

Turtle Creek Gardens is a certified organic farm managed by Janet Gamble and Steve Tomlins. We have over 40 years of combined farming experience, both growing produce and educating others in organica and biodynamics. TCG is dedicated to educating others, devoted to biodynamics and to regenerative farming practices. Turtle Creek Gardens consists of 20 acres devoted to certified organic vegetable production and 80 acres of grazing lands. Nestled in the Turtle Creek watershed just north of Delavan, we are proud to offer wholesome, seasonal vegetables using organic and biodynamic farming practices that care for the soil, ground water, and adjacent natural areas. Synthetic fertilizers or pesticides are not used on our farm.

For your farm share (either weekly or every other week) you pay up front which supports local food and your local farmer. In exchange, you receive Bountiful Organic eXcellence in every BOX! With every farm share subscription you also receive a weekly email newsletter filled with stories, recipes and information about your produce. Each box has no less than six items plus occasional surprises such as fruit or mushrooms. Full share subscriptions at Turtle Creek Gardens are 18 weeks from June–October, with half subscriptions available every other week. Fall shares are 3 pick-ups in October and November, 2 weeks apart.

2020 SUBSCRIPTION AGREEMENT & REGISTRATION FORM Turtle Creek Gardens

As a subscriber of Turtle Creek Gardens, I agree to purchase the share of food selected below. Turtle Creek Gardens will strive to provide its subscribers with a variety of vegetables based on the available selection. However, as a subscriber, I understand that there are inherent risks in farming that may affect the availability of products. These inherent risks include, but are not limited to, poor weather, drought, disease, early frosts, pests, crop failure, etc. As a subscriber, I understand that I share in these inherent risks and that I am not entitled to any refunds. I also understand that my share may vary in weight and size depending on the season.

I agree to make timely payments in accordance with the payment schedule selected below. I also agree to pick-up my share at the agreed upon site and at the scheduled date and time. I understand that my share for a particular week will be forfeited if I do not pick-up my share at the scheduled date and time, unless I made alternative arrangements by calling 48 hours prior to the scheduled pick-up date and time. When picking-up my share, I agree to remain in the distribution area only, unless accompanied by a farm employee elsewhere. Likewise, I agree to restrict my guests to the distribution area only.
