Wofford Men’s Basketball • WoffordTerriers.com

Young's first postseason team, in 2009-10, tied a school record with a 13-game winning streak. It was part of a stretch that saw the Terriers win 12 of 24 games en route to what was then a school-record 26 victories, including a 15-1 mark in league play. The Terriers won the SoCon South Division title and the tournament championship for the first time. Wofford came back the next season with a share of the SoCon South Division title and another conference tournament championship.

Young's influence on incoming players has been seen with eight Terriers appearing on the All-SoCon Freshman Team (Jan Chadwick, Tyler Berg, Charlce McCray, Karl Cochran, Justin Stephens, Spencer Callison, Eric Garcia and Fletcher Magee). Chadwick (1997-98), Cockran (1997-98), Callison (1997-98) and Nunge (2015-16) were named SoCon Freshmen of the Year. Magge led the nation in free throw percentage (85.5 pct.) as a freshman, setting the program’s new single-season record and becoming just the sixth freshman to shoot 90 percent or better in NCAA Men’s History (min. 2.5 makes per game). Magge’s freshman season also saw him rank third nationally in 3-point field goal percentage (47.9 pct.).

In 2012, each of the program’s five graduates (Drew Gravelle, Kevin Gütter, Brad Lowry, Joseph Teichman and Matt Steflman) were named to the Southern Conference All-Academic Team.

A native of Radford, Va., Young came to Wofford after serving as a graduate assistant for one year under Oliver Purnell at Radford University. A 1996 graduate of Emory & Henry College, he was a four-year letterman in basketball for coach Bob Johnson and the team captain his junior and senior seasons. He credits Johnson for having a major influence on his playing and coaching careers.

Upon his graduation, Young became a full-time assistant coach for two years at Emory & Henry before moving on to Radford. Another mentor in his coaching philosophies is Fletcher Arritt, longtime coach of Fork Union (Va.) Military Academy. Young played one season for him before attending Emory and Henry.

Young and his wife, Margaret, were married on Aug. 13, 1994 in hometown of Camden, S.C. She is a 1975 Wofford graduate and a partner with Proewaterhous & O’Cooers LLP. The couple has a daughter, Cooper, and a son, Davis.

Mike Young enters his 15th season as head coach and 28th season on the Wofford men’s basketball staff in 2016-17. He has built the Wofford College men’s basketball program into a Southern Conference powerhouse and NCAA Tournament fixture.

Young has been the SoCon Coach of the Year three times and the Southern Conference Tournament Coach of the Year twice.

With Southern Conference Tournament Championships in 2010, 2011, 2014 and 2015, Wofford is one of 13 programs nationally to have reached the NCAA Tournament at least four times in the six-year span from 2010-15. The Terriers also are one of just four programs to win their conference tournament in four of those six seasons. Young’s teams have totaled five postseason appearances and four 20-win campaigns in that span.

In his 14-year head coaching career at Wofford, Young’s teams are 232-209 (.526), including 119-169 (.406) in Southern Conference play. Young’s 232 wins rank fourth in Southern Conference history, as well as third in school history. Young, current Director of Athletics Richard Jackson (236) and the late Gene Alexander (283) are the only coaches in Wofford history to record over 200 wins.

A three-time SoCon Coach of the Year (2010, 2014, 2015), Young has also received national recognition as the Hugh Durham Mid-Major Coach of the Year by CollegiateSport.com. During his distinguished tenure, Young has seen many Terriers go on to play professionally. He has coached Olympians Mike Lentz, An American National Noah Dollman, and Academic All-American Brad Lassing. Through Young’s head-coaching tutelage, Wofford has accumulated 13 SoCon Southern Conference selections by the coaches and another 25 from the media.

Under Young’s leadership, the Terriers’ resume includes impressive non-conference wins over the likes of Auburn, Clemson, Cincinnati, Georgia, North Carolina State, Purdue, South Carolina, Virginia Tech, Xavier and Wake Forest. Young believes in playing the best competition. Argentine non-conference schedule was ranked as the most difficult in the nation by the RPI and Sporiring Ratings.

The success Young has achieved on the court has complemented his emphasis on academics. Young’s program has a 100 percent graduation rate for student-athletes who have completed their eligibility at Wofford.

One of the defining characteristics of Young’s program is the family atmosphere, evidenced by the strong bonds that Head Coach Tim Johnson and Kevin Gütter both still wear the Terrier uniform. Director of Basketball Operations, Drew Gibson, is also a former Wofford student-athlete. Young has seen a total of six players remain in the program, after their playing days, as members of his staff.

The last seven seasons have seen Wofford emerge as a dominant program in the Southern Conference. This 2014-15 campaign was the best yet. The Terriers went 28-7 overall, 16-2 SoCon, en route to an outright Southern Conference Regular Season Championship, fourth SoCon Tournament Championship and fourth NCAA Tournament appearance. The Terriers finished 13th in the USA Today coaches poll.

Young’s 232 wins rank fourth in Southern Conference history, as well as third in school history. Young, current Director of Athletics Richard Jackson (236) and the late Gene Alexander (283) are the only coaches in Wofford history to record over 200 wins.

A three-time SoCon Coach of the Year (2010, 2014, 2015), Young has also received national recognition as the Hugh Durham Mid-Major Coach of the Year by CollegiateSport.com. During his distinguished tenure, Young has seen many Terriers go on to play professionally. He has coached Olympians Mike Lentz, An American National Noah Dollman, and Academic All-American Brad Lassing. Through Young’s head-coaching tutelage, Wofford has accumulated 13 SoCon Southern Conference selections by the coaches and another 25 from the media.

Under Young’s leadership, the Terriers’ resume includes impressive non-conference wins over the likes of Auburn, Clemson, Cincinnati, Georgia, North Carolina State, Purdue, South Carolina, Virginia Tech, Xavier and Wake Forest. Young believes in playing the best competition. Argentine non-conference schedule was ranked as the most difficult in the nation by the RPI and Sporiring Ratings.

The success Young has achieved on the court has complemented his emphasis on academics. Young’s program has a 100 percent graduation rate for student-athletes who have completed their eligibility at Wofford.

One of the defining characteristics of Young’s program is the family atmosphere, evidenced by the strong bonds that Head Coach Tim Johnson and Kevin Gütter both still wear the Terrier uniform. Director of Basketball Operations, Drew Gibson, is also a former Wofford student-athlete. Young has seen a total of six players remain in the program, after their playing days, as members of his staff.

The last seven seasons have seen Wofford emerge as a dominant program in the Southern Conference. This 2014-15 campaign was the best yet. The Terriers went 28-7 overall, 16-2 SoCon, en route to an outright Southern Conference Regular Season Championship, fourth SoCon Tournament Championship and fourth NCAA Tournament appearance. The Terriers finished 13th in the USA Today coaches poll.

The Jerry Richardson Indoor Stadium

Wofford College announced on Nov. 17, 2014, its plans to build the Jerry Richardson Indoor Stadium to house a new basketball/volleyball arena, locker rooms and other facilities. The facility will be adjacent to the north end of Gibbs Stadium, where the Terriers play football. Wofford alumnus and trustee Jerry Richardson ’59 provided the gift to fund the 92,000-square-foot facility that will include a 3,400-seat basketball arena and a 500-seat volleyball competition venue. The facility will replace Benjamin Johnson Arena, which will continue to be used as a first-rate facility for intramural and campus recreational activities. Construction on the new facility begins in the fall of 2015 with the opening date slated for September 2017. A groundbreaking ceremony was held Tuesday, October 20, 2015.

Mr. Richardson leads in the official groundbreaking, which took place October 20.
