and the woman are in. Again, the more natural-sounding the conversation, the better your chances are. I can assure you that if you use a question that you don't really find interesting, it will seem unnatural, and women are going to notice it. Don't use the questions above if you don't feel they have anything to do with the situations you find yourself in. The purpose of an question isn't to direct the conversation, but to get one started and see where it leads.

In my experience, the best way to uncork a conversation is through humour. To accuse a girl of something funny and then to smile is perfect. For example, let's say she's at a restaurant and she's eating a hamburger, you might say, "I'm also on a diet, the sauces in the burger help me to keep me in good shape, but only if I drink a diet drink." However, humour, as they say, is all in the delivery. As it applies to picking up women, this means having dominant is body language. You must communicate that you are confident in yourself (and in the quality of your jokes). Body language is not something that I'll talk about much in this book, but my advice is to do some quick research on the internet regarding ways to develop good body language.

www.waystogetwomen.com

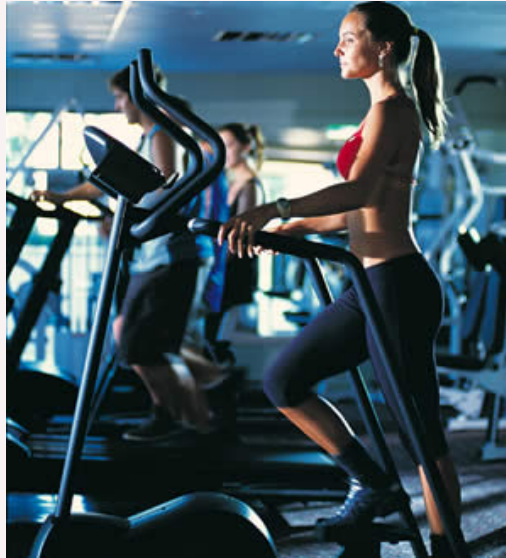

During the day

During the day things are easier. Women do not have to be as on-guard as they are in night clubs, and they are usually dressed down. And when calling back a woman you met in a bar, she may not be certain who she gave her phone number to, and it is likely that you'll be confused with other men. Instead, if you approach a Latin girl in a library, supermarket, university, or fast food restaurant you seem a bit classier, and women are more likely to remember you. It makes it easier to obtain the connection needed to get her phone number (and make calling her back that much less confusing).

These locations all have their own specific purpose, which you can spin the conversation towards. In a bookstore, you can make a comment about the book that she has; in a fast food restaurant you can make a comment about the food that she orders; in a bank you can make a comment about how boring it is to be in the line to the teller, and so on.

Meeting Latin women in the GYM

If you are going to stay in Latin America for more than a month, I highly recommend you sign up for a gym. In these places you will find attractive and approachable women. Latin women tend to be very careful with their bodies, and by showing you also care about fitness you have displayed a common interest.

I urge you to consider not using that ugly t-shirt or those old shorts when you go to the gym. Opt for comfortable but good-looking gym attire and clean shoes. Put on some cologne: even though you'll be sweaty, it helps.

There are many ways to initiate conversation at a gym. You can begin with something direct like: "I see that you are very athletic. I assume you have been coming here for a long time..." This is a phrase that shows a direct interest. I know it seems like a dumb way to open, but, in conjunction with assertive body language, you'll see that something so flat will work in a gym with a Latina.

You can also use an indirect method. Say you're at the machine next to her: while doing some exercise, you could try the line, "You look like you are from South America, I want to know something..." and use that as a conversation starter. This is just one of many questions to initiate an interaction. Formulate a few questions before going to the gym so that when you see a woman you like you don't hesitate much.

www.waystogetwomen.com

Just remember, a gym isn't just to do exercise, it's a place to meet women too. Get used to it, because it can be a truly fertile ground for picking up women.

How to get her interested

Holding a woman's interest without seeming needy can be a difficult balancing act. Some of this advice is universal, while some only applies to Latina idiosyncrasies:

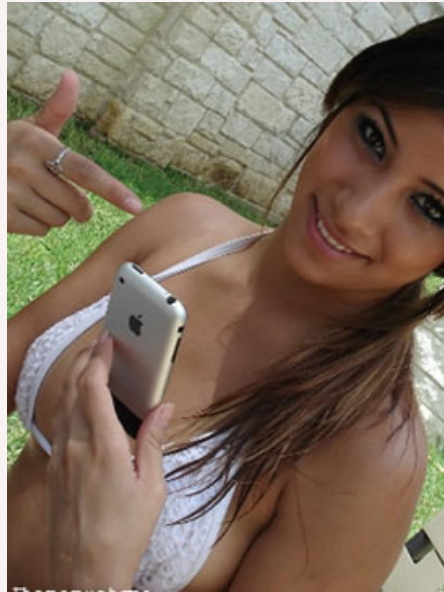

- Don't call her too soon. Once you get her number, wait two or three days before calling. Only call her even the same day if she seems very interested.
- Send her some funny texts the same day/night you meet her. If you get her answering she'll be more excited by the prospect of getting a call from you. This program will help you to master text message flirtation:
<http://tinyurl.com/3vroxs8>

- The best day to invite her out is Thursday, because she's more likely to be available. If you call her on Friday or Saturday it's very probable that she'll have plans with her friends.
- Do not tell her to meet you, just pick her up: this will reflect positively on you. Many Latinas, when told to meet up for a date, simply never show up. By picking her up, she no longer has the option of ditching you. That's one of the big differences between Latin women and women from other cultures.
- Talk to her in the phone for a few minutes to generate comfort. Show her that you have a sense of humour and be playful. If she responds well, invite her out. Tell her you have plans to go somewhere and would be nice if she goes with you.
- Never talk about your personal accomplishments, material possessions, or travels. She is more than capable of digging these things up later, if she's interested. Wait for her to probe the topics, or else it comes off as braggadocio.
- Believe her when she says she has to go home early. Although western women often use this as an excuse, many Latinas live with her parents until they are married. As a result, these women often have a curfew.
- Be humble. There's a clear difference between confident and cocky.

If you get a phone number, but she doesn't answer (or answers in a rude way), keep your value as a man. Do not tolerate this sort of behaviour, but don't take it personally either. Many Latinas give their phone numbers and never answer calls. Remember, it's a game. The more you try the better chances you have of finding the cute Latina you want.

The Phone Situation

There's a fact we need to cover; Latin women aren't as direct as American or European women are. A Latina wouldn't say "I don't want to go out" directly, instead she would say "Ok, call me later and we'll see". That's something they do a lot when they don't feel enough desire to meet the man.

So, when you find out that the Latina says something like that just tell her you'll call her later and start immediately looking for different options, because this one will probably flake.

The other thing you need to know is that Latin women use pre paid credit on their phones (if they are in a Latin country). It's very common in Latin America. Very often they don't have monthly contracts like in the US or Europe. So don't think she's a drug dealer or something like that just for using pre paid credit ☺. It means that if you call her and she doesn't respond it may be because she doesn't have credit and not because she didn't want to talk with you.

www.waystogetwomen.com

Some gringos get discouraged when they call and never get a call back, or when they send a text message and don't get a message back, that may be the issue. My advice is to find out in some way if she has a pre pay phone (you can just ask it as a random question while getting her number in the initial encounter).

Then, if you call her and she doesn't respond and doesn't call back, we have three options:

- She has a pre pay phone and can't call. If you know that she has a pre pay phone wait for a few hours and call again. Latinas aren't necessarily punctual either, so it could be that she just takes her time getting back to you.
- She doesn't want to call because she's not interested enough. If you found out that she has a plan for her phone or has credit on the pre paid option, the best choice is to leave the anti-flake message that you'll find in "The crazy Flaking Thing" bonus. Wait for a few days to call again.
- She's interested and has credit on her phone but, she's a chauvinistic girl and thinks that men have to work hard for her interest and will wait for you to call her again. Leave the anti-flake message as mentioned before (found in the bonus section) and you'll see how she calls you back in less than 2 hours.

So the conclusion is that, if she has a pre pay phone, the best thing to do is wait a few hours and call back. And if she has a phone plan the best option is leaving the anti-flake message of "The crazy Flaking Thing" bonus that's included with this book.

Another good option is texting her (only do it if you have good texting game, you can master it here: <http://tinyurl.com/3vroxs8>). But it only works if she has a plan on her phone or credit so she can text back.

Inviting her out

A Latina is quite comfortable just being in her house, which means that she wouldn't mind cancelling a date last minute to watch a movie with her family. When a Latina is in a functioning relationship, her favourite plan usually involves staying home watching movies, having sex, and cooking. For westerners, think about women in the 1950's.

If you want to invite a Latina out for a first date make sure to do it from early in the afternoon. Even if she's interested, she might say, "Give me a call later before picking me up and we'll see". It's a line Latin women use to retain power so she can cancel if she finds something else to do. The best method is to not back down. Say something like, "I need to be sure you want to go out so I don't have to make different plans." This way you show dominance, and make her compromise to the point where, hopefully, she won't flake. Make agree to a date from the beginning. Then call her half an hour before the date to tell her you are leaving your place to pick her up. This way she'll be ready and won't make you wait too much down there. Well, she'll still make you wait, but not for nearly as long.

The first date

Where to take her if your Spanish sucks.

One of the obstacles that you may encounter in Latin America is that your level of Spanish isn't very good, which means that if you are with a Latina in a place where the only option is having a conversation, things could get a little complicated. With girls of your home country it works different obviously due to the fact that you speak the same language. There, you can take a woman on the first date to a place where the conversation allows you to generate attraction and end up in a seductive location.

You need to start by choosing a place for the first date very carefully. It's a terrible idea to take her to a party where everybody knows you and she is a complete stranger. She will feel terribly out of place here and this will spell doom for the evening. It's an equally bad idea to take her to the theatre because of the language issues. The same would be if you take her for dinner, the awkward silences will appear and your first date will sink.

If you are with a Latina and you don't speak Spanish so well, you are going to have to demonstrate your value to her with fewer words. The unique way to do this is by taking her to a place where you don't have to talk so much. So there are three options:

1. Taking her to a hotel to have sex.
2. Taking her to your house to have sex.
3. Taking her to a Night club.

I know how weird it sounds to take her to a hotel on a first date without taking her out first. The same thing happens if you want to take her home. So the best option is to take her to a night club first, and if you still like her enough later, end up in one of the first two locations.

I can assure you that, if you hurry things up, and try taking a hot Latina home without giving her the time to feel some attraction, she'll get scared. And of course, you can find a woman from your social circle that's so interested in you already and would be ready to have sex, but the average cute Latina would make things a little harder than women from other places.

www.waystogetwomen.com

This is why I recommend you to take Latin women to a night club first.

It's actually the only place where you can communicate with her without using so many words. Just by maintaining a good body language and being confident and fun you'll keep her attracted. There'll be a lot more dancing than talking and the date will be great fun. You don't need to be a great Salsa dancer, all you need is have a playful attitude and be willing to dance any other kind of music (i.e. Reggaeton, Electronic). However, you should be careful not to make the mistake of staying at the table all night without dancing. If you are in a club with a Latina you must dance or at least try. She'll be very frustrated if you don't.

If you don't know to dance salsa, merengue, or other latino music, don't worry. You can always ask her to teach you. Tell her that you are very curious about it and that you are very interested in learning about the Latin culture. Most women will love teaching you how to dance. And if you already know how to dance, even better! Now you have a way to demonstrate something of value. Most Latin women find gringos that can dance very intriguing.

Also, by being in a nightclub you can show value by being social, showing a sense of humor, and projecting a good vibe. I can assure you that if you don't have a good level of Spanish, you will be more successful on a first date by taking a girl to a club.

Remember don't stay in the same place all night. This way you'll keep her on her toes and it will add to the excitement of the night. Just take her to a different club near the one you are already in.

Make all arrangements for the evening. If you wait for cues from her you might not get any. Always keep in mind that she comes from a culture where men are expected to take charge of things.

www.waystogetwomen.com

In fact, she will think that it is decidedly odd if you keep looking to her for suggestions regarding where to go and what to do.

In case your Spanish level is good...

Take her to a lounge bar where there's a couch and the music volume is low. This way you can escalate until you kiss her and continue the process. Do not stay in the same bar all night though. You can visit more than 3 bars which will make you have a more dynamic date, and this way you are not going to run the risk of running out of conversation subjects, which is a very common situation when a couple remains in the same place for hours. Staying in the same place for too long is a mistake that Latin guys make a lot.

You are going to notice that when you take her to several sites in the same night, she'll begin to open herself up by being more friendly and demonstrating more interest in you. Generally, in the second or third bar if you do things properly and escalate smoothly in Kino, she will be ready for the kiss.

Don't be surprised if she refuses to give you a kiss on the first date. Some Latin women think that giving a kiss on a first date is slutty behavior. They even are proud of themselves for not doing it sometimes.

Latin guys have tolerated this for so many years, thinking that the normal thing to do is date the woman for some days and waiting for whatever it takes for her to decide if she can give a little kiss. I don't agree with, I'll get the first kiss on the first date most of the time if I like the woman enough, but still it's normal to find some Latin women with some resistance to it.

In case it happens to you, my advice is to let it be, do not get pissed, at least give it a try again so she doesn't think you'll be just a friend.

www.waystogetwomen.com

When a Latina likes the man and refuses to kiss him, she will at least give him some signals to keep him hooked, like holding hands or a little kiss near the mouth when saying goodbye.

The proper mind set

Right before you go out with her, you need to get your mind ready to make yourself stay calm.

One of the biggest mistakes the average guy makes is to look desperate and try too hard to seduce the girl no matter what. They try to seduce every girl with whom they go out, which is a terrible mistake. Latin women love challenges. They get really crazy when they feel that they can lose the man.

At the same time you'll have so many dates with Latin girls that you would need to keep some of them just as friends and not trying to seducing them.

So the proper mind set is to wait until you really like the girl. What I mean by that is that, when you are going to date her, you don't know if you really like her, so you will give her the chance to show you that she's the one for you. Ok, she can be cute and have a nice body, but still you don't know what things about her turn you off or you don't like. So, let her earn your interest too.

Latin women are very tired of men showing their romantic interest from the beginning. And the more beautiful she is the more it happens.

The situation when they go on a date with a Latin guy is like this: The man picks her up; he compliments her for how beautiful she looks. Then he takes her to a dinner. Right in the middle of it he starts saying that he only likes serious relationships. Then he starts talking about some serious and "interesting" stuff: economics, social problems, investments. So she gets really tired, Latin guys are really needy and romantic at the same time. The good news is that the few ones that aren't as needy really get them all.

www.waystogetwomen.com

That's why I recommend you to get the right mind set: Giving her the opportunity to demonstrate she's the one for you.

Great conversation topics to use

Latin women always complain about gringos who ask the same boring questions and make the same boring comments. Flat questions like: Where do you live? How old are you? Where do you study? What do you do for a living? etc., are questions that do not excite any emotion in a woman. In addition, those questions are so common and are repeated by everyone that women get bored when they're asked them again and again. The recommendation that I give is to ask questions that allow the waking up of some feelings or memories in her and at the same time allows the conversation to flow easily.

Questions like the ones listed above could be asked, but don't let them be the ones that make up your conversation. Here are some questions adapted for the first date that work great:

Have you ever fallen in love?

Make her go into the moment when she was in love and make her describe that feeling. This will make her remember good memories of love, and having you right in front of her will make her unconscious mind have no other option but to attach that same sensation of love with you.

If you could go on a trip to anywhere in the world, where would you go?

This is another good question. Make her describe how it'd be to be in the place of her dreams until she feels like she's there. Her mind will be in a happy state now. Generally this subject gives a good theme for your conversation and gives it a good vibe too.

www.waystogetwomen.com

What are the characteristics of the women of this region?

The good thing about this question is that it is going to give you good information about the woman you are with, and it generates a subject of conversation which is easy to prolong. It's perfect because it allows you to tease her for anything she says about the culture. For example, if she says that women from that culture tend to be jealous you can tease her saying —Oh my god! It means you are one of those women that are so jealous and wouldn't allow me to see other women if you were my girlfriend! We would never get along because I'm afraid of jealous women.

Have you ever had a summer love?

It's a silly question if you ask it in the US or in Europe. But Latin women are still dreaming about the charming prince they've always wanted. It's actually a good question with a Latina. It will cause strong emotions in her mind. A good memory of a special romance takes her mind to a positive place where it feels happy and the best part is that you are right in front of her. This way she has no other option but to connect you with the moment at which she had this summer of love. They normally attach the summer love thing with a beach, they usually go there on vacations and sometimes find a romantic summer love. So make her describe how it was, the beaches, the stars, the ocean, don't be afraid to do so, it's a good thing to do with a Latin girl.

Have you had jealous boyfriends?

This one is a great question because it is going to give very valuable information to you about how to act in order to create attraction. If the majority of her boyfriends have been jealous, it is because she enjoys this attitude. Women deny it sometimes, but the truth is that they tend to choose their boyfriends based on this behavior. So, if you find out that most of her boyfriends have been jealous, you can act more possessive. Anyway, I can assure you that most Latin women enjoy this behavior, so pretend to be

www.waystogetwomen.com

jealous sometimes, they're OK with it.

Who is the actor that you think is the most handsome?

This question puts her in a very convenient mood because it brings to her mind the image of somebody who is really attractive to her. Most Latin women love famous actors and artists. It's a topic of conversation that they enjoy. And, having you in front of her is really good for you because her mind is going to relate the attractiveness that she feels at the moment with the image of you.

What are the things you cannot resist?

This could be chocolate, strawberries, vanilla ice cream, etc. Making her describe these things takes her to a mental state of desire, which is just what you want.

How would you describe the man of your dreams?

This is a very good question because it brings a positive emotional state and generates an interesting conversation topic for the woman. She is going to ask you the same question and this way you can describe several qualities that you would like to find in a woman. This way she can begin to qualify herself when she says she has some of those qualities.

As well as these questions, there are many others that you can ask. Just remember that the best thing you can do is to wake up positive emotions in her. Never ask in the initial stage: Are you bored? Why did you break up with your ex? How did your parents die? Why did you get fired from that job? Why did your parents get divorced?

These negative questions cause the process of attraction to stop and prevent further escalation. Everything has to be done at the right moment.

www.waystogetwomen.com

When you two are more involved in a relationship, it'll be the right time to talk about negative things and to share her difficult moments.

Funny topics of conversation are great to achieve a good vibe and facilitate the attraction flow. Humor takes women to a happy state and that's why it makes it easier to generate attraction.

I know that guys sometimes feel the need to speak about cars and motorcycles. The V6 motor or the 5,000cc motor of such and such car, etc. But, to women, these subjects are not fun. Avoid them when you are with women. Do not talk about computers, electric home appliances, the powerful stereo in your car, technology, cell phones, etc. Subjects like: fame, music, psychology, anecdotes that demonstrate your active lifestyle, trips, places of the world, love; these are subjects that are going to help to you to generate a natural connection with her.

The way to treat them

The way to treat Latinas differs from treating women from other nationalities. In Latin America it's well seen to be a gentleman.

I know it's a little weird, if you have good manners an American woman would think you are dumb. It's not like that for Latin women, it's a plus.

So the best way to be a gentleman is to be it from a position of power, having good manners without looking submissive.

It is actually good to open the door for her, move the chair for her to sit, and offer your hand to cross the street. It's like a fairy tale; it is part of the Latin culture. So don't be afraid to do it, it will make you seem like a Gringo that understands the culture and she would see you as more familiar.

Do not think that you are losing your value for doing so, instead, do it without looking in love, do it from a position of power. You can do a lot of things from that position without losing your value. For example, you can say something like "you are pretty" using some gestures and body language that make you look as someone who isn't so romantically interested in her; that's what I mean with "the position of power".

The same you can do while being a gentleman, remembering always to touch her smoothly, grabbing her hand, identifying her interest every time more, growing the sexual tension at the same time.

Latin women love sex, as all women from any country do, the difference is that they hide that appetite more during the courtship. For example, it's OK to say some dirty words to an American girl you just met and she would feel good with it. On the other hand it's not OK to say dirty words to a Latina if you haven't slept with her yet, she would be likely to be offended. Unless you do it when you are just about to have sex with her and you both are in the seduction location.

Latin women seem to be more offended when a man grabs their ass in a place that is not meant for sex, they feel they are going to get raped. While an American girl would be OK with it if doing it discretely even in a public place.

So, resuming it; be a gentleman from a position of power.

Great Spanish phrases to know, and when to use them

Here are some phrases you should learn in Spanish. Some of them may sound stupid while translating to English, but in Spanish they sound really nice and help to reach an objective:

- Tienes una sonrisa maliciosa, eso me parece sexy.

Translation: You have a naughty smile, it seems sexy to me.

How to use it: You can use it at any time to make her feel sexy, even when you just met her, or during a date.

Objective: Reward her and stimulate her to become sexy with you.

- Me encanta eso que hiciste.

Translation: I'm so charmed by what you just did.

How to use it: The word "Me encanta" is very powerful in Spanish, it helps to make them realize that they are sexy. You can use that word in many situations to compensate her for doing a thing you liked. It could be after she bites her lips, or after she smiles with a naughty attitude, or after she licks her finger, or after she tells a good joke. It's also a good way to make her see you as a potential lover while you whisper that word at her ear.

www.waystogetwomen.com

Objective: Reward her for being nice and make her want to charm you.

- Eres demasiado sexy

Translation: You are too sexy.

How to use it: The word “too” in Spanish doesn’t have the same negative connotation it has in English. That word is sometimes used to describe something that is extremely great or extremely bad. You can say that phrase to reward her for something she did fine. For example, if she dresses the way you told her to dress, or after she gives you a naughty kiss. Nevertheless you should only use something like this once you are already dating her, after you have already at least made out with her, or after you already have had sex with her.

Objective: Reward her for being awesome with you and keep her behaving sexually.

- Pinta un bosque y piérdete en él.

Translation: Draw a forest and get lost in it.

How to use it: It’s a funny phrase and it implies that she said something stupid. Say it playfully when she tells you a joke. It’s a phrase that little Latin kids say very much to their moms when they want to stay alone. Be careful with the way you say it, if you say it playfully enough it will make her laugh.

Objective: Tease her and make her feel she has to work hard to make you smile for her jokes.

- Multiplícate por 0

Translation: Multiply by 0.

How to use it: As the one of the forest it's a playful way to say that something wasn't funny to you. So, say it only when she tries to be funny but doesn't succeed.

Objective: Tease her for being such a bad humorist.

- Súbete al Titanic y húndete

Translation: Get on the Titanic and sink with it.

How to use it: It's another funny phrase to use after she says a bad joke.

Objective: Tease her for her bad sense of humor.

- Te aprovechas de mi nobleza.

Translation: You take advantage of my nobility.

How to use it: It's a really funny phrase to use only when she's making fun of you for something. That phrase is originally from a very popular comedy show from Mexico called "El Chapulín Colorado". That show was the most popular in all Latin countries for decades. That phrase makes you seem innocent in a funny way.

Objective: Make her feel she can make fun of you without upsetting you.

How to kiss with a Latina

Initial attraction is directly related to the confidence, the power and the status that you seem to have. That attraction must be maintained at all times.

There's something you must know now: Latin women care a lot about kissing. They really love it, and it's something that they are going to care about much more than many girls from other parts of the world. That's why you'll find out that, for many of them, it's such a big deal!

The status you have so far is going to help to you to generate enough attraction with Latin women. Surely now you ask yourself "But when she's showing interest, what do I do?" Now it's time to escalate in Kino, which is to start touching her every time more. It's not about touching her ass or breasts; it's about touching her shoulders, knees, hugging her, etc.

Latin women are more used to the physical contacts. Most of them love to be hugged and grabbed. Escalating in Kino gradually is going to allow you to make her more comfortable with you and thus the kiss is going to be easier.

So, the first step to start Kino escalating is to bring her close to you.

An easy way to bring her closer is by showing her a video you have on your cell phone or some pictures from your camera. It's important that you are not the one who makes the move to get closer. Make her be the one who moves next to you so she can see what you are about to show her. Then you start Kino escalating slowly.

Do not ever say to a Latin girl something like "Do you want me to kiss you?" or "May I kiss you?" It will kill the attraction, besides it's something that many Latin guys do, so it won't help to differentiate you from the others.

Latin women hate it when a guy asks for a kiss instead of going for it.

www.waystogetwomen.com

There's something that I highly recommend with Latin women: start with a kiss in the cheek without explanation. Trust me; this is going to be really helpful for you. I call it "The sudden innocent kiss."

It's extremely useful because it will help you do five things at the same time:

1. Kino escalating.
2. Let her know you won't be "just a friend."
3. Make guys around you know that she's with you.
4. Make sure she's interested in you.
5. Notice if she's ready for the first kiss.

The sudden innocent kiss should be made right when her conscious mind is concentrated on something that you are talking about. It doesn't have to be a romantic topic. A good way to do it is by just telling a story. It could be a funny story or just something that happened to you a few days ago. It could be anything. The important thing is to give her a kiss without explanation while you tell the story. It doesn't matter if it's the beginning of it or the end. Just give her one or even a few kisses on the cheek while you tell the story and then keep telling the story without stopping.

Giving her this "Sudden Innocent kiss" will help you determine how much she likes you. You can analyze her reaction right after doing this. If she seems uncomfortable, it means she's not ready yet. Sometimes she's going to give you a psychological test after you do this, saying something like "Why did you do that?" and it's a psychological test that you can bypass showing some humor saying something like "You had something on your cheek and I wanted to get it with my mouth =)" Then, keep telling the story as if nothing happened.

www.waystogetwomen.com

Relax and keep showing value with your style, your humor, confidence and topics of conversation.

Later, when you identify she's more interested, you repeat the process. Keep escalating in Kino, touch her hair and give her a small kiss, this time on the mouth.

When you give her the kiss do not hurry to introduce your tongue in her mouth. First feel her lips and let it be a natural and short kiss. One day I was speaking with Nick Rogue, a Master PUA from the U.S. about his method, which is one of the most advanced seduction methods that exists in the world. It consists of seducing women the same night the man meets her.

One of the recommendations that he gives is not to give very enthusiastic kisses in public to a girl that you have just met. This recommendation is very valid because taking a woman to a sexual state in a public place makes her uncomfortable (since she won't feel free to express her passion to the point of having sex in public), which is something that blocks attraction and makes it difficult for her to decide whether or not to go to the seduction location. You can find his method here:

<http://tinyurl.com/3u4956x>

If a Latin woman doesn't want to give you a kiss, it could be because, although she was interested in you at the beginning, there was something you did that she didn't like and therefore she lost interest in you. Some of the things that could make her lose the interest are:

1. She didn't like the way you live your life.
2. She didn't like the people that surround you.
3. She felt that you were unconfident and that you lack character.
4. She found out that what you say isn't true.

5. You were bragging and trying so hard to impress her, and she got bored.
6. She didn't feel protected by you.
7. She thinks you lack a sense of humor.
8. She doesn't like the fact that you are always trying hard to please her.
9. She felt you were too predictable.
10. She didn't like the way you dress.
11. Your mouth smelled bad.
12. She was taught by her parents not to kiss a guy on the first date even though she wants it (on the second date she will). This one is easy to identify. She will show interest sometimes accompanied with a little kiss near the mouth when saying good bye. You'll see some Latin women that are like this. They think twice before giving the first kiss.

When you come across a girl like this, don't get discouraged. It's part of the culture. Girls that behave this way are just too scared of being labeled as whores and think that you will value the fact that she's making you wait.

At the same time she will fear the fact that you may not call her again. That's why she gives you a small demonstration of interest by giving you a small kiss near your mouth when saying goodbye.

Ok, here's another recommendation I want to give you. If you are on a first date and you try to kiss your date but she moves and doesn't allow you to do so even though she was showing interest in you, do not look bothered, act as if nothing happened and when you see some interest later try again. Trust me, many Latin women enjoy making the guys work hard, and they give a lot of psychological tests to see if a guy has enough courage.

If she does not respond to anything and she does not demonstrate any interest in being with you, let her be. Do not give her more of your attention. From this moment you are a man with a high value in Latin America with dreams and great aspirations. Your positive attitude is going to help you succeed in life and the woman that doesn't take an opportunity to be with you is not going to bother you. There are many women who are going to want to be with you.

Latin culture

Who pays the bill?

In the United States and many countries in Europe, liberally-minded women generally offer to pay for their part of the tab.

Latin America is completely different; women almost never offer to pay. Sometimes Latin women don't even bring money with them when they go out with a man. It can be attributed to Latin culture, which thrives on machismo. While this may have one been considered chivalrous, Latin women have gotten used to this arrangement, and so they count on men to pay the bills.

In Latin America you may notice that most of the women look very attractive, whereas few men invest heavily in their looks. This is partially because these men have to spend so much of their income courting women.

Paying for everything while on a date with a western girl can be a turn-off. In Latin America, nothing could be further from the truth. Having money demonstrates security and protection, while a www.waystogetwomen.com woman may be very put off if you don't have enough dough to pay the bill. I have made many embarrassing mistakes in this vein, and trust me, there's no getting around it. Always come with enough money, and expect to pay for everything. It's a simple cultural difference, and it's worth the extra investment if your aim is to get with Latin women.

Is Latin culture chauvinistic?

The Latin culture is completely chauvinistic. Because many Latin countries experience financial hardship, strength and wealth are valued qualities. Socially, these countries are more conservative, so women largely depend on men. This dependency causes women to feel attraction towards (or at least tolerate) typically "manly" behaviour, so it's a good attitude to adopt if you hope to attract women from these countries

It was once said, "behind every great man, there's a great woman." Although Latinas do not have the same career opportunities as men, they are often exceptionally shrewd behind-the-scenes business advisors to men. Knowing that the outside world belongs to men in Latin countries, these women are very controlling of what goes on within the home.

As an aside, while chauvinistic humour is usually offensive to westerners (and western women particularly), many Latinas will laugh at these sorts of jokes. Some even tell them! Obviously, decide what limits are acceptable on a case-by-case basis.

Needless to say, being very male does not mean that you have to act boorishly. You do have to have impeccable manners in order to make a good impression on a lady. In fact, she is more likely to want to go out with you if you can make a great impression on her.

Take the following advice:

- Always keep the upper hand. Don't be afraid to let her know that you're the boss. She will love it if you take charge of the date and order food and drinks for her. Be sure to ask her preferences and be the one who talks to

www.waystogetwomen.com

the waiter and orders the drinks. She'll just love being taken care of.

- Be possessive, if necessary. If you are already dating her and the romance is going properly tell her that you are not afraid of competition but that you are not interested in it. That is sure to grab her attention and she will go all out to please you.
- Flirt with her to show her you notice her femininity. The more feminine she feels, the more masculine she will think you are. She will respond very strongly to this. Teasing is a big part of Latin culture and it will not be out of place to do this.

You will have a great deal of success with your Latina lady friend if you behave in a typically macho manner. This is something that she has grown up with and she will respond in the right way to you.

Origins of Latin culture

The ancient cultures of Latin America were initially inhabited by cultures that didn't give much importance to technological development. Instead, they valued taking care of the environment and coexisting within the natural order. They were, however, quite advanced in astronomy and mathematics. Problematically, they also possessed massive quantities of gold.

When the Spanish entered these territories and discovered how much gold there was, they took it by force to bring it back to Spain. The Spaniards who entered the continent robbed these people of their gold, and also raped and murdered the indigenous people. They burned most of the books that the natives had written, effectively erasing all cultural advancements up to that point. History states that Atahualpa, the last Inca governor during the 1500s, was imprisoned by the Spaniards. The Inca were forced to give the Spaniards three rooms full of gold and silver (and many of the native women, to be kept as slaves) in exchange for Atahualpa's life. Francisco Pizarro, the conquistador responsible, received all these things but reneged on his promises, keeping his riches and murdering Atahualpa anyway.

www.waystogetwomen.com

That was the beginning of the Latin culture; a mixture of native and Spanish heritage, born in blood.

In the early 1800s, the French Revolution inspired Latin America to claim its independence. Idealists like Simon Bolívar fought against the oppression of the Spanish.

Although much of the native culture was destroyed, some of the things that survived the journey to independence are a good sense of humour, a love for dancing, and sexual promiscuity. These cultural qualities carry over into seduction: for a Latin woman it is very important that a man has grace and makes her laugh. Being able to carry yourself effortless and bring a smile to a woman's face are practically requirements of Latin life.

How the culture is romantically involved

The rampant chauvinism of Latin America is balanced out by how romantic the people of these countries are. It's just a cultural facet ingrained in Latin music. If you analyze the lyrics of salsa music, you'll find out that most of it deal with courtship, asking for forgiveness, or declaring love for a special woman. And these subjects are not limited to salsa: the bolero, merengue, bachata, vallenato, and most other common kinds of Latin music recycle these romantic tropes.

Strangely, many Latin songs feature men in a very submissive position, whether they're begging for forgiveness or dedicating a song to a woman they love. Here's an example of a very famous Salsa song that practically every Latin woman knows called "Forgive me" by Gilberto Santa Rosa:

I ask forgiveness for this war

I wish I could get back my weapons

Stop with this hostility

www.waystogetwomen.com

*That doesn't take me any where
I'll propose you a deal
I give you a call to your consciousness
Because mine is killing me
The one who's talking to you has surrendered
I lost all of my strength
Now I came to supplicate
And ask you for forgiveness
Please forgive me
Ay Forgive me
Do not make me cry
I do not know what to say
Please forgive me
Ay forgive me
What do I have to do?
If you want I can surrender at your feet*

Pussy song, huh?

Latin men are so used to serenading women during courtship. The logic seems to run counter to everything I mentioned about their male-dominated, chauvinistic society. However, even in putting these women on pedestals, these men choose to relinquish power to these women. In effect, women are given the role of the choosing sex only because, in these songs, the men allow them to have it.

www.waystogetwomen.com

How sexually open minded is the culture

The Latin culture is much more discrete sexually. Women tend to repress more their impulses because they feel afraid of leaving a bad impression. Social circles in Latin America tend to gossip, so there is an inherent social pressure to keep up appearances. Remaining discrete reflects positively not just on yourself, but on you group of friends. The opposite holds true: a Latina may be angry or offended if your behaviour is inappropriate, because it makes her look bad for associating with you.

While Latinas may act sexually naive in public, the same social pressures that force them to act ladylike around friends apply to the bedroom. Most Latin women are eager to leave a good sexual impression, and their conservative attitudes belie a sensual vivacity.

Is it worth to have a relationship with a Latina?

Though the learning curve of seducing Latin American women can be more difficult, you will find that they are warm, tender, affectionate, sweet, possessive, fiery, and attentive. It's a common situation to wake up in the morning and realize that your Latin girlfriend is already awake and cooking for you.

I can assure you that if you get into a relationship with a Latin girl, you'll have a great experience, and she'll make your importance to her known. She'll invite you to meet her parents and friends, and will make you a big part of her life. Trust me, they are awesome and well worth the effort!

Where to find the cute ones depending by country

When visiting Latin countries there are always sights to see. Some of those site are tourist attractions. But if you're reading this book, chances are high that the "sights" you're looking for are beautiful women. Let's consider which countries are the best to start implementing some our seduction strategies.

Mexico: Mexico D.F has very few cute women, meaning the worthwhile catches are being constantly hounded by groups of men. However, Guadalajara, Monterrey, and some cities in the North seem to be good cities to meet beautiful women. The further South you go, the lower your chances get.

Colombia: There are many cities in Colombia with stunning women, but the one city that will take your breath away is Medellín. Women there have flawless style, nice bodies, and pretty faces. The weather is comfortable year-round, so they are always dressed sexy. Good looking women can be found in Bucaramanga, Manizales, Pereira and, in a pinch, Cali. Bogotá, however, is usually too cold to meet the cute girls.

Panama: Panama City is full of cute women most of whom are of mixed descent from natives and American soldiers. There are also a number of protocol models from Colombia living there. Panama has lots of diversity in the women you'll find.

Venezuela: The women of Caracas are very beautiful and quite tall. Unfortunately, the men are rather handsome too, meaning you have to be on you're a-game. Venezuela is none too friendly with America though.

Chile: Viña del Mar and La Serena are nice cities to visit, and women there are beautiful. Avoid Arica at all costs though.

Bolivia: You'll find cute women if you go to Santa Cruz de la Sierra, it's the only city with beautiful girls. La Paz has some attractive women, but most come from wealthy families.

Peru: Cusco has a lot of cute foreign girls. The natives, however, are not much too look at. Arequipa is the only city where you'll have a chance to find cute natives. Chiclayo, Trujillo and Lima have some nice native women, but not many.

www.waystogetwomen.com

Ecuador: In general, Ecuador should be avoided if you're looking hook-ups. If you find yourself there, Guayaquil is your best bet.

Argentina: The women of Buenos Aires and Santa Fe are very beautiful. Córdoba is another popular city to find stunning women, and many of them are students. Argentinean women aren't very tan, so keep that in mind if skin tone is an integral part of the Latin experience for you. Also, Argentinean women have gained a reputation of being overly emotional.

Brazil: This country is famous for its women. The city with the cutest ones is Santa Maria (Río Grande del Sur), which is full of students. Cascavel and Blumenau are good options too, as is the capital of Brasília. Blonde Latinas can be found in Porto Alegre and Santa Catarina; brunettes in Rio de Janeiro y Minas Gerais. Keep in mind that Brazilians speak Portuguese, not Spanish, so make sure to translate any of the pick-up lines you plan on trying.

Uruguay: The best destination for pretty women is Punta Del Este.

Puerto Rico: Across the island you will find typical Latinas: tanned skin, brown hair, sensual behavior, and a love for dancing. I'm sure you'll like them.

Meeting Latin Girls When Travelling – How To Make A Good Impression

If you travel a lot to South and Central America you are sure to meet a lot of fantastic people. Latina women, in particular, are bound to attract your attention; they are gorgeous and well groomed and more importantly, they are very warm and friendly. However, you need to ask yourself whether you are able to make a good impression on them. You'll definitely need to work on your image in order to meet the right kind of women and go out with them.

Dress the Part

The first thing you need to be sure of is whether you are dressed right. If you turn up on a date wearing shorts or flip flops then you are certainly not going to impress Latina ladies. They are going to think that you are just not serious enough about them to dress appropriately. What's more, they will also think that you are only interested in a one night stand and not in a relationship. Don't forget that these ladies come from a culture that places great importance on family values and romance.

As a foreigner you have a great advantage over other men, you look different and exotic. But in their eyes there're two kinds of foreigners: the backpackers and the charming princes. You should consider projecting the image of the second one. And that has a lot to do with the clothes you are wearing, all the time.

So, if you travel to a Latin country, you'd be better if you forget about wearing those flip flops once you step out of the hotel. Dress up well and you'll see how easy it is to attract women everywhere.

Woo Them in Style

Latina women love to be swept off their feet and they have no reservations about receiving chivalrous attention. Stand up when they walk in and hold car doors open for them. This is what they have grown up to expect and they value these behaviors highly.

www.waystogetwomen.com

You will be pleasantly surprised that they love to reciprocate with generous gestures.

Latina women take romance very seriously and this is an important part of their appeal. They will go to great lengths to be agreeable if they feel that you are there to stay and are not just looking for a good time for a day or two. Therefore, make sure that you follow these tips in order to create a favorable impression on the lady of your choice. You'll never regret it since you will soon meet a lovely lady who will be eager to go out with you.

Latin Women online

Have you heard about mail-order brides?

It's a huge business, and an alternative that many guys from the US take when they feel lonely and want to get a Latin wife. Most of these women come from Colombia.

There are a great deal of problems with mail-ordering a wife, rather than dating. Most of the men who buy these women do not understand Spanish, and by extension, cannot speak with their new wives. As well, these women usually enter into scenarios like mail-order marriage out of financial desperation; the resulting marriage is loveless and based solely on money.

Obviously, the best way to decide if you want to keep a Latina is by meeting her in person and giving her the opportunity to demonstrate that she's the right girl for you. And now that you have this book you can start being picky and get the girls that you really like. However, seeking Latinas on the internet can be a good idea in tandem with meeting them in person. If you're planning a visit to a Latin country, find a few girls online beforehand so that they'll be waiting for you when you arrive. A good website for meeting Latinas is: www.badoo.com. When creating an online dating profile, you'll want to make yourself

www.waystogetwomen.com

appear as attractive as possible. Here are some tricks to setting yourself apart, without relying on conversation or body language.

Pictures

The objective of a profile picture is to make you appear as the charming prince they've always dreamed of. For that to work, you need to avoid first the following mistakes:

- Taking shirtless pictures to show off your muscles.
- Taking pictures of your cars and bikes.
- Taking a picture yourself in the mirror.
- Using your webcam to take a picture of yourself.
- Appearing in a picture alone without anything going on around you.
- Appearing in the picture with an ugly woman.
- Using a profile picture of you when you were a baby.

Examples of pictures you can use are ones where:

- You have cute female friends.
- You are displaying a skill or hobby.
- There's great view.
- You have an animal with you.
- You have kids with you.
- You're engaged in a sport.
- You display a sense of adventure, or a good aspect of your personality.

Pick five to ten interesting pictures you have and upload them. In case you don't have interesting pictures, take some and upload them, but do not upload anything if you don't have the right ones—it's about quality not quantity.

www.waystogetwomen.com

Description lines

The description lines must let women know that you have sense of humor. Likewise, there needs to be something she can use to tease you. Humor, as I have stressed, is a great way to get women comfortable around you.

Here are some Spanish lines (with translation) that you can use in your profiles. Just copy and paste:

Cuando era pequeño, las niñas abusaban de mi. Pero no voy a dejar que eso vuelva a suceder.

When I was a kid, girls abused me. But I won't let that happen again.

Interesado en amigas solamente, si un hombre me escribe juro que voy a eliminar el perfil, jaja.

Interested only in women. If a man writes me I swear I will eliminate my profile, haha.

Yo no me creo la mayor cosa pero por favor... no me sigan confundiendo con Brad Pitt, me molesta mucho.

I don't believe I'm so great, but please... don't keep confusing me with Brad Pitt, it bothers me so much.

Yo me distingo por tener dos cualidades principales: soy humilde... y perfecto!

I'm distinguished by my two principal qualities: I'm humble... and perfect!

Mi mamá me dijo que no saliera de mi casa y por eso decidí que iba a encontrar amigas por internet. :p

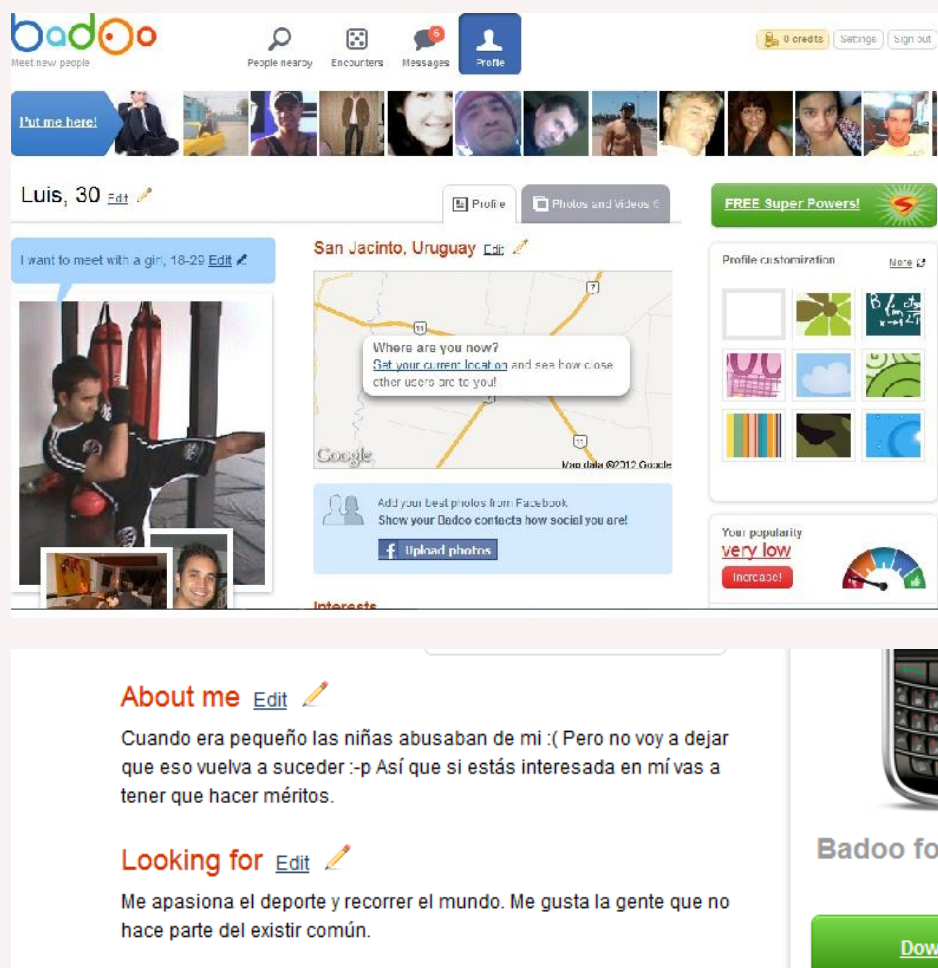

My mom told me not to go out and that's why I decided to meet some friends on the internet :p

www.waystogetwomen.com

“Hombre sincero, romántico, detallista, relación seria, bla bla bla,” jaja, lo mejor de todo es que eso no se lo cree nadie.

“Sincere man, romantic, serious relationship, bla bla bla,” haha, the best thing is that no one believes such a thing.

Here’s an example of my profile picture with some of the descriptions I listed above:

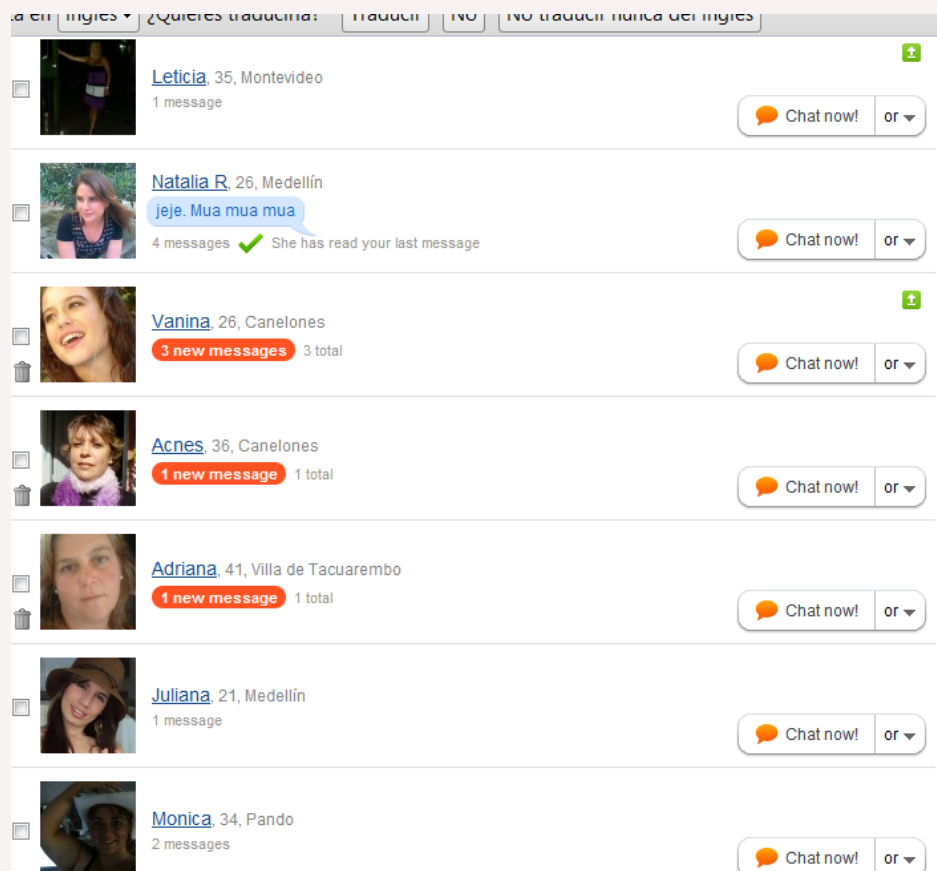

The best thing is that, after just 8 days, without doing anything I found that 44 girls wanted to meet me. Just for my pictures and my description. Some of them where really cute, some not so much, but all I needed to do was to choose the one I liked the most.

www.waystogetwomen.com

I also found a bunch of messages of girls showing interest:

www.waystogetwomen.com

This is a great tool because you can use it before you go to any city, this way you'll have some women waiting for you willing to introduce you to their friends.

Also, if you don't have a Facebook profile I recommend you create one. It's a good tool to keep your girls in contact and grab their interest somehow.

For example, if you screwed things up with some girl in the past you may just get another chance with her if your profile grabs her attention, send her a message and get her on another date.

Here are some messages you can send to some girls you lost contact somehow (use the Spanish translation):

"By chance do you like the music, DAIKIRI strawberry and good vibes?"

"Por casualidad te gusta la música, el daikiri de fresa y el buen ambiente?"

"I was on my friend's farm and I saw a squirrel and I thought of you :p what are you doing?"

"Estaba en la finca de unos amigos y vi una ardilla y me acordé de ti... que andas haciendo?"

"I was invited to something you would never guess..., where are you now?"

"Me acaban de invitar a algo que no te imaginas... dónde estás ahora?"

How to deal with Latinas

Alright, now you need to know some behaviours and ways to interact with Latin women. I got it all covered for you in this chapter.

Latin psychological Tests

Latin women dream about finding their charming prince and having a fairy tale life with him. As a result, they (over) analyse men's behaviour to determine if he lives up to their expectations, and they do this by giving—what is colloquially known as—“shit tests”.

The “shit test” consists of a question (usually with no right answer) that reveals the weakest points of a man's personality, and then passing a character judgement based on the answer they receive. When a man doesn't “pass” the test, he's loses value in the woman's eyes. If he fails enough times, she loses interest. All women give these tests, even if they don't know they're doing it. But Latin women will give you more of these tests than any other girl.

A common test for a Latina is to accuse a man—on the first date—of being a womanizer. The majority of men respond with, “No, I am not a womanizer. I am a very serious man.” While this is obvious and sometimes truthful answer, it is also a weak one. It demonstrates that the man was affected by the question and is trying to impress his date. Treat these tests like a politician by never answering directly. Instead, sidestep the issue by focusing the conversation away from yourself, or by distracting with humor. For example, answer the above question by saying, “Womanizer? Me? But I am very faithful to all seven of my girlfriends!”

Here are several examples of common tests that most Latin women employ, along with a proper answer that will help you pass the test successfully while showing confidence and projecting value:

Her: I can see that you are not a gentleman.

You: Yes, I know, but...do you like presents?

Her: Well, Yes!

You: And why haven't you given me any? You are not a gentlewoman either.

Her: Have you been with many women?

You: No, I'm a virgin. I'm even thinking of saving my lip virginity until I get married.

Her: I can see that you like all the women.

You: Not all, just the cute ones. And the problem is that there aren't many of them. I've only seen 5,000 today.

Her: I'll bet you use these lines on all the women.

You: No, almost none. I've only told them to 78 girls today. You are number 79.

Her: Are you trying to kiss me?

You: Me? Never! I was just trying to lick your cheek. You had something in there and I wanted to get it with my tongue.

What a man needs to know if he gets into a serious relationship with a Latina

Most of the guys really get lost once they're in a relationship. After a month they start thinking that Latin women are crazy and impossible to get along with. Well, they are crazy, but there are still ways to deal with them.

It takes time to understand why they start complaining for no reason. I'm about to explain some things you should know so you don't get crazy too.

1. For a Latina, it's very important that you meet her parents. If she invites you to a party with her family, do not refuse. Be polite and accept: it means she's ready to see you as a boyfriend and wants a serious relationship.
2. Latin women are very warm, and love being hugged and kissed a lot. If she starts feeling that you are too cold, she'll start often complain about something unrelated.
3. Be a gentleman. Latin women see when the man opens the door, moves the chair in a restaurant so she seats, offers a hand to cross the street, etc. Make her feel special without being submissive.
4. Remember the day you started being her boyfriend, and celebrate your anniversary every month. A good celebration could involve taking her to a nice restaurant, having some wine, and afterwards taking her to a place you can have sex with her. If she buys you a gift and you forget that 'special day', she might feel like you're uncaring.
5. She'll love it when you tell her how sexy and cute she looks. Make her be proud of herself, and reward her with a kiss.
6. Don't wear sandal when you go out. Latin women hate that.

7. If she brings a girlfriend when going out, invite them both and pay for everything. Do not let her or her friend pay. Likewise, make sure her friend has a good time. Latin women talk a lot amongst themselves, so if you impress your girlfriend's group, she'll hear about it and feel proud to be dating you.
8. Advice on first date etiquette still applies: don't tell her to meet you places. You should still be picking her up most of the time. If for some reason you can't pick her up, tell her you'll for a cab (and actually do it).
9. Don't get mad if she makes you wait for several minutes when picking her up. You may find yourself waiting at the gate for upwards of fifteen minutes. It's simply a fact of life.
10. Call her the next day after having sex, otherwise she will be disappointed. All you have to do is call her and talk about any random stuff, but it means a lot.
11. Expect her to cook breakfast for you. It should be noted that most Latin women are excellent cooks.
12. Don't get mad when she doesn't want to have sex.
13. If you start a relationship with a Latina, consider learning some dancing. She will like that you're getting to know her culture.
14. Play some games with her; Latin women love challenges. So learn or invent some games. This is something Scot McKay does very well with his half-Latin wife, and they have a great relationship. You can check out his program here: <http://tinyurl.com/3kfroeZ>

What to expect of a Latina according to her age

Latin American women are, by nature, not impulsive. They live in (and help to promote) a conservative society with strictly-defined gender roles. However, even within these roles, the behavior of Latinas varies greatly by what age group they fall into.

18 to 25

The age is the most desirable. They aren't desperate about getting married, so most just want to have fun. But don't be surprised if the girl has a curfew though: Latin women tend to live with their parents until they get married.

26 to 32

Women of in around this age are generally looking for marriage. While this can make them more eager to please, it also means they're more attentive to your income, as they're seeking financial stability. If you have a relationship with a girl of this age for more than six months and don't marry her, she may feel as though her time has been wasted.

33 +

Like young Latinas, these women are usually just looking for a good time. Most are either no longer worried about marriage, or have already gone through divorce. Additionally, many older Latinas are open to the idea of splitting the cost of things with the men they date.

Differences between Latin women and US women

US women	Latin women
Most of them are more independent, and sometimes act a little masculine to prove it.	Not worried about gender equality. Dependant on men.
Tend to go to bars with female friends when seeking male attention.	Usually with me, whether single or not.
It's easier to get a one night stand since they are more open-minded.	It isn't so common to get a one night stand, since they tend to be more reliant on the man.
Oftentimes, they offer to pay their share of the bill.	A Latina never pays unless you are her boyfriend and have been with her for a long time. And even then, infrequently.
Very few of them dance.	They love dancing.
They tend to leave their houses right after they turn 18.	They tend to continue living in their parents' house until they get married or they find a man to provide things.
They tend to be free.	They may have a curfew, even when they are 25 or older.

They only dress up nicely on special occasions.	They worry about their appearance even to go to a supermarket.
They respond well to sexual bluntness.	They tend to feign naivety, or take offence to that sort of behavior.
Out well past 3 or 4 a.m.	If you go to a Latin country the only thing you'll find after 3am is drunken guys.
Less concerned with social pressure.	Latinas care a lot about what people think of them. They are always scared of leaving a bad impression.
Not too clingy.	Very clingy.
Not as affectionate.	Very affectionate.

The gravitational law of Attraction

The Mayan culture was advanced enough in astronomy to understand that the larger a celestial body is, the more objects it tends to attract into its orbit. In applying this to seduction, it's clear to see that it has less to do with size than looks and poise. The result: many attractive Latinas become the stars of the bar, and countless men act as their satellites. Being stuck in orbit around a beautiful woman is comparable to being "friend zoned" or getting stuck in a relationship of submission. In order to master seduction, you must be the one who holds her in your orbit, and here's how.

How to get them around you (satellites)

Satellites were not born around each one of the planets; instead, they are obtained over time. While the timeframe we'll be working with is not the billions of years it takes for a sun to form a solar system, it's good to understand how this attraction functions.

There are several ways to generate satellites. A good way to make people feel comfortable in your orbit is letting them know that you notice the qualities that they have. One of them is being a famous singer, while another one is making everyone around you to feel comfortable and motivated; Latinas love good compliments. These remarks don't have to be related to her looks; Latin women love it when someone can see more than physical aspects and can notice good things about them. Making constructive but disinterested compliments is a good way to start gathering satellites.

Constructive compliments

These are some of the compliments that Latin women love. Say them often enough to make her feel special, and not only with your targets but with your Latin friends too.

- ▶ I can see that you are someone who knows what to expect from life, I admire that.
- ▶ You really take care of people. I'm sure that someday you'll be a great mother.
- ▶ You've got a good energy.
- ▶ I can see you are the leader of your friends.
- ▶ It's nice having conversations with you.
- ▶ I can see you have class, and I like it.
- ▶ You have a nice personality.
- ▶ You express yourself very well.
- ▶ I can see that you don't worry about the future. I like that.
- ▶ I like the fact that you are a dreamer.
- ▶ You have a good sense of how to live life.
- ▶ I can tell that you are going to be successful in life.
- ▶ You are very analytical; I like it.
- ▶ I can see that you surround yourself with very interesting people.
- ▶ You are a trustworthy person.

Make her qualify herself

This strategy will help you release the bad girl that's inside most Latin women. It works to generate trust and escalates physical contact. Basically, tell her what you'd like to see in a woman. That way she'll be able to qualify herself to whatever you are saying, like so:

- I find it sexy when a girl behaves naughty. Do you enjoy being naughty sometimes? (the more details you can get her to divulge, the better).
- There's nothing more important to me than a woman that knows how to be evil sometimes. You know, being with a nice girl is good but, sometimes, it's good to feel something different.
- I find women with a sense of humor really attractive. Do you have sense of humor?

Attracting Latin women

How does attraction work inside Latinas' minds?

The first thing to do to start the seduction process is to create intrigue in the woman. That initial intrigue causes attraction. Generate intrigue through confidence, demonstration of social value, and projecting power. The first minutes are crucial because they're the time when you start to create enough attraction to carry through onto seduction.

In order to create that intrigue in the initial encounter you can only depend on things like body language, good conversation topics, and your look.

According to psychoanalytic studies in Latin America, when a woman is interested in a man, she assumes that he already knows all the things required to make her feel happy. This means that at first she's going to imagine unconsciously that the man is what she wants. But, when a man begins to make mistakes, it lets

www.waystogetwomen.com

her know that her assumption was incorrect. The woman will lose interest and it's almost impossible to get it back.

Some of the terrible questions that will kill the attraction when you have sex with a Latin woman are:

- Do you prefer me to do it fast or slowly?
- Do you want more?
- What excites you sexually?

Questions like those in the beginning of a sexual relationship make a woman feel like the man does not understand her and doesn't know how to make her enjoy sex.

My recommendation is to become more perceptive and determine what she enjoys through trial and error. By analyzing her reactions, you are going to notice what she likes or doesn't like.

As a prince charming, you must possess certain characteristics. Some of them are:

Be unpredictable: Latin women always analyze a man's actions. In fact, women are much better than men at reading the subtleties body language. Women can unconsciously gauge your level of interest. But when a man is unpredictable and not always making attempts to seduce a woman, her abilities of pattern recognition will not function as well. This forces her to consider your actions more, and show physical interest in order to figure out what the man may be thinking. For this reason, don't work too hard to impress her on the first date. Let her try to earn your interest. It's good to make her wonder "Does he really like me or not?"

Remember that this doubt must only exist early on in the courtship. Do not continue this behavior when you have a romantic relationship because it will be uncomfortable for her.

Project some mystery: Mystery attracts. Human beings feel naturally compelled towards the unknown. Do not open yourself completely. If you'd like her to leave wanting more, it's necessary to keep some things hidden.

Have a sense of humor: Humor will help you create a more comfortable atmosphere. Latin women let the attraction flow easily when a man makes them laugh. It helps them enjoy the moment. Humor can be learned. If you don't have a good sense of humor, analyze the behavior of one of your funnier friends, or watch stand-up comedians.

Be confident: Unconfident men don't cause attraction for obvious reasons. Latinas seek protection, and confidence implies your capabilities to do so.

Do not try to impress her all the time: Bragging is unbecoming to a man. Women can usually tell when a man is doing it to impress her. If the man seems cocky, but more importantly, it's predictable behavior.

Have goals in life: Latin women think a lot about future. They ask questions to themselves like, "Does he have the potential to make me happy many years from now?" That's why having goals and big aspirations becomes an important factor for a man to qualify early on, even if his is already financially stable.

Be active: Sports, hobbies, and skills will help you build confidence, and have interesting topics of conversation. Whether the woman is western or Latina, she will get bored quickly if the man doesn't do anything different than working every day.

Be dominant: Latin girls really appreciate men that have a strong confidence and are leaders; men who defend what they want and know how to give orders. This doesn't mean you should be abusive.

Why you should learn dancing and what to learn

Dancing is a very important part of Latin culture. Women don't even consciously know why they love it so much. The truth is that it give women an environment to be noticed in, and it demonstrates a skill. Popular dances are salsa, merengue, bachata, vallenato, balada, bolero, rock, reggae, reggaeton, and hip hop.

If you don't know how to dance salsa don't worry, you can move a bit while dancing to reggae, hip hop, or reggaeton, so don't stay in your chair. A Latina likes to be grabbed from the waist while dancing. It's a good way to prelude to sexual contact. Do not grab her anywhere else though.

Having a Latin girlfriend is a great opportunity to learn how to dance. Tell her to teach you merengue, vallenato, or bachata first, because those are somewhat easier. Even if you were born with two left feet, you can still work your way up to salsa.

Sex with Latin Women

www.waystogetwomen.com

The place for sex

If you have an apartment it will make things really easy. Simply propose going back to your apartment for a while to show her something that you have there: a collection of music, a game, an item—anything. You can even ask her up for a bit to eat. The most important thing is to make sure your apartment is clean and organized. It's such a big deal for Latin women, if your apartment is a mess she will be likely to be turned off.

But what do you do when you don't have an apartment.

One good option is to take her to a friend's apartment. Always ask him if you can use it ahead of time.

Tell her you'd like to introduce her to a good friend of yours. When you are in the apartment, have him leave (the pretense can be as simple as buying something at the corner). From there, escalate physically.

If you aren't in your native country or don't have any willing friends in the area, you'll have to find a motel. These are small hotels where couples have sex and then leave. They are generally cheap and you can stay between four and eight hours. However, asking her to go to a motel lacks the subtlety of going to an apartment, so your intentions are known immediately. In fact, you shouldn't say the words "hotel" or "motel" when you propose going to one. The right way to take a woman to a hotel is by saying that you want to go someplace quiet. She will assume you two are going to a hotel, but will act like if she didn't know where you were going.

www.waystogetwomen.com

The key difference benefit of having an apartment is that you don't have to arouse a woman before you get to your place. When trying to convince a woman to go to a motel, you must arouse her before going there, so that she will accept going with you.

A good way to make her feel horny is by dancing with her. There are a lot of songs that will make it easy to dance really close to her. It doesn't have to be salsa or meringue; it can be any of the easy dances that are meant to be danced closely and sexually.

If you don't have a car and need to take a taxi to a motel, write the phrase "Take us to the nearest hotel" on a piece of paper beforehand. The Spanish translation is "Llévanos al motel más cercano." Give the paper to the taxi driver as you are getting into it. Do this without letting her notice it.

When you two get inside the gate of the hotel/motel, she may ask why you are going there (a standard "shit test"). Don't let her intimidate you, and instead rebuff her question with humor. Say something like, "We aren't doing anything. I just want to sleep and watch TV, okay? I'm not letting you touch me."

Be calm, turn on the TV, lay on the bed or tell her to give you a massage. Don't rush. Then start kissing her slowly. Women take more time than men to get aroused, so give her time: a long kiss without a lot of touching will give her time the time she needs.

After you can see that her breathing change (or if she starts to grab your arms and your chest), it will be time to start grabbing her too and begin to take her clothes off.

Latin women are generally accepting when it comes to using hotels for sex, so don't be afraid of making a Latina feel like a whore for inviting her to a hotel. She'll understand if you don't have an apartment (and if you invite her properly).

The following is a true story of an error that a man made when trying to seduce a Latin woman. It will help you to understand how Latinas' minds work in heat of sex.

Seduction in the apartment

'Dave' met a cute Latin woman who was 30 years old.

In the initial encounter, they flirted a lot. He called her later and invited her to his house. She accepted.

He cooked for her, and they had dinner at his house. Afterwards he proposed that they go into his room to watch TV. There, in the bed, he hugged her and watched TV for a while. Then she closed her eyes. A bit later he began to touch her. First her neck, then her arms and finally he put his hands on her breasts. When he began to touch her breasts, she suddenly opened her eyes, moved away and said, "What are you doing? Are you taking advantage of me because I am sleeping?"

'Dave', who was surprised by this reaction, said, "I'm sorry, I didn't mean to do it. It was a misunderstanding."

She left his apartment, never to be heard from again.

Analysis

When a Latin woman goes to a man's house, she knows that anything can happen. This means that she is prepared to have sex. Obviously, how far things escalate depends on the level of attraction and how aroused she feels once she's inside.

During dinner things were going well, but when 'Dave' invited her to watch TV in his bedroom, he forgot something: it's necessary to escalate physical contact before taking a woman back into your bedroom. By taking her to his bedroom before escalating physically outside of the bedroom, 'Dave's' sudden physical moves seemed unnatural.

For Latin women, a first kiss is very important. She feigned being asleep in expectation of this kiss, and when it did not arrive it became a pretext for not wanting to have sex. When he started to hug her, he made an even worse mistake: he touched her breasts without arousing her first.

The perfect seduction must be done step by step. In order to begin to touch her intimate parts, it is important to manage a kiss first and escalate from there.

So how can we learn from 'Dave's' mistakes?

During dinner he should have kept built attraction through light physical escalation and engaging conversation. It would have also helped for them to have drunk some wine or other alcoholic beverages. The escalation should have progressed, and after some drinks he should have obtained a kiss while still in the living room.

He could have allowed things to progress in the living room. An invitation to the bedroom works the same way as an invitation to a motel: there's no subtlety in it. Just let things progress naturally.

Hopefully, you'll learn something from 'Dave's' mistakes.

How they behave sexually

Latin women hide their sexual appetite much more than Americans or Europeans. Unlike American women, Latinas are so worried about the image they project that fear keeps them from doing sexy things that women from other cultures would feel comfortable with. For example, two American women would agree to kiss each other in front of some guys in order to make men feel desire. A Latina, concerned that outsiders would assume she was a lesbian, would probably not take part in this behavior (homosexuality is still frowned upon in many Latin cultures).

Latin women also criticize other women a lot. These women all compete to get married to a good man, and they compete not just by trying to impress men, but by defaming each other. Fear of social retribution from their friends keeps them from having one night stands. It doesn't mean that it's impossible to get a one night stand with a Latina, but it's definitely more difficult than having it with an American girl.

Since Latin women tend to live with their parents until marriage, very few of them consume pornography. They do, however, still have sexual fantasies which become repressed (which might explain why they're so passionate, since they are unable to fulfill these fantasies until specific relationship criteria are met).

The main conclusion is that they are open-minded once they are in bed, but outside they just pretend to be saints.

How to make sex happen

One of the mistakes that the majority of guys make is to verbally request sex from a Latin woman long before obtaining the sufficient attraction. They might say, "I want to be with you in bed," "Do you want to come to my house to sleep with me?" or "Would you like to have sex with me tonight?" It not only puts the man in a submissive role, but it generates a tense atmosphere. The perfect courtship occurs when things seem not to be planned.

For that reason, a good strategy is to take her to a place that is not specifically related to sex, but where sex can occur anyway.

Sexual Performance

The most important piece of advice is to allow her to do her job, while you do the same. It is important not to forget foreplay—the longer it goes on the better. However, it gives her the opportunity to keep intercourse from happening. If she chooses not to have sex at the last minute, show disinterest and try again later as if nothing had happened.

Women sometimes offer certain resistances before the first sexual encounter. It's a normal reaction from women around the world. Sometimes, no matter how good you are, you'll find Latin women that will make you wait for the sexual encounter more than any other girls.

After continuing to escalate sexually, take off her clothes slowly, while you do the same, beginning with shirts. Do not have sex with your socks on. Some Latin women would complain if you keep them on.

Make her wait a little before you penetrate her. This way she'll be more likely to be lubricated. Rub your penis around her vagina without penetrating, thus making her wait.

After you you're in, stimulate the G spot with your penis. It is located approximately three centimetres inside of the upper part of the vagina.

Oral sex is very important to some women: it stimulates a girl before penetration and allows her to become more aroused. Try performing oral sex for a long time, using your tongue with circular movements around her clitoris. Sometimes women don't feel secure with the smell or the shape of their vagina, and that's why it's very important that you make her feel comfortable by saying how much you like it and complimenting her smell and shape when having oral sex. Only say these things if they're true; if not, don't do oral sex.

www.waystogetwomen.com

When she sees that you are enjoying performing oral sex on her, she will feel more connected and it'll be easier to make her achieve orgasm. After doing it for several minutes, her vaginal muscles will begin to contract, and an orgasm is on the way. So pay attention, and at that moment, introduce your finger to stimulate the G spot. You will give her an orgasm that will make her remember you for the rest of her life.

I wish you luck using the strategies that I shared with you, and I would appreciate if you shared the progress that you have made by using them.

For me, there's nothing better than to contribute good things to the world. Now you have a knowledge that few have about Latin women.

Remember to give us some testimony once you have a Latin girl in your arms!

Remember that...

"Every man dies, not every man really lives" William Wallace

Sincerely,

Your friend,

Esteban Lara

About the author

Esteban Lara was born in Colombia. Founded his own seduction school in 2008 after training a lot of people personally. He started training men on how to become interesting for women.

Esteban was born in 1981 in a middle class family. His mother died when he was 3 years old. That fact made him grow up with deep shyness and difficulties to interact with people.

While he was growing, his older brothers, who were already successful entrepreneurs, encouraged him to dream about being whatever he wanted to be, making him believe in himself and become more focused on improving in every area of life.

He was not good with women until he started developing his own methods of seduction while he was studying engineering.

According to him, studying engineering was actually what made him be so meticulous about developing the method. Since most of the women with whom he studied weren't of his interest, he didn't have the opportunity to meet the one's he wanted. That made him start thinking of how to get the stunning women he always dreamed of outside of his career.

While he was studying he founded a men clothing company and kept it until 2007, then he closed it since the new chief of the State created some laws that damaged the commercial opportunities of the business.

He started developing methods of seduction in 2002 and a few years later he wrote two mini books that used to give as a bonus to his customers for buying his shirts.

That fact made him get a lot of followers in South America. Suddenly he started being invited to many TV shows, newspapers and magazines to talk about this topic.

The school he founded is called "El Juego de la Seducción". He ran more than 50 conferences and seminars, including

www.waystogetwomen.com

bootcamps, taking people out at night to show them in real life how to pick up Latin women.

Hundreds of people have been trained by him. Many of them have the girlfriend or wife they've always dreamed of.

His philosophy consists on becoming a man that knows that anything can be achieved in life and there's no reason to settle with something that doesn't make you completely happy. Life's too short to let destiny do whatever it wants by itself.

About the company

Seducing Latin Women was created with the purpose of helping men around the world to understand Latinas minds and their culture.

All of the advices of this book have been tested and many people have taken benefits from it, understanding Latin women more deeply and becoming more interesting in their eyes.

The best thing about this company is that both men from different cultures and Latin women are finally getting the chance to be compatible and share their cultures with each others.

The company has had a vast experience on the theme of seduction and all of its efforts have been focused on studying the minds of Latin women, to find out what they truly want in a man.

For more info

www.waystogetwomen.com

Email: waystogetwomen@gmail.com

Facebook: <http://www.facebook.com/laraluises>

www.waystogetwomen.com