Available early 2018

Our hogs are fed with grains grown and harvested right from our own farm. We grind a variety of non-GMO grains; like barley, oats and wheat (no corn or soybeans) on a weekly basis to ensure that what they're eating is as fresh as it can be. We also stir-in some milk. Their feeding trough looks like a big bowl of cereal. Well, it actually is a big bowl of cereal! In the growing season, they also receive plenty of greens, extra garden produce and fruit from our orchard. They even get our organic eggs as an occasional treat. Stress-free living is equally important so there are no "off flavors" in the meat.
