Fans of America East,

America East Conference is again proud to provide our fans with a men's and women's basketball fan guide. This book will help fans follow the action all season long.

Our theme for 2007-08 is "Shining Stars." We expect our student-athletes to be Shining Stars not only on the court, but in the classroom and community as well.

These are exciting times in America East basketball. In 2006-07, America East sent four teams to the postseason. Albany won its second-straight America East Men's Basketball Championship and advanced again to the NCAA Tournament. Regular-season champion Vermont earned its first bid to the National Invitation Tournament (NIT). UMBC became the first team in conference history to knock off the Nos. 1, 2 and 3 seeds to win the America East Women's Basketball Championship. With the title, the Retrievers advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the first time. Regular-season champion Hartford made its third-straight postseason appearance, winning a home game in the Women's National Invitation Tournament (WNIT) to advance to the second round.

We enter 2007-08 with tremendous optimism. Albany, Binghamton, Boston University and Vermont have all been selected to the pool of teams to participate in the sixth-annual O'Reilly ESPNU BracketBusters series. These teams represent the top four choices in the preseason men's basketball coaches' poll. BracketBusters will again be televised on the ESPN family of networks on Friday and Saturday, February 22 and 23. Having been fortunate enough to receive nationally televised games for the past three BracketBusters, we are extremely excited to have four teams chosen to the BracketBusters pool, the most in our history. The chance to gain national exposure through ESPN's various networks is a great opportunity for not only the four schools, but also America East.

For the benefit of our fans, America East and its member schools will produce over 50 basketball games for television during the 2007-08 season. The contests are available to regional sports networks, local-market stations and cable outlets and will be streamed live on the web at www.AmericaEast.com. In addition, America East will showcase a conference regular-season game on the ESPN family of networks for the first time when Vermont plays Boston University at Agganis Arena on Friday, January 25. The game will be broadcast nationally on ESPNU. ESPN2 will again televise the men's championship game live on March 15 at 12 noon.

For the second-consecutive season, America East will also produce and distribute America East On Campus. The half-hour, feature-oriented television show hosted by Eric Frede, showcases the conference's Shining Stars.

The conference is also excited about the 2008 America East Men's Basketball Championship returning to Binghamton, where the tournament drew sellout crowds at the state-of-the-art Events Center in 2005 and 2006. The Women's Basketball Championship Presented by Friendship Cottage Cheese returns to Hartford, where crowds are again expected to approach capacity. It is never too early to make your plans for March and the 2008 championships.

We hope this fan guide will help as you follow America East basketball this season. We at America East thank you for your continued support and look forward to the 2007-08 season.

2007-08 Season Outlook

Who's Back:

Kristin Higgy (10.4 ppg, 6.3 rpg) is the Great Danes' top returning scorer and rebounder, finishing second and first, respectively, in each category last season. She started all 31 games, averaging 31.5 minutes per game.

Sherri Mikus (9.3 ppg, 2.0 apg) was third on the team in scoring, fourth in rebounding, and second in assists while starting all 31 games for the Great Danes last year.

Gia Sanders (6.2 ppg, 5.7 rpg) is the top returning blocker for the Great Danes. She was second in the conference and 67th in the nation in blocks a year ago with 49. Sanders was a 2007 All-Defensive Team pick.

Who's gone:

Amanda Ward ran the Great Danes' offense as the leading scorer and team leader in assists. She averaged over 30 minutes per conference game and started all 31 games.

Newcomers:

Albany will welcome two freshmen and two junior college transfers who hope to make an immediate impact in 2007-08.

Notable:

Albany earned its second America East Tournament win ever when the Great Danes defeated New Hampshire, 64-61, in the first round on March 8, 2006.

men's basketball BINGHAMTON BEARCATS

2007-08 Season Outlook

Who's back:

Mike Gordon was named second-team all-conference after averaging 10.9 ppg and 4.0 apg (fourth in America East). He was also named to the America East all-defensive team after leading the conference with 2.5 steals per game. He also led America East in assist-to-turnover ratio (2.39).

Richard Forbes is the team's leading returning scorer. Forbes averaging 11.9 ppg in his first season after joining the Bearcats from Howard Junior College.

Lazar Trifunovic was an America East all-rookie choice in 2007. He is the leading returning rebounder in America East (6.4 rpg) and also contributed 10.8 ppg.

Who's gone:

Steve Proctor led the team with 11.8 ppg. Troy Hailey started all 28 games and averaged 8.2 ppg.

Newcomers:

Rookie head coach Kevin Broadus added five recruits, three freshmen and two from the junior college ranks, in his first month at Binghamton.

Notable:

Broadus, who helped lead Georgetown to the Final Four as an assistant coach, takes over as head coach of the Bearcats.

2007-08 Season Outlook

Who's Back:

Laura Sario (13.2 ppg, 2.5 apg) led the Bearcats in scoring last season and was seventh in the conference. Sario, who also led the team in assists, was a second-team all-conference honoree and is a preseason all-conference pick this year.

Laine Kurpniece (10.9 ppg, 5.7 rpg) finished last season as the team leader in rebounds and second on team in scoring. She was honored on the third-team all-conference and chosen for the preseason all-conference team this year.

Who's gone:

Shea Kenny was fifth on team in scoring, and third in assists. She played in 25 games for Binghamton last season, including 18 starts.

Rebecka Lindgren's 2.26 assists per game were second on the team in 06-07 and she was third on the team in points with 9.1 per game. She started 26 games overall and 14 games in conference.

Laura Sario

Newcomers:

Three freshmen will play for the Bearcats this year, as well as sophomore transfer Theodora Panteli.

Notable:

Binghamton has notched Quarterfinal wins in each of the last two America East Championships, and earned its highest preseason ranking this year since joining the conference.

The Bearcats are one of only two teams in the conference to return two 2007 all-conference selections this year. Binghamton is the only team to place two players on the preseason all-conference team.

2007-08 Season Outlook

Who's Back:

Aly Hinton (8.8 ppg, 6.3 rpg) was a unanimous all-rookie selection in 2007. She led the team in rebounding, while finishing sixth in the conference. Hinton ranked fourth on the team in scoring.

Cheri Raffo (9.3 ppg, 1.7 apg) started all 30 games, averaging 29.5 minutes per game as a junior last year. She was tied for second on the team in points.

Who's gone:

Katie Meinhardt won the inaugural Fan's Choice Player of the Year last season and was tied for ninth in the league in scoring. She was also eighth in the league in assists on her way to being named to the second-team all-conference.

Erica Kovach finished tied for second on the team in both scoring (9.3ppg) and rebounding (6.2rpg). She started all 30 games for the Terriers.

Newcomers:

Coach Greenberg signed two freshman and one junior transfer from Furman University. Freshman Kathryn Briggs attended the same high school as recent graduate Kovach.

Notable:

The Terriers played two 2007 NCAA Tournament participants last season - Arizona State (December 1st, L 53-75) and Duke (December 30th, L 43-71).

Boston University will host the Big Ten's Ohio State in Agganis Arena on November 17. Last season, the Terriers faced Brown University in their annual Agganis appearance.

men's basketball HARTFORD HAWKS

2007-08 Season Outlook

Who's back:

Joe Zeglinski was an America East all-rookie choice after averaging 12.7 ppg and 4.8 rpg. He led America East in minutes played with 36.3 per game.

Junior Jaret Von Rosenberg averaged 10.5 ppg in his first season with the Hawks after a year at Collin County Community College.

Junior Michael Turner averaged 5.7 ppg and 5.2 rpg in 2006-07.

Senior Rich Baker (5.6 ppg) missed 11 games due to a broken foot. The team was 8-6 prior to injury, 2-9 in games Baker missed.

Who's gone:

Bo Taylor was a first-team all-conference selection after averaging 14.9 ppg and 5.3 rpg as a senior. Alex Zimmnickas averaged 7.1 ppg.

Newcomers:

Warren McLendon headlines a group of five newcomers. He sat out 2006-07 following his transfer from The Citadel, where he averaged 12.8 ppg and 6.7 rpg as a Southern Conference all-rookie selection in 2004-05.

Notable:

Second-year head coach Dan Leibovitz, a former assistant under John Chaney at Temple, has added depth to his team after playing four players (Zeglinski, Von Rosenberg, Turner and Taylor) more than 30 minutes per game a year ago.

Who's Back:

Danielle Hood (13.1 ppg, 4.3 rpg) was a unanimous first-team all-conference pick in 2007 and enters this season as a member of the preseason all-conference team. She ranked in the conference's top 10 for scoring and field goal percentage. Hood led the team in scoring last year for the second consecutive season.

After a year hiatus, 2006 Rookie of the Year Erica Beverly (7.4 ppg, 5.9 rpg) returns for her sophomore campaign. She started eight games last season before red-shirting the rest of 2006-07 with a knee injury. Beverly averaged 10.2 ppg as a freshman.

Who's gone:

Ikea Witt was a first-team all-conference selection in 2007 averaging 11.0 ppg. She led the Hawks in minutes played and finished fourth in the conference with a .489 fg percentage. Witt will return this season as Director of Basketball Operations.

Erica Beverly

Newcomers:

The Hawks welcome four freshmen in 07-08, including a pair from Massachusetts.

Notable:

Jennifer Rizzotti received Coach of the Year honors for the second straight year in 2007 and extended her contract through 2014 during the offseason.

With 25 wins in 2006-07, Hartford currently has a streak of three seasons with 20+ wins, including a victory over a ranked opponent in each of the last two years.

Hartford was the fourth-stingiest defense in the nation last year, giving up just 53.2 points per game.

Philippe Tchekane Bofia, who averaged 9.4 ppg and 5.5. rpg in 2005-06, saw his production fall to 7.4 ppg and 3.7 rpg last season.

Sophomore Mark Socoby appeared in all 30 games as a rookie, averaging 6.9 ppg.

Who's gone:

Kevin Reed returned for his senior season after missing all of 2005-06 with a foot injury and scored 14.1 ppg and added 6.0 rpg as a second-team all-conference selection.

Jon Sheets was second on the team in scoring (10.8 ppg) and led America East in 3-pt FGs made per game (2.63).

Chris Bruff shot a conference-best .529 from the floor en route to 10.7 ppg.

Newcomers:

The Black Bears welcome in four newcomers, including a pair of in-state talents in Troy Barnies and Sean McNally.

Notable:

The Black Bears have nine players on the roster who played high school basketball in Maine.

2007-08 Season Outlook

Who's Back:

Kris Younan (5.6 ppg, 3.2 apg) is the lone senior for the Black Bears this year. She dished out 3.2 assists per game last season for sixth-best in the conference. She started 16 games in 06-07, including 13 conference match-ups.

Who's gone:

Bracey Barker was a force at the line last season, leading the nation in free-throw percentage (.920). She was also third in the conference in rebounding. This first-team all-conference honoree was tied for fourth in the conference in scoring.

Ashley Underwood was second-team all-conference in 2007. She was tied for fourth in conference in scoring as a 27-game starter, including all 16 conference starts.

Newcomers:

The Black Bears inked two forwards, a center and a guard during the offseason. Junior forward Whitney Morrow also joins Maine from University of Richmond and will be eligible to play beginning in January.

Notable:

Maine's all-time leading scorer, Cindy Blodgett ('98), enters her first season as the Black Bears' head coach. With 3,005 career points, Blodgett holds the America East scoring record. During her playing career at Maine, she led the Black Bears to four straight America East titles and broke 20 school records.

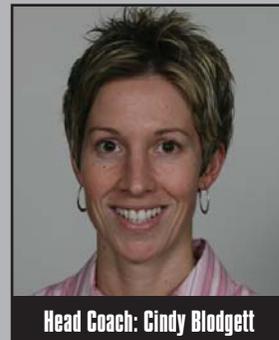

Blodgett inherits one of the youngest teams in the conference. The Black Bears list only one senior and two juniors on this year's squad.

men's basketball UMBC RETRIEVERS

2007-08 Season Outlook

Who's back:

Brian Hodges was a second-team all-conference choice after averaging 14.7 ppg and 3.6 rpg. He enters the season as the active career scoring leader in America East with 1,080 points.

Jay Greene led America East in assists (5.3 apg) and was second in assist-to-turnover ratio (2.37). He averaged 9.0 ppg and tied for team lead with 56 three-pointers

Who's gone:

Chris Pugh (8.9 ppg) was an America East all-defensive team choice.

Tom Young, who averaged 9.6 ppg and 4.7 rpg, did not return to school. Mike Housman averaged 9.6 ppg and 6.5 rpg.

Newcomers:

The Retrievers add five new players, including three transfers who sat out 2006-07.

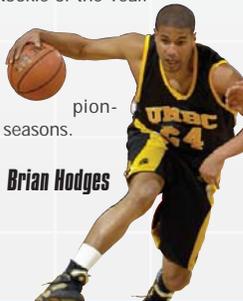

Ray Barbosa scored 1,013 points in three seasons with the James Madison.

Cavell Johnson averaged 13.4 ppg and 7.9 rpg at James Madison as a junior in 2005-06.

Darryl Proctor scored 801 points (13.6 ppg) and grabbed 435 rebounds (7.4 rpg) in two seasons at Coppin State, including 2004-05 when he was the MEAC Rookie of the Year.

Notable:

UMBC and Vermont are the only teams to have won at least one game in the America East Championship in each of the previous three seasons.

2007-08 Season Outlook

Who's Back:

Kristin Drabyn (9.6 ppg, 2.0 rpg) emerged as one of the top three-point shooters in the nation, ranking 81st and 89th in three-point percentage and three-pointers made per game, respectively.

Morgan Hatten (4.4 rpg, 2.2 apg) was fifth on the team in scoring and earned the second-best assist to turnover ratio in the league (1.64). Hatten started 26 games, including 15 conference match-ups.

Who's gone:

Sharri Rohde was the Retrievers' iron-woman, never missing a start in her four-year career at UMBC. She finished eighth in league in scoring last season, as well as fifth in league in rebounding. Rohde was named to both the second-team all-conference and all-defensive team. She will return this season as an assistant coach.

Brittanie Hughes averaged 11.5 points per game for second on the team. She finished fourth in the league in assists and steals. Hughes did not miss a game last season, while starting in 32.

Newcomers:

Head Coach Phil Stern welcomes five freshmen this year, including two guards, one forward and two forward/centers.

Junior transfer Chantay Frazier from Seminole State College also joined the Retrievers during the offseason.

Notable:

Stern signed a contract extension with UMBC through 2011 during the offseason. He is in his sixth year with the Retrievers.

The Retrievers became the first seven-seed to win the America East Women's Basketball Championship, defeating the one-, two- and three-seeds in the process.

Last year, UMBC played in the program's first-ever NCAA Tournament game, and made their first-ever national TV appearance when the Retrievers fell to UConn in the postseason.

men's basketball NEW HAMPSHIRE WILDCATS

2007-08 Season Outlook

Who's back:

Mike Christensen averaged 13.1 ppg and 5.7 rpg last year, but missed the final 15 games with a broken foot.

Tyrece Gibbs (9.5 ppg, 5.1 rpg), who played 34.2 minutes per game last season, may be counted upon for even more minutes with an inexperienced roster.

Who's gone:

Blagoj Janev was a second-team all-conference honoree after scoring 13.4 ppg with 5.0 rpg.

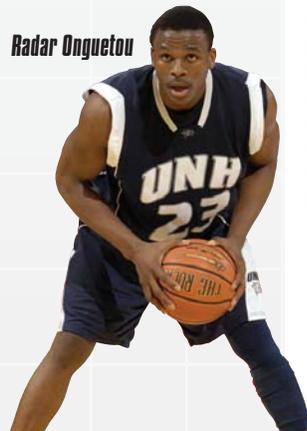

Jermaine Anderson (14.5 ppg, 3.1 rpg) was a third-team all-conference selection and was named to the all-defensive team.

Newcomers:

The Wildcats add eight newcomers to the roster as third-year head coach Bill Herrion builds the program.

Notable:

New Hampshire recently completed renovations to Lundholm Gymnasium that included new seating in the arena.

Who's Back:

Amy Simpson (7.0 ppg, 3.0 rpg) became a starter for the Wildcats last year as a rookie, starting 27 games, including 14 conference tilts. She was named an all-rookie and finished eighth in the conference in three-point field goals made.

Danielle Flowers (5.4 ppg, 2.9 rpg) is one of the top returning rebounders for UNH. She started 18 games last year as a sophomore.

Who's gone:

Whitney Edwards was the key ingredient to the Wildcat defense the last four years. She led the conference in assists and steals (2.62 spg). Edwards was a unanimous all-defensive team honoree and the 2007 Defensive Player of the Year. She started all 29 games for UNH.

With 14.0 ppg and 5.8 rbg, Danielle Clark led the team in scoring and rebounding. Clark, a second-team all-conference, was fifth in the conference for scoring average.

Newcomers:

The Wildcat freshmen class of five is balanced with two guards, two forwards and a center.

Notable:

UNH named Kristin Cole (Notre Dame '94) the program's fifth head coach in June. Previously, Cole served as the assistant coach at Xavier from 2002-07.

Lundholm Gym, the home of UNH hoops, has undergone significant renovations over the summer, including new bleachers and baskets.

2007-08 Season Outlook

Who's Back:

Dana Ferraro (7.2 ppg, 7.7 rpg), third-team all-conference a year ago and the 2006 Defensive Player of the Year, is the top returning scorer and rebounder. She led the conference in rebounding last year and was voted preseason all-conference for 07-08.

Senior Aly Young (4.0 ppg, 2.5 rpg) will add veteran presence to the Seawolves. She started 16 games, including four conference games, last year.

Who's gone:

Mykeema Ford helped carry Stony Brook to its recent success. The 2007 Player of the Year led the league in scoring with 19.1 ppg and had the fifth-most assists in the conference. Ford's 2.0 steals per game was the third-best in the conference. She is the 11th highest-scoring player in America East history with 1,831 career points.

Jessica Smith was the second component in Stony Brook's 1-2 punch last season. Smith, a unanimous first-team all-conference pick, was second in the conference in scoring and rebounding. She also made 1.90 steals per game for sixth-best in the league.

Newcomers:

The Seawolves add five freshmen to the 2007 roster, as well as junior transfer Kim Etol from Arizona Western College.

Notable:

Stony Brook won 14 out of 15 contests last season spanning January 7-March 3. Conference foe UMBC broke that run on its way to the league's title.

Michele Cherry was promoted from assistant to head coach during the off season when former head coach Maura McHugh stepped down from the helm. Previously, Cherry was responsible for recruiting, player development and game preparation.

2007-08 Season Outlook

Who's Back:

Courtney Pilypaitis (13.7 ppg, 4.06 apg) was one of the biggest surprises of the 06-07 season. The rookie led the team in scoring and assists, for sixth and third in the conference, respectively. Pilypaitis was the 2007 Rookie of the Year and a unanimous all-rookie also voted to this season's preseason all-conference.

May Kotsopoulos (10.9 ppg, 2.9 rpg) also stepped up big as a freshman for the Catamounts. She finished second for UVM in scoring and started 29 games. Kotsopoulos was also a unanimous all-rookie, while also garnering all-defensive honors.

Who's gone:

Brittney Cross dished out the second-most assists in the conference at 4.13 per game. She was also the third-highest scorer on team with the best assist/turnover ratio in the league (1.68). Cross also finished the season second in the league in steals with 71 (2.29 spg).

Newcomers:

Two freshmen forwards--Tonya Young and Kelli Hier--join the Catamount squad. Chelsea Kane, a sophomore from Ingersoll, Ontario will also play for the Catamounts in 2008-09.

Notable:

Fifth-year Head Coach Sharon Dawley signed a four-year contract extension through 2011 during the offseason. Dawley is in her fifth year at UVM.

Vermont found tournament success in 2006-07, winning back-to-back tournaments in November and upsetting 22nd-ranked Boston College, 56-48, at the University of Rhode Island Invitational.
